Camp David Talks Begin

France Hits Charges By Saudi Arabia

Delegates Stalk Out Of UN During Vitriolic Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France walked out of the U.N. General Assembly Friday in protest against charges by Saudi Arabia's chief delegate that the French army in Algeria were torturers thirsting for blood.

But members of the French delegation returned at the conclusion of a vitriolic speech by Ahmad Shukairy, 51, a Palestinian Arab who at one time represented Syria at the United Nations.

A spokesman for the delegation said its members did not want to listen to insulting language.

Refers To Statement

Shukairy referred to the statement by French President Charles de Gaulle offering self-determination to the Algerian people provided peace is restored. De Gaulle said Algeria would be considered at peace if no more than 200 violent deaths occurred in a year.

"What sort of dead mathematics brought about this figure of the dead?" Shukairy demanded.

"We know there are some bloodthisty colons (French colonists) who are ready to step up the maximum figure of President de Gaulle. We know such thirst for blood is to be found in the French army itself—as evidenced by the most brutal acts of torture committed against the people of Algeria."

Victor A. Belaunde of Peru, 75-year-old Assembly president, interrupted Shukairy and asked him not to use language "that might disturb the atmosphere of the Assembly."

Shukairy replied that he believed freedom of speech was guaranteed at the United Nations, then went on with his prepared text.

Later he remarked to a reporter on the French action:

"I hope they walk out of Algeria."

Leave In Advance

Actually members of the French delegation, headed by tall white-haired Ambassador Armand Berard, walked out of the blue and gold Assembly hall before Shukairy made his reference to the French army.

But they had read that portion of the speech in advance of its delivery. A French press officer had hurried a copy into the Assembly with the reference underlined.

France's position on Algeria will be outlined to the present Assembly next week in the policy speech of Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. But as in the past two years the French will not take part in any subsequent discussions either in committee or in the Assembly, although their representatives will be present to listen.

France has always argued that Algeria is an internal matter of no concern to the U.N.

Five-Cent Cup Of Coffee May Soon Return

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The five-cent cup of coffee may not be a thing of the past after all. Government researchers say a synthetic coffee costing much less than the real stuff could be only months away.

The prediction was contained in a report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The report said scientists are close to discovering the compounds responsible for the characteristic coffee flavor and soon should be able to make an imitation "with or without synthetic or natural caffeine."

They said soluble coffee, added to a roast made from wheat or barley, could then be produced at low cost without using coffee beans at all.

$2 Million Salvage Prize Nearing Port

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Three exhausted but elated amateur salvagers rode the oil covered hulk of a stricken tanker Friday toward Norfolk and a two-million dollar fortune looming ahead.

The rusting stern section of the "African Queen," pulled by a tugboat with a Coast Guard cutter keeping watch, pushed ahead toward a salvage yard here at a speed of about 2½ knots.

The Coast Guard said if calm weather continued the strange little convoy might reach its destination sometime Saturday, ending a painfully slow 100 - mile coastline voyage from a shoal off the Maryland coast.

Still riding the 400-foot stern section which they boarded six months ago armed with shotguns and dreams of riches were Lloyd Deir and Paul Brady of Suffolk, Va., Belden Little of Holland, Va. and their five hired hands.

The men, keeping other would-be salvagers off with shotgun warnings, quit their land jobs to undertake the salvage job, which was given up by professionals.

The "African Queen" hit a shoal and broke in two last January.

They floated the hulk Monday and it was taken under tow late Thursday. Eugene Jaeger of the U. S. Salvage Co., Inc., assigned by the Coast Guard to make sure the towing job would work, estimated the men would receive about $2,000,000 for their prize.

Another amateur tried to salvage the smaller bow section but it capsized and he drowned.

Some Questions On U.S. Still Not Answered

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least one member of the Soviet party with Premier Nikita Khrushchev feels the whirlwind tour across the United States leaves a few questions about America unanswered.

Mikhail S. Sholokhov, one of the Soviet Union's leading novelists, was asked about his impressions at a meeting Friday with a group of U.S. writers and editors.

"I saw very little of America," replied Sholokhov. "What can one see in 10 days?"

He declined to answer any questions about the United States on the basis of such a fleeting acquaintaince, but spoke eagerly about the literary life in his homeland.

Sholokhov said Russians are great readers and are familiar with the literature of France, England, Germany, China, Japan, India and the United States as well as their own.

Asked what foreign writer was most admired by the Soviets, he pondered long, then replied: "Shakespeare."

A small but sturdy man with lines of fatigue in his face, Sholokhov championed the Socialist Theories of his country and said in the field of literature it gives the Soviet Union a clear advantage over the United States.

Hurricane Gracie Passes Canaveral

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gracie, still moving northward at a snail-like pace, passed 325 miles east of Cape Canaveral Friday.

A hurricane hunter plane flew into the storm this afternoon and found winds of 75 miles an hour, barely hurricane force, whipping around the eye. The movement of the storm was about six miles an hour.

Plane Crash Fatal To 16

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Sixteen persons died Friday night when a commercial airliner flying over the wild, rugged Aleutian Islands smashed into a mountainside and burst into flames.

A search party worked its way up to the 2,000-foot level on the side of an unnamed 5,000-foot peak of Great Sitkin Island and reported there were no survivors in the wreckage of the Reeve Aleutian Airways DC4.

A Navy pilot who first spotted the wreckage said only the tail section of the four-engined airliner was intact. The remainder of the plane was still burning when first sighted.

The airliner, piloted by Eugene Strouse, widely known Alaska airman, carried a crew of five, two civilians and nine military men—seven from the Air Force, one Army, one Navy.

Strouse, as a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force, once commanded an air rescue squadron in Alaska. His wife and two children live here, and his father, O. B. Strouse, at Topeka, Kan.

Other crew members, all of Anchorage, were Robert Pollom, copilot; Bryan Green, flight engineer, and Lorraine Henderson and Betty Burke, stewardesses.

Couple Found After 20 Hours Afloat In Sea

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP)—"They tied their life jackets together and kept each other awake. They knew that if they could survive the night, somebody would find them."

That's how Julian Murphy described the desperate, joint bid for life of his sister and brother-in-law the Beiman McKenzies of Asheville, after a boating accident in the treacherous waters off Cape Lookout. The McKenzies were saved at dawn Friday after 20 hours in the sea.

Murphy, 41, and his brother, George Murphy, 43, both of Greensboro, also were on the fishing expedition. They were rescued at dusk Thursday, eight hours after the 10 a.m. accident.

All were treated for exhaustion and exposure, but otherwise were in good condition.

The party was fishing about a mile and a half from shore when the 19-foot outboard motorboat struck an unidentified submerged object. The boat filled with water and capsized.

The McKenzies, he 50 and she 48, tried to swim to shore, fighting the confusing currents that sweep against the hook of land at Cape Lookout. The Murphys tied a line to the boat, which had not sunk.

"We hung on and prayed," George Murphy said. "We saw nothing all day but a helicopter."

About 6 a.m. Friday, some 8 to 10 miles at sea, the fishing boat "Dolphin" found the exhausted, but still game couple.

"They were very calm, very brave—they must have been to survive," Julian Murphy said. "I am amazed they're in as good condition as they're in."

73-Day-Old Steel Talks Break Down

Taft-Hartley Law May Be Used To Open Mills

NEW YORK (AP) — Fruitless negotiations in the nation's 73-day steel strike collapsed completely Friday. The breakdown heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley law intervention by the government to open the struck mills.

The striking United Steelworkers Union said it saw no point in continuing the talks as long as industry insists on work regulating concessions. The union says these are aimed at "union busting."

"We are going home," announced the union president, David J. McDonald. "This farcical filibuster has ended."

He added that the union stands ready to resume talks if it receives from industry "an honest offer worthy of consideration by self-respecting steel workers."

McDonald was asked if the union would resume talks if the government requests it.

"Never Resisted"

"We have never resisted a call of our government. But we see no sense in coming back to New York City. The seat of the government is in Washington. The seat of the steel industry is in Pittsburgh," he replied.

Chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said the industry still is prepared to resume negotiations Monday.

"We hope that the union will reconsider its position and join with us then in a renewed effort to break the deadlock. This has been our agreed seat of negotiations. We plan to be here. We want to bargain and we want to reach an agreement," he added in a statement.

McDonald pulled out of negotiations once before, for a three-week period in August. But second-string union negotiators then continued talks with the industry. This time the union said it's completely closing up shop here.

However, the chief federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan said: "We don't intend to let this thing drift, in view of its impact on 600,000 souls and its impact on the national economy. The right to set the time and place of meetings is a function of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service."

Might Be Change

Finnegan indicated there might be a change of locale when talks resume—presumably in Washington.

More than 500,000 steelworkers, plus thousands of workers in related industries, have been made idle since the strike began July 14. The union is seeking unspecified wage increases, which the industry claims would be inflationary.

The steel strike apparently is beginning to affect the huge auto industry. In Detroit during the day, Ward's Automotive Reports blamed the strike for a 20 per cent September decline in auto sales.

The breakdown in negotiations in this final week of September heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley law intervention by the White House.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said recently he would recommend the Taft-Hartley procedure if the strike extended into October and created a national emergency. Invoking the law would bring about an 80-day resumption of work for fact finding and cooling off. But it would not prevent a renewal of the strike at the end of that time.

Ceylon Prime Minister Shot By Robed Monk

BULLETIN

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike died Saturday from bullet wounds inflicted Friday by an assassin clad in the robes of a Buddhist monk.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — A professed Buddhist medical monk whipped a pistol from his saffron robes Friday and critically wounded Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike, who led this island nation into the Asian neutral bloc.

The attacker was captured. He was shot in one knee by a sentry as he sought to flee the Prime Minister's private bungalow at Rosmead Place, Colombo's most luxurious residential area.

Three of his burst of six bullets hit Bandaranaike, damaging the liver, spleen and one arm of the frail British-educated aristocrat who was a champion of Ceylonese independence from Britain.

Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke, the representative of Queen Elizabeth II, proclaimed a state of emergency, virtual martial law. He called for "absolute peace and calm" throughout this richly endowed British Commonwealth land of 10 million often-bickering people. Army, navy and air force reserves were mobilized. Meetings and processions were banned.

The shooting came just three days before Bandaranaike was to leave for New York to address the U.N. General Assembly. After a speech there Tuesday, he was to have gone to Washington for talks with President Eisenhower and on to London, Bonn and Cairo.

Speculation on the motive for the assassination attempt centered around an old conflict between practitioners of Western style medicine and Eastern healing methods known as Ayur-Veda, which employ massage, hot compresses and secret herb compounds.

This started when police announced the gunman, also hospitalized, identified himself as Talduwe Somarama Thero, 43, a specialist at the government hospital in Colombo for Eastern style medicine.

Khrushchev, Ike Fly To Md. Retreat

Hope Is Expressed Big Two Can Make Dent In Disputes

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Russia's Premier Khrushchev met Friday night on the summit of a mountain to discuss cold war issues between their countries.

The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations began their historic conference within 10 minutes after they flew together in a helicopter to Eisenhower's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat some 25 miles from here.

Their initial face-to-face meeting, on the sunporch of Eisenhower's mountain lodge, got under way with a White House reminder that Eisenhower would avoid negotiating behind the backs of U. S. allies on problems involving them.

Word that the two leaders had begun their talks was relayed to newsmen here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty said the opening meeting was "a general discussion of the world situation rather than any specific topic as such."

Talk At Dinner

He reported the talks would continue over the dinner table.

In response to questions, Hagerty said the only negotiations would be on strictly Soviet-American matters such as a new agreement to exchange educational, scientific and cultural delegations.

Hagerty did not, of course, rule out discussion between the two leaders of such crucial issues as Berlin, disarmament and nuclear tests.

In saying that Eisenhower would "negotiate" only on U.S. - Soviet matters, he made it clear it is the President's position that no final decisions will be reached on matters which directly concern U.S. allies, without first consulting them.

Even though the White House stressed Eisenhower would steer clear of "negotiations," there was the expressed hope on both sides that the Big Two could at least make a dent in major East-West disputes.

Laughingly they posed for photographers, then strolled into the main Aspen lodge.

Due To Come Up

Soviet-American problems due to come up included the Soviet's desire for more trade with this country and a possible agreement to exchange information on peaceful uses of Atomic energy.

Lower ranking U.S. and Soviet aides were understood to have outlined the main points of an atomic energy agreement in closed-door talks in Washington. Informed authorities said this would be looked over by Eisenhower and Khrushchev for final approval.

The two-way exchange calls for swapping information on some types of nuclear reactors, informants said, as well as visits by atomic scientists of each country and cooperation in the field of high energy physics.

Teacher Robbed As 4th Graders Watch In Terror

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two jive-talking Negro teen-agers robbed an attractive brunette teacher at knifepoint in her class room Friday while her fourth-grade pupils screamed in terror.

Police said one of the young hoodlums threatened the teacher, Betty Koffer, with a switchblade while the other grabbed her purse. They fled down the stairway and disappeared in the street.

The robbery occurred on the fourth floor of a five-story public school on the upper East Side. About 1,700 children were attending classes at the time, ranging from kindergarten to sixth grade.

Meanwhile, Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the senate subcommittee on juvenile deliquency, said after two days of hearings here that teenagers have been committing "every type of vice known to man" in New York City and elsewhere in the country.

He made the statement after listening for an hour to youth crime data compiled by a Brooklyn grand jury. New York's summer wave of juvenile violence has included five youth slayings in the last month.

Miss Koffer, who is white, was teaching 28 students when the hoodlums burst into the room.

The teacher said she screamed when one of the thugs pulled out a knife that had a blade about five inches long. Then the pupils, who range in age from 9 to 11, began shouting and screaming.

Miss Koffer said that the youths appeared to be in a stupor, indicating that they might have been under the influence of narcotics.

Rustic Setting

Cottage In Maryland Mountains Scene Of Summit Talks

By ALVIN SPIVAK

CAMP DAVID, Md. (UPI)—A remote and rustic four-bed-room cottage atop a literal summit in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains commanded more importance Friday than all the monumental buildings of the world's capitals.

It is here, 60 miles north of Washington, that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev are holding talks that could have a crucial bearing on the future course of the cold war.

Eisenhower chose this retreat, known as Camp David, for his man-to-man talks with Khrushchev because it afforded an opportunity to get away from the formalities of protocol and the demands of the public spotlight in Washington.

The two leaders, along with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, were sharing the camp's main lodge, a cottage called Aspen, situated at the crest of a three-acre clearing so that it commands a sweeping view of the valley below. Their aides were scattered in three guest cottages to the rear of the main lodge.

Three tourist cabins of gray board and batten exterior that once rented for $1.25 a night in the surrounding federal park were put together to form the cottage. It was then renovated into a most comfortable, but not highly elaborate residence.

While Eisenhower and Khrushchev talk in the seclusion of the cottage, the tightest security in the history of the presidential retreat will protect the two leaders. Marine sharpshooters and highly trained war dogs constantly will patrol along the high, electrically charged fence surrounding the 134-acre establishment.

Camp David, renamed for Eisenhower's grandson, was built by WPA laborers in 1939. It became a White House resort in 1942 when the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt made his first visit there and renamed it "Shangri-La."

Roosevelt frequently met here with his World War II strategists, and Sir Winston Churchill was a guest on a number of occasions.

There are scattered recreational facilities at the camp. They include a golf putting green, badminton court, horseshoe ring and a bowling alley.

Editor's Car Is Blasted By Explosion In Garage

Dancey, the editor of the Peoria Journal-Star in nearby Peoria, Ill. said the bomber "could have been anybody, including the just "plain nut."

The FBI started an investigation to see whether it had jurisdiction in the case and the Journal-Star offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bomber.

Dancey's editorials, which appear above his name on both the front and editorial pages of the Journal-Star, cover such a wide range of controversial subjects that police found it hard to know where to start looking for suspects.

The blast apparently accurred at 11:30 p.m. Thursday night while Dancey, 42, and his wife were away from home visiting his brother. The Dancey's three sons, Richard, 14, Burke, 11, and Clinton, 9, were asleep in an upstairs room in another part of the house.

About 20 neighbors reported hearing an explosion at 11:30, but police couldn't find its location. Dancey and his wife arrived home in a second car at 12:20 a.m. and went to bed. He had no suspicion of wrong-doing until he started for work Friday morning.

Dancey's car was wrecked and the roof of the garage was raised several inches. A hole about the size of a pie plate was blasted out of the concrete floor. Boards in the wall were shaken loose.

The explosion appeared to be the work of dynamite, since no bomb fragments were found. Police Chief Smith said his men had discovered "a few pieces of evidence which will be tested to determine what caused the blast."

"We hung on and prayed," George Murphy said. "We saw nothing all day but a helicopter."

About 6 a.m. Friday, some 8 to 10 miles at sea, the fishing boat "Dolphin" found the exhausted, but still game couple.

"They were very calm, very brave—they must have been to survive," Julian Murphy said. "I am amazed they're in as good condition as they're in."

73-Day-Old Steel Talks Break Down

Taft-Hartley Law May Be Used To Open Mills

NEW YORK (AP) — Fruitless negotiations in the nation's 73-day steel strike collapsed completely Friday. The breakdown heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley law intervention by the government to open the struck mills.

The striking United Steelworkers Union said it saw no point in continuing the talks as long as industry insists on work regulating concessions. The union says these are aimed at "union busting."

"We are going home," announced the union president, David J. McDonald. "This farcical filibuster has ended."

He added that the union stands ready to resume talks if it receives from industry "an honest offer worthy of consideration by self-respecting steel workers."

McDonald was asked if the union would resume talks if the government requests it.

"Never Resisted"

"We have never resisted a call of our government. But we see no sense in coming back to New York City. The seat of the government is in Washington. The seat of the steel industry is in Pittsburgh," he replied.

Chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said the industry still is prepared to resume negotiations Monday.

"We hope that the union will reconsider its position and join with us then in a renewed effort to break the deadlock. This has been our agreed seat of negotiations. We plan to be here. We want to bargain and we want to reach an agreement," he added in a statement.

McDonald pulled out of negotiations once before, for a three-week period in August. But second-string union negotiators then continued talks with the industry. This time the union said it's completely closing up shop here.

However, the chief federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan said: "We don't intend to let this thing drift, in view of its impact on 600,000 souls and its impact on the national economy. The right to set the time and place of meetings is a function of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service."

Might Be Change

Finnegan indicated there might be a change of locale when talks resume—presumably in Washington.

More than 500,000 steelworkers, plus thousands of workers in related industries, have been made idle since the strike began July 14. The union is seeking unspecified wage increases, which the industry claims would be inflationary.

The steel strike apparently is beginning to affect the huge auto industry. In Detroit during the day, Ward's Automotive Reports blamed the strike for a 20 per cent September decline in auto sales.

The breakdown in negotiations in this final week of September heightened the possibility of Taft-Hartley law intervention by the White House.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said recently he would recommend the Taft-Hartley procedure if the strike extended into October and created a national emergency. Invoking the law would bring about an 80-day resumption of work for fact finding and cooling off. But it would not prevent a renewal of the strike at the end of that time.

Ceylon Prime Minister Shot By Robed Monk

BULLETIN

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — A professed Buddhist medical monk whipped a pistol from his saffron robes Friday and critically wounded Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike, who led this island nation into the Asian neutral bloc.

The attacker was captured. He was shot in one knee by a sentry as he sought to flee the Prime Minister's private bungalow at Rosmead Place, Colombo's most luxurious residential area.

Three of his burst of six bullets hit Bandaranaike, damaging the liver, spleen and one arm of the frail British-educated aristocrat who was a champion of Ceylonese independence from Britain.

Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke, the representative of Queen Elizabeth II, proclaimed a state of emergency, virtual martial law. He called for "absolute peace and calm" throughout this richly endowed British Commonwealth land of 10 million often-bickering people. Army, navy and air force reserves were mobilized. Meetings and processions were banned.

The shooting came just three days before Bandaranaike was to leave for New York to address the U.N. General Assembly. After a speech there Tuesday, he was to have gone to Washington for talks with President Eisenhower and on to London, Bonn and Cairo.

Speculation on the motive for the assassination attempt centered around an old conflict between practitioners of Western style medicine and Eastern healing methods known as Ayur-Veda, which employ massage, hot compresses and secret herb compounds.

This started when police announced the gunman, also hospitalized, identified himself as Talduwe Somarama Thero, 43, a specialist at the government hospital in Colombo for Eastern style medicine.

Khrushchev, Ike Fly To Md. Retreat

Hope Is Expressed Big Two Can Make Dent In Disputes

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Russia's Premier Khrushchev met Friday night on the summit of a mountain to discuss cold war issues between their countries.

The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations began their historic conference within 10 minutes after they flew together in a helicopter to Eisenhower's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat some 25 miles from here.

Their initial face-to-face meeting, on the sunporch of Eisenhower's mountain lodge, got under way with a White House reminder that Eisenhower would avoid negotiating behind the backs of U. S. allies on problems involving them.

Word that the two leaders had begun their talks was relayed to newsmen here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty said the opening meeting was "a general discussion of the world situation rather than any specific topic as such."

Talk At Dinner

He reported the talks would continue over the dinner table.

In response to questions, Hagerty said the only negotiations would be on strictly Soviet-American matters such as a new agreement to exchange educational, scientific and cultural delegations.

Hagerty did not, of course, rule out discussion between the two leaders of such crucial issues as Berlin, disarmament and nuclear tests.

In saying that Eisenhower would "negotiate" only on U.S. - Soviet matters, he made it clear it is the President's position that no final decisions will be reached on matters which directly concern U.S. allies, without first consulting them.

Even though the White House stressed Eisenhower would steer clear of "negotiations," there was the expressed hope on both sides that the Big Two could at least make a dent in major East-West disputes.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev began their long-awaited meeting in a jovial mood. Their helicopter trip direct from the White House lawn, took 35 minutes.

Laughingly they posed for photographers, then strolled into the main Aspen lodge.

Due To Come Up

Soviet-American problems due to come up included the Soviet's desire for more trade with this country and a possible agreement to exchange information on peaceful uses of Atomic energy.

Lower ranking U.S. and Soviet aides were understood to have outlined the main points of an atomic energy agreement in closed-door talks in Washington. Informed authorities said this would be looked over by Eisenhower and Khrushchev for final approval.

The two-way exchange calls for swapping information on some types of nuclear reactors, informants said, as well as visits by atomic scientists of each country and cooperation in the field of high energy physics.

Teacher Robbed As 4th Graders Watch In Terror

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two jive-talking Negro teen-agers robbed an attractive brunette teacher at knifepoint in her class room Friday while her fourth-grade pupils screamed in terror.

Police said one of the young hoodlums threatened the teacher, Betty Koffer, with a switchblade while the other grabbed her purse. They fled down the stairway and disappeared in the street.

The robbery occurred on the fourth floor of a five-story public school on the upper East Side. About 1,700 children were attending classes at the time, ranging from kindergarten to sixth grade.

Meanwhile, Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the senate subcommittee on juvenile deliquency, said after two days of hearings here that teen-agers have been committing "every type of vice known to man" in New York City and elsewhere in the country.

He made the statement after listening for an hour to youth crime data compiled by a Brooklyn grand jury. New York's summer wave of juvenile violence has included five youth slayings in the last month.

Miss Koffer, who is white, was teaching 28 students when the hoodlums burst into the room.

The teacher said she screamed when one of the thugs pulled out a knife that had a blade about five inches long. Then the pupils, who range in age from 9 to 11, began shouting and screaming.

Miss Koffer said that the youths appeared to be in a stupor, indicating that they might have been under the influence of narcotics.

Rustic Setting

By ALVIN SPIVAK

CAMP DAVID, Md. (UPI)—A remote and rustic four-bed-room cottage atop a literal summit in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains commanded more importance Friday than all the monumental buildings of the world's capitals.

It is here, 60 miles north of Washington, that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev are holding talks that could have a crucial bearing on the future course of the cold war.

Eisenhower chose this retreat, known as Camp David, for his man-to-man talks with Khrushchev because it afforded an opportunity to get away from the formalities of protocol and the demands of the public spotlight in Washington.

The two leaders, along with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, were sharing the camp's main lodge, a cottage called Aspen, situated at the crest of a three-acre clearing so that it commands a sweeping view of the valley below. Their aides were scattered in three guest cottages to the rear of the main lodge.

Three tourist cabins of gray board and batten exterior that once rented for $1.25 a night in the surrounding federal park were put together to form the cottage. It was then renovated into a most comfortable, but not highly elaborate residence.

While Eisenhower and Khrushchev talk in the seclusion of the cottage, the tightest security in the history of the presidential retreat will protect the two leaders. Marine sharpshooters and highly trained war dogs constantly will patrol along the high, electrically charged fence surrounding the 134-acre establishment.

Camp David, renamed for Eisenhower's grandson, was built by WPA laborers in 1939. It became a White House resort in 1942 when the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt made his first visit there and renamed it "Shangri-La."

Roosevelt frequently met here with his World War II strategists, and Sir Winston Churchill was a guest on a number of occasions.

There are scattered recreational facilities at the camp. They include a golf putting green, badminton court, horseshoe ring and a bowling alley.

Editor's Car Is Blasted By Explosion In Garage

Dancey, the editor of the Peoria Journal-Star in nearby Peoria, Ill. said the bomber "could have been anybody, including the just "plain nut."

The FBI started an investigation to see whether it had jurisdiction in the case and the Journal-Star offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bomber.

Dancey's editorials, which appear above his name on both the front and editorial pages of the Journal-Star, cover such a wide range of controversial subjects that police found it hard to know where to start looking for suspects.

The blast apparently accurred at 11:30 p.m. Thursday night while Dancey, 42, and his wife were away from home visiting his brother. The Dancey's three sons, Richard, 14, Burke, 11, and Clinton, 9, were asleep in an upstairs room in another part of the house.

About 20 neighbors reported hearing an explosion at 11:30, but police couldn't find its location. Dancey and his wife arrived home in a second car at 12:20 a.m. and went to bed. He had no suspicion of wrong-doing until he started for work Friday morning.

Dancey's car was wrecked and the roof of the garage was raised several inches. A hole about the size of a pie plate was blasted out of the concrete floor. Boards in the wall were shaken loose.

The explosion appeared to be the work of dynamite, since no bomb fragments were found. Police Chief Smith said his men had discovered "a few pieces of evidence which will be tested to determine what caused the blast."

Bohlen Returns As Adviser On Soviet Affairs

MANILA (UPI) — Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen returns to Washington as a special adviser on Soviet affairs next month, convinced that continuing peace with Russia is possible.

Stepping back into the big game of Russian negotiations after two years on the sidelines as envoy to the Philippines, he will take with him the results of a close study of Russia's troublesome partner in Asia, Communist China.

Bohlen has maintained a personal policy of no on-the-record press conferences or quotable interviews. However, from various informal talks he has given in Manila and from the accounts of close associates, the following reliable summary of his current thinking can be constructed:

—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States and President Eisenhower's scheduled return call to Moscow are all for the good. Khrushchev's U.S. visit won't change Khrushchev, Bohlen believes, but he leans to the British thinking that when there is talking there is less chance of shooting.

—Russians and Khrushchev personally want peace. Bohlen believes Khrushchev realizes the potential cost of a war—even if he won it.

—For the world in general, Khrushchev is a vast improvement over Stalin. A Georgian, Stalin was the most absolute and ruthless dictator since Gengis Khan, Bohlen believes. Khrushchev is an entirely different type. Cold and calculating, he is, however, foremost a patriotic Russian.

—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Russian trip was successful and an indicator of the best chance for penetrating the Iron Curtain. Such personal contacts, Bohlen believes, far exceed in value broadcast or cultural exchanges. President Eisenhower, because he is well known to the Russian people from World War II, will prove even more popular in Russia.

—Bohlen believes that the Russians had no part in the current troubles in Laos or on the Indian border. However, the Soviets can be expected to back Red China on these issues.

—As for China, Bohlen continues to believe that Peiping is no Russian satellite but rather an economically dependent junior partner.

Tito Invited To Visit U.S.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) —Marshal Tito, president of Communist Yugoslavia, smiled and nodded briefly Friday when Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson invited him to visit the United States "sometime."

Tito, who seldom sees Yugoslav newsmen and almost never sees foreign reporters, permitted a group of newsmen from the United States to listen as he greeted Benson, Mrs. Benson, and their daughters, Bonnie and Beverly.

"That's a good product," Benson, a teetotaler, said.

Benson, in Yugoslavia on the first leg of a 16-day trade and goodwill trip to seven European countries, complimented Tito on a good crop this year. He mentioned his trip to a collective farm at Srbobran Thursday and then he invited Tito to come to the United States.

Tito and Benson retired for a private talk of about 20 minutes.

More Workers Are Furloughed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The nationwide steel strike has resulted in the furlough of 40 more Baltimore metropolitan area workers employed by industries dependent on steel.

The Department of Employment Security said Friday the new layoffs during the week ended Sept. 23, increased to 4,574 the total made idle throughout the state as a result of the steel walkout which began July 14.

Only 410 of the 4,574 reside outside of the Baltimore area, the DES said.

Five Killed When Plane Crashes

HAVANA (AP) — A Cuban air force plane crashed and burned in Matanzas Province Thursday night. Its five crewmen died.

An earlier report said the body of a woman presumably killed by falling wreckage was found. The air force said later the body thought to be a woman was a long-haired revolutionary officer.

Bear Mauls Child

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI) —A bear mauled six-year-old Bruna Abbondanza Thursday when she tried to feed the animal a handful of grass at the zoo. At a point when her father was not paying attention to her, Bruna stuck her hand through the bears of the bear's cage to feed the animal. Within an instant, the bear mauled her arm so badly that doctors had to amputate it.

Experts Comb Area For Cause Of Plane Crash

BORDEAUX, France, (AP) — Government experts combed a splintered woodland Friday for the cause of France's worst civil air disaster. It killed 53 people.

Twelve survivors were treated for burns, fractures and shock. All nine crewmembers perished, one on re-entering the burning wreck. The official passenger roll listed three Britons as the only non-French passengers.

Bound for Africa Thursday night, the four-engined DC7 strained into the air after a faltering takeoff, floundered, then plunged into a pine forest. Its gas tanks spewed flames high into the night sky.

In the shattered fuselage, passengers screamed as flames engulfed them. Two families—five persons in each—were wiped out. A steady rain had little effect on the flames.

The worst previous French civil crash was in Cairo in 1956 when 52 persons died.

No details of the investigation were revealed by the government or the privately owned airline, TAI (Transports Aeriens Intercontinentaux). The last reported radio contact with the plane was when it was cleared to take off.

Women Killed In Car Crash Are Identified

FREDERICK (AP)—Two women and a man among the five persons who died in a head-on crash near here Thursday were identified Friday as Baltimore residents.

Latest to be identified, State Police said, was Peter Densuk, 39, a passenger with two Negro women in one of the cars.

Two Hagerstown men in the other vehicle also died in the crash, and one was injured.

The bodies of Lillian E. Tillman, 38, and Lillian Thomas, who was observing her 36th birthday when she died in the accident Thursday, were identified by a friend, Oliver B. Walker of Baltimore.

Both women were Negroes.

Their eastbound car collided on U.S. 40 about a mile west of the U.S. 40-U.S. 40A intersection. Two men in the other car were injured fatally, along with an unidentified man riding with the women.

The other victims included Robert L. Hughes, 23, and Richard F. Trenary, 38, both of Hagerstown. Their companion, Charles S. Taylor, 29, of Hagerstown, was in Frederick Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Radiation Plant To Open Soon

LONDON (AP)—Britain's first plant using radiation for commercial purposes will open late this year. Operation will be around the clock under the Atomic Energy Authority. It will fully utilize continuous radiation from atomic isotopes in sterilizing medical equipment, disinfecting packaged goods and other uses.

Munford Reported Making Progress

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Walter F. Munford, president of the strike idled U.S. Steel Corp., who suffered a knife wound and a brain stroke on successive days, was reported making good recovery progress Friday.

Munford, 59, had been under treatment four weeks for nervous exhaustion and fatigue when, on Wednesday, he suffered a three-inch abdominal wound while in the kitchen of his 12-room summer home in Chatham.

To Build Plant

Grady Requests Special Session For Tax Powers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor J. Harold Grady Friday formally asked Gov. J. Millard Tawes—for the second time—to call a special session of the Maryland General Assembly to give Baltimore City more taxing power.

This time Grady asked only for enabling legislation to permit the city to impose an earnings tax not to exceed one per cent a year.

Last Monday night, Grady, with the backing of the Baltimore City Council, asked Tawes to call a special session to give the city authority to level local taxes on earnings, retail sales, alcoholic beverages, inheritances and other items which the state also taxes.

Tawes studied the request overnight, then the next day refused the request to reconvene the Legislature. He said he would be willing to call a special session only when the city worked out a "reasonable, definite and specific program" that would not infringe on State levies.

Grady and Tawes conferred yesterday and apparently reached a mutual agreement.

Tawes was in southern Maryland today and was not available immediately for comment on whether he would grant the request.

"We hope that a stop-gap series of taxes will not be enacted to take the place of this earnings tax," Grady wrote Tawes. "If there must be an alternate revenue program, then there should be increased liquor license fees, a city recordation tax, and taxes upon deposits in commercial banks, savings banks, and building and loan associations.

"The city solicitor will prepare a series of bills to effect these increased revenues. We firmly believe that there will be no occasion to resort to such an inadequate substitute program."

He added:

"Failure of the General Assembly to aid the city in this critical time would be disastrous."

The city needs nearly 14 million dollars for its next fiscal year beginning next January.

Khrushchev,

ter Andrei Gromyko, Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and A. A. Soldatov, chief of the Foreign Office American desk.

Eisenhower was assisted by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations escorted Khrushchev during the Premier's tour around the United States.

Hagerty told some 150 newsmen at press headquarters here that Friday night's session likely would be a short one, with Eisenhower and Khrushchev retiring early.

Movie Is Scheduled

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is scheduled to arrive by helicopter Saturday to join the discussions. So will other Soviet-U.S. officials who will shuttle in and out as their specialties are discussed.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev appeared likely to focus much of their talks on disarmament. Khrushchev has repeatedly plugged for such an agreement but has always balked at agreeing to the kind of inspection Western authorities say is necessary to make sure neither side cheats.

Khrushchev's appeal for an easing of trade restrictions appears certain to run into strong opposition. Eisenhower's top advisers are ready to favor more trade but not in strategic machinery and other complex equipment which would have war potential.

The talks got under way in ideal autumn weather. The temperature was in the high 70s with the sun slanting through the trees.

Tests Reaction To Peace Plan

DUNKERQUE, France, (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle talked with miners and shipyard workers of northern France Friday to test reaction to his peace plan for Algeria. He got a strong pledge of support.

Even in largely Communist areas of the northern French coal fields, De Gaulle won cheers when he said again the Algerians must decide their future by their own free choice and the French at home must endorse Algeria's decision.

Call Holy War

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Moslem ulemas — learned men — in Syria Friday called Islamic and Arab nations to holy war to topple the "anti-Islam, Red regime" in Iraq. They called Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem a heretic. They charged his regime was "controlled by enemies of Allah," meaning Communists.

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) —Electric Auto Lite Co. will try to offset an expected 15 per cent loss of business next year when Chrysler Corp. starts producing many of its own electrical parts by pushing an acquisition and diversification program, according to President Robert H. Davies.

Potomac River At Its Lowest Level Since 1930

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Potomac River has dropped to its lowest level here since 1930. The flow is less than 710,000,000 gallons daily.

The amount is well below the last previous low flow of 735,000,000 gallons daily Aug. 20, 1957. The record low in 1930 was 506,000,000 gallons daily.

Dry weather is responsible. No substantial rains are expected until the middle of October unless a midwest storm area heads this way or hurricane Gracie produces some effect.

There is no immediate threat to the drinking water supply for the Washington area, however. The reason, officials said, is that the dry spell has come near the end of the hot-weather period and consumption has been below summertime levels.

State Continues To Link Glaros With Safe Job

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—The prosecution Friday continued efforts to link Stephano Glaros to a $162,000 safecracking by showing that incriminating debris was found in and around his house at Harundale.

Special FBI Agent Roy Jevons testified that sweepings found in the trunk of Glaros' car had the same peculiar characteristics as pieces of insulation in the looted safe.

Glaros, 33, is being tried in Dorchester County Circuit Court on a charge of breaking in and stealing $159,000 in cash and $3,000 in government bonds from the general store of George O. Powley at Wingate, some 20 miles south of here. The crime occurred last Nov. 7.

Another FBI specialist, document examiner Lyndal Shaneyfelt, told the court he examined a curtain and debris wrapped in it. He said he also studied a trash can and contents, taken from outside the Glaros house, and a wastebasket inside.

Shaneyfelt said both receptacles had charred material. One of the items, he added, was a paper that had a serial number for a bill of sale for a boat, which Powley had had in his safe.

The prosecution's last witness before court was recessed until Tuesday was State Police Cpl. Walter H. Dobson.

Dobson, who is detachment commander in Dorchester County, testified he ordered the arrest of Glaros. He said that earlier he was called to the scene and found the store broken into and the safe smashed open with papers littered about.

The State Police officer testified he and other officers inspected Glaros' car and among other things found a white concrete like subject in the trunk. This was sealed in an envelope and sent to the FBI for analysis, he said.

Slaying Case Goes To Jury

BALTIMORE (AP) — State's Atty. Saul A. Harris said Friday he would bypass a Police Court hearing for two youths charge with rape and murder and take the case directly to the grand jury.

The woman was strangled on the night of Aug. 4, 1958.

The youths were identified by police as "the boys on bicycles" who claimed to have seen a man following a woman in the park that night.

Man Found Dead, Police Probe Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police awaited the results of an autopsy Friday in an effort to determine if the death of a 65-year-old man was caused by foul play.

The body of John D. Meredith was found by his wife when she returned home after staying with friends. Police said Meredith was found inside the first-floor landing near the front door.

The body was covered with blood. A bloody footprint was found on the steps leading to the street.

Gov. Assistant Resigns Position

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — K. Wayne Swiger, Gov. Underwood's executive assistant for the past 32 months, is resigning to become a regional real estate officer with the Post Office Department.

Swiger, who will assume his new duties about Oct. 5, will have his office in Clarksburg. His region will include the northern West Virginia area, and possibly some territory in Maryland and Virginia.

Stocks Close Easier, End Two-Day Rally In Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed easier Friday, ending a two-day rally in the stock market.

The list firmed at the opening but backed down thereafter in the wake of an indefinite recess in the steel talks. Support in the final hour brought a number of issues back from their lows.

Other than the steel recess there was little in the news to move investors one way or another. The mid-week advance was said to be a technical recovery from recent declines.

Utilities were firm on average all through the session, with Houston Light, Peoples Gas and Panhandle Eastern all up 1 or more.

Trading declined to 3,280,000 shares from 3,480,000 shares traded Thursday. Thursday's volume was the most since Aug. 3 when 4,190,000 shares changed hands.

New 1959 highs were scored by 11 of the 1,201 issues traded Friday while 48 stocks hit new lows. Declines were registered by 519 issues and advances by 456, while 226 held unchanged.

Studebaker - Packard was the most active issue of the day with 351,300 shares changing hands. Studebaker-Packard (when issued) American Motors, Jersey Standard, and Warner Bros. rounded out the five most active.

The gloomy steel picture continued to depress steel issues. Youngstown fell more than 2, and U. S. Steel and Lukens a half or more. Kennecott lost more than 2 in the metals, while Southern Pacific added more than a point in the rails.

Du Pont see-sawed in the chemicals but finished up more than 1. Union Carbide featured its group with a rise of 3, and American Cyanamid picked up nearly 2 on development of a new antibiotic. Drugs eased.

Superior Oil featured its group with a drop of 180 on the scrapping of merger plans involving Texaco. Texaco lost more than 1 and Gulf 2.

Miscellaneous features included Owens - Corning and Minnesota Mining, both up 5, and Walt Disney up more than 2.

Weakness in space issues marred an irregularly higher session on the American Exchange Friday. Volume was moderate.

Fairchild Camera & Instrument, off around 6½ points, headed the sagging electronic list. Aerojet-General, strong in most recent sessions, lost ½.

Most oils were slightly improved with Woodely Petroleum and British American Oil featuring with gains of slightly less than a point.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were irregular Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade admidst concern over the threat of a longshoremen's strike which would affect the East coast and the Gulf and cause a lull in export shipments.

At the close wheat was off ⅝ to 1; corn off ⅛ to ⅝; oats up ⅜ to off ¼; rye off ⅜ to up ¼; soybeans off ¼ to ¾.

Wheat prices were easier with deferreds leading the way. The chief activity in the market was the selling of a considerable quantity of July wheat by a large commission house against the purchase of May soybeans.

Corn was mostly easy. Northwest brokers bought December contracts with selling scattered but mostly local.

Oats were mostly steady. Trade in oats was light. An export house was an early buyer of December contracts.

The rye market was mostly firm, led by nearbys.

Soybean prices were firm. Commission houses and local traders bought and one house bought a fairly large quantity of May contracts on a spread basis with wheat.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Bohlen Returns As Adviser On Soviet Affairs

MANILA (UPI) — Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen returns to Washington as a special adviser on Soviet affairs next month, convinced that continuing peace with Russia is possible.

Stepping back into the big game of Russian negotiations after two years on the sidelines as envoy to the Philippines, he will take with him the results of a close study of Russia's troublesome partner in Asia, Communist China.

Bohlen has maintained a personal policy of no on-the-record press conferences or quotable interviews. However, from various informal talks he has given in Manila and from the accounts of close associates, the following reliable summary of his current thinking can be constructed:

—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States and President Eisenhower's scheduled return call to Moscow are all for the good. Khrushchev's U.S. visit won't change Khrushchev, Bohlen believes, but he leans to the British thinking that when there is talking there is less chance of shooting.

—Russians and Khrushchev personally want peace. Bohlen believes Khrushchev realizes the potential cost of a war—even if he won it.

—For the world in general, Khrushchev is a vast improvement over Stalin. A Georgian, Stalin was the most absolute and ruthless dictator since Gengis Khan, Bohlen believes. Khrushchev is an entirely different type. Cold and calculating, he is, however, foremost a patriotic Russian.

—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Russian trip was successful and an indicator of the best chance for penetrating the Iron Curtain. Such personal contacts, Bohlen believes, far exceed in value broadcast or cultural exchanges. President Eisenhower, because he is well known to the Russian people from World War II, will prove even more popular in Russia.

—Bohlen believes that the Russians had no part in the current troubles in Laos or on the Indian border. However, the Soviets can be expected to back Red China on these issues.

—As for China, Bohlen continues to believe that Peiping is no Russian satellite but rather an economically dependent junior partner.

Tito Invited To Visit U.S.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) —Marshal Tito, president of Communist Yugoslavia, smiled and nodded briefly Friday when Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson invited him to visit the United States "sometime."

Tito, who seldom sees Yugoslav newsmen and almost never sees foreign reporters, permitted a group of newsmen from the United States to listen as he greeted Benson, Mrs. Benson, and their daughters, Bonnie and Beverly.

"That's a good product," Benson, a teetotaler, said.

Benson, in Yugoslavia on the first leg of a 16-day trade and goodwill trip to seven European countries, complimented Tito on a good crop this year. He mentioned his trip to a collective farm at Srbobran Thursday and then he invited Tito to come to the United States.

Tito and Benson retired for a private talk of about 20 minutes.

More Workers Are Furloughed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The nationwide steel strike has resulted in the furlough of 40 more Baltimore metropolitan area workers employed by industries dependent on steel.

The Department of Employment Security said Friday the new layoffs during the week ended Sept. 23, increased to 4,574 the total made idle throughout the state as a result of the steel walkout which began July 14.

Only 410 of the 4,574 reside outside of the Baltimore area, the DES said.

Five Killed When Plane Crashes

HAVANA (AP) — A Cuban air force plane crashed and burned in Matanzas Province Thursday night. Its five crewmen died.

An earlier report said the body of a woman presumably killed by falling wreckage was found. The air force said later the body thought to be a woman was a long-haired revolutionary officer.

Bear Mauls Child

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI) —A bear mauled six-year-old Bruna Abbondanza Thursday when she tried to feed the animal a handful of grass at the zoo. At a point when her father was not paying attention to her, Bruna stuck her hand through the bears of the bear's cage to feed the animal. Within an instant, the bear mauled her arm so badly that doctors had to amputate it.

Experts Comb Area For Cause Of Plane Crash

BORDEAUX, France, (AP) — Government experts combed a splintered woodland Friday for the cause of France's worst civil air disaster. It killed 53 people.

Twelve survivors were treated for burns, fractures and shock. All nine crewmembers perished, one on re-entering the burning wreck. The official passenger roll listed three Britons as the only non-French passengers.

Bound for Africa Thursday night, the four-engined DC7 strained into the air after a faltering takeoff, floundered, then plunged into a pine forest. Its gas tanks spewed flames high into the night sky.

In the shattered fuselage, passengers screamed as flames engulfed them. Two families—five persons in each—were wiped out. A steady rain had little effect on the flames.

The worst previous French civil crash was in Cairo in 1956 when 52 persons died.

No details of the investigation were revealed by the government or the privately owned airline, TAI (Transports Aeriens Intercontinentaux). The last reported radio contact with the plane was when it was cleared to take off.

Women Killed In Car Crash Are Identified

FREDERICK (AP)—Two women and a man among the five persons who died in a head-on crash near here Thursday were identified Friday as Baltimore residents.

Latest to be identified, State Police said, was Peter Densuk, 39, a passenger with two Negro women in one of the cars.

Two Hagerstown men in the other vehicle also died in the crash, and one was injured.

The bodies of Lillian E. Tillman, 38, and Lillian Thomas, who was observing her 36th birthday when she died in the accident Thursday, were identified by a friend, Oliver B. Walker of Baltimore.

Both women were Negroes.

Their eastbound car collided on U.S. 40 about a mile west of the U.S. 40-U.S. 40A intersection. Two men in the other car were injured fatally, along with an unidentified man riding with the women.

The other victims included Robert L. Hughes, 23, and Richard F. Trenary, 38, both of Hagerstown. Their companion, Charles S. Taylor, 29, of Hagerstown, was in Frederick Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Radiation Plant To Open Soon

LONDON (AP)—Britain's first plant using radiation for commercial purposes will open late this year. Operation will be around the clock under the Atomic Energy Authority. It will fully utilize continuous radiation from atomic isotopes in sterilizing medical equipment, disinfecting packaged goods and other uses.

Munford Reported Making Progress

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Walter F. Munford, president of the strike idled U.S. Steel Corp., who suffered a knife wound and a brain stroke on successive days, was reported making good recovery progress Friday.

Munford, 59, had been under treatment four weeks for nervous exhaustion and fatigue when, on Wednesday, he suffered a three-inch abdominal wound while in the kitchen of his 12-room summer home in Chatham.

To Build Plant

Grady Requests Special Session For Tax Powers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor J. Harold Grady Friday formally asked Gov. J. Millard Tawes—for the second time—to call a special session of the Maryland General Assembly to give Baltimore City more taxing power.

This time Grady asked only for enabling legislation to permit the city to impose an earnings tax not to exceed one per cent a year.

Last Monday night, Grady, with the backing of the Baltimore City Council, asked Tawes to call a special session to give the city authority to level local taxes on earnings, retail sales, alcoholic beverages, inheritances and other items which the state also taxes.

Tawes studied the request overnight, then the next day refused the request to reconvene the Legislature. He said he would be willing to call a special session only when the city worked out a "reasonable, definite and specific program" that would not infringe on State levies.

Grady and Tawes conferred yesterday and apparently reached a mutual agreement.

Tawes was in southern Maryland today and was not available immediately for comment on whether he would grant the request.

"We hope that a stop-gap series of taxes will not be enacted to take the place of this earnings tax," Grady wrote Tawes. "If there must be an alternate revenue program, then there should be increased liquor license fees, a city recordation tax, and taxes upon deposits in commercial banks, savings banks, and building and loan associations.

"The city solicitor will prepare a series of bills to effect these increased revenues. We firmly believe that there will be no occasion to resort to such an inadequate substitute program."

He added:

"Failure of the General Assembly to aid the city in this critical time would be disastrous."

The city needs nearly 14 million dollars for its next fiscal year beginning next January.

Khrushchev,

Eisenhower was assisted by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations escorted Khrushchev during the Premier's tour around the United States.

Hagerty told some 150 newsmen at press headquarters here that Friday night's session likely would be a short one, with Eisenhower and Khrushchev retiring early.

Movie Is Scheduled

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is scheduled to arrive by helicopter Saturday to join the discussions. So will other Soviet-U.S. officials who will shuttle in and out as their specialties are discussed.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev appeared likely to focus much of their talks on disarmament. Khrushchev has repeatedly plugged for such an agreement but has always balked at agreeing to the kind of inspection Western authorities say is necessary to make sure neither side cheats.

Khrushchev's appeal for an easing of trade restrictions appears certain to run into strong opposition. Eisenhower's top advisers are ready to favor more trade but not in strategic machinery and other complex equipment which would have war potential.

The talks got under way in ideal autumn weather. The temperature was in the high 70s with the sun slanting through the trees.

Tests Reaction To Peace Plan

DUNKERQUE, France, (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle talked with miners and shipyard workers of northern France Friday to test reaction to his peace plan for Algeria. He got a strong pledge of support.

Even in largely Communist areas of the northern French coal fields, De Gaulle won cheers when he said again the Algerians must decide their future by their own free choice and the French at home must endorse Algeria's decision.

Call Holy War

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Moslem ulemas — learned men — in Syria Friday called Islamic and Arab nations to holy war to topple the "anti-Islam, Red regime" in Iraq. They called Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem a heretic. They charged his regime was "controlled by enemies of Allah," meaning Communists.

Push Program

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) —Electric Auto Lite Co. will try to offset an expected 15 per cent loss of business next year when Chrysler Corp. starts producing many of its own electrical parts by pushing an acquisition and diversification program, according to President Robert H. Davies.

Potomac River At Its Lowest Level Since 1930

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Potomac River has dropped to its lowest level here since 1930. The flow is less than 710,000,000 gallons daily.

The amount is well below the last previous low flow of 735,000,000 gallons daily Aug. 20, 1957. The record low in 1930 was 506,000,000 gallons daily.

Dry weather is responsible. No substantial rains are expected until the middle of October unless a midwest storm area heads this way or hurricane Gracie produces some effect.

There is no immediate threat to the drinking water supply for the Washington area, however. The reason, officials said, is that the dry spell has come near the end of the hot-weather period and consumption has been below summertime levels.

State Continues To Link Glaros With Safe Job

Special FBI Agent Roy Jevons testified that sweepings found in the trunk of Glaros' car had the same peculiar characteristics as pieces of insulation in the looted safe.

Glaros, 33, is being tried in Dorchester County Circuit Court on a charge of breaking in and stealing $159,000 in cash and $3,000 in government bonds from the general store of George O. Powley at Wingate, some 20 miles south of here. The crime occurred last Nov. 7.

Another FBI specialist, document examiner Lyndal Shaneyfelt, told the court he examined a curtain and debris wrapped in it. He said he also studied a trash can and contents, taken from outside the Glaros house, and a wastebasket inside.

Shaneyfelt said both receptacles had charred material. One of the items, he added, was a paper that had a serial number for a bill of sale for a boat, which Powley had had in his safe.

The prosecution's last witness before court was recessed until Tuesday was State Police Cpl. Walter H. Dobson.

Dobson, who is detachment commander in Dorchester County, testified he ordered the arrest of Glaros. He said that earlier he was called to the scene and found the store broken into and the safe smashed open with papers littered about.

The State Police officer testified he and other officers inspected Glaros' car and among other things found a white concrete like subject in the trunk. This was sealed in an envelope and sent to the FBI for analysis, he said.

Slaying Case Goes To Jury

BALTIMORE (AP) — State's Atty. Saul A. Harris said Friday he would bypass a Police Court hearing for two youths charge with rape and murder and take the case directly to the grand jury.

The woman was strangled on the night of Aug. 4, 1958.

The youths were identified by police as "the boys on bicycles" who claimed to have seen a man following a woman in the park that night.

Man Found Dead, Police Probe Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police awaited the results of an autopsy Friday in an effort to determine if the death of a 65-year-old man was caused by foul play.

The body of John D. Meredith was found by his wife when she returned home after staying with friends. Police said Meredith was found inside the first-floor landing near the front door.

The body was covered with blood. A bloody footprint was found on the steps leading to the street.

Gov. Assistant Resigns Position

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — K. Wayne Swiger, Gov. Underwood's executive assistant for the past 32 months, is resigning to become a regional real estate officer with the Post Office Department.

Swiger, who will assume his new duties about Oct. 5, will have his office in Clarksburg. His region will include the northern West Virginia area, and possibly some territory in Maryland and Virginia.

Stocks Close Easier, End Two-Day Rally In Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed easier Friday, ending a two-day rally in the stock market.

The list firmed at the opening but backed down thereafter in the wake of an indefinite recess in the steel talks. Support in the final hour brought a number of issues back from their lows.

Other than the steel recess there was little in the news to move investors one way or another. The mid-week advance was said to be a technical recovery from recent declines.

Utilities were firm on average all through the session, with Houston Light, Peoples Gas and Panhandle Eastern all up 1 or more.

Trading declined to 3,280,000 shares from 3,480,000 shares traded Thursday. Thursday's volume was the most since Aug. 3 when 4,190,000 shares changed hands.

New 1959 highs were scored by 11 of the 1,201 issues traded Friday while 48 stocks hit new lows. Declines were registered by 519 issues and advances by 456, while 226 held unchanged.

Studebaker - Packard was the most active issue of the day with 351,300 shares changing hands. Studebaker-Packard (when issued) American Motors, Jersey Standard, and Warner Bros. rounded out the five most active.

The gloomy steel picture continued to depress steel issues. Youngstown fell more than 2, and U. S. Steel and Lukens a half or more. Kennecott lost more than 2 in the metals, while Southern Pacific added more than a point in the rails.

Du Pont see-sawed in the chemicals but finished up more than 1. Union Carbide featured its group with a rise of 3, and American Cyanamid picked up nearly 2 on development of a new antibiotic. Drugs eased.

Superior Oil featured its group with a drop of 180 on the scrapping of merger plans involving Texaco. Texaco lost more than 1 and Gulf 2.

Miscellaneous features included Owens - Corning and Minnesota Mining, both up 5, and Walt Disney up more than 2.

Weakness in space issues marred an irregularly higher session on the American Exchange Friday. Volume was moderate.

Fairchild Camera & Instrument, off around 6½ points, headed the sagging electronic list. Aerojet-General, strong in most recent sessions, lost ½.

Most oils were slightly improved with Woodely Petroleum and British American Oil featuring with gains of slightly less than a point.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were irregular Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade admidst concern over the threat of a longshoremen's strike which would affect the East coast and the Gulf and cause a lull in export shipments.

At the close wheat was off ⅜ to 1; corn off ⅛ to ⅝; oats up ⅜ to off ¼; rye off ⅜ to up ¼; soybeans off ¼ to ¾.

Wheat prices were easier with deferreds leading the way. The chief activity in the market was the selling of a considerable quantity of July wheat by a large commission house against the purchase of May soybeans.

Corn was mostly easy. Northwest brokers bought December contracts with selling scattered but mostly local.

Oats were mostly steady. Trade in oats was light. An export house was an early buyer of December contracts.

The rye market was mostly firm, led by nearbys.

Soybean prices were firm. Commission houses and local traders bought and one house bought a fairly large quantity of May contracts on a spread basis with wheat.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Fred spends about 1,000 hours each year in school. When he graduates from high school he will have sat in classrooms for 12,000 hours.

Plus homework Miss Harkins assigned nine pages of science today. Mr. Brent expects a book report tomorrow. And so it goes every school day—every year.

Don't let Fred's crowded school roster worry you. He is getting an education—the fine education every American child is entitled to. Let Fred's empty spiritual roster worry you. He is spending ZERO hours in Church School. He is getting NO religious education. And his tragedy is shared by MILLIONS OF AMERICAN YOUTH.

A new kind of homework is needed. By friendly encouragement, by sincere interest, by the example of our own families in faithful church life—we must inspire the Freds and their parents to take advantage of the spiritual opportunities that America's churches offer.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fred spends about 1,000 hours each year in school. When he graduates from high school he will have sat in classrooms for 12,000 hours.

Plus homework Miss Harkins assigned nine pages of science today. Mr. Brent expects a book report tomorrow. And so it goes every school day—every year.

Don't let Fred's crowded school roster worry you. He is getting an education—the fine education every American child is entitled to. Let Fred's empty spiritual roster worry you. He is spending ZERO hours in Church School. He is getting NO religious education. And his tragedy is shared by MILLIONS OF AMERICAN YOUTH.

A new kind of homework is needed. By friendly encouragement, by sincere interest, by the example of our own families in faithful church life—we must inspire the Freds and their parents to take advantage of the spiritual opportunities that America's churches offer.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GOP Women Select Work For Gold Certificate

Hear Talk By Hettie H. Bonnell

As a requisite for working for the National Gold Certificate is a city project, the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland decided at the meeting yesterday to see how many tickets it can sell this year for the Civic Symphony.

Mrs. Arthur A. Verner presided at the business session at the Woman's Civic Club house. The club elected Mrs. Verner and Mrs. Holmes Cessna delegates to the meeting of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women in Baltimore, October 13 and 14. The president reminded the members that the club is entitled to send one out of every five as delegates, and urged as many as can to attend as delegates. Twenty-one new members were welcomed.

Besides the study group, which meets the third Friday of each month at 10:30 a. m. under the leadership of Mrs. John A. Cupler, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith and Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, a second group was organized. Miss Olive Simpson agreed to be the leader. It will be an evening group on a Friday, once a month also. The group was reminded of the "games night" party to be held October 16 at the club house, beginning at 7:30. Players are to bring their own cards or games they wish to play. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Edgar Kendall, PA 2-6393.

Mrs. Hettie Hazlett Bonnell, Baltimore, vice chairman of the Republican State Central committee, was guest speaker. She was introduced by Mrs. Cessna, and announced that Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will be the banquet speaker at the state federation meeting in Baltimore October 13. On the 14th a luncheon is to be held in celebration of President Eisenhower's birthday.

In her informal talk, Mrs. Bonnell brought out several points in the recruitment program, stating that two million more volunteer workers are needed for 1960. She then spoke of the "six steps to victory in 1960," and felt there are four encouraging signs, first, the strong potential candidates; the great deal of optimism and enthusiasm; how the Women's Republican Clubs are growing all over the country and the resurgence of interest; and the Republicans at work and planning a year ahead.

Discussing the principles of Republicanism, Mrs. Bonnell pointed out that the first is human freedom, doing away with slavery all over the world; the belief in free enterprise, that anyone with ambition to start a business should have no restrictions; sound money, that $1 should buy $1 worth of goods; and the rights of the state, with each state having its own laws instead of a strong centralized government taking over.

Mrs. Bonnell then explained the A. B. Cs of the political alphabet as, "A", votes, the final authority in government lies with the individual voter and the right to cast a ballot for the candidate of his choice; "B", any citizen is free to become a candidate, and she urged a good, sincere, knowledgable person run for office; "C", politics, knowing the nation, state, Congressional district, county, and precincts and to know how the candidate is selected, voting procedure and to keep up to date with the candidates' records.

Stressing the importance of the primary, Mrs. Bonnell said it is sad that only 40 per cent vote in the primary and few realize that it is in the primary when the state central committee is selected. This, she pointed out, holds a sort of power of attorney to act for the voter. She said it is in the primary that the people who manage the party are elected.

She spoke of the importance of being active in politics, knowing and learning all of politics. The speaker pointed out that to the Communist, politics is a religion, placed above God and home. To him the party owes nothing, but he owes the party his life.

In closing, Mrs. Bonnell spoke of the importance of history being made and asked all to pray "the results of the next 48 hours may be what we all desire; may God take this conference and mold the outcome to His everlasting peace, with His goodness and our President's goodness, plus our prayers, may we look forward to an end of hostilities to be peace on earth."

A covered dish luncheon followed, with arrangements of large yellow chrysanthemums and fall leaves decorating the table, buffet and fire places. They were arranged by Mrs. Miles G. Thompson. An electric desk clock was presented to Mrs. Bonnell. Other honor guests were Mrs. J. Fife Symington, Mrs. J. Glenn Beall and Mrs. Noel S. Cook, treasurer of the state federation.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Face Facts!

Absolute cleanliness is the basic principle of all skin care. It's just not possible to be too clean, nor can you start your cleanliness campaign too early!

The best weapon in the skin game is soap-and-water, that is, if you're a young acne sufferer (a frequent teen-age skin problem). If you are, you have plenty of company, for teens form about 40% of our total population.

The most important point to remember about soap and water washings, according to leading dermatologists, is the WAY you do it. I recommend using your hands (scrupulously clean ones) only in applying soap and water . . . gently, if your skin is dry. Use moderate energy for normal skins. Work vigorously if skin is oily. But, whether your method is gentle or vigorous, always work with a circular motion in an upward direction with the lather.

The best way is to start the cleansing at the chin and work along the jawbone up to the top of the cheeks. Next, work from over your upper lip up and around the nose; then from the eyebrows to the hairline.

Gentleness and a thorough rinsing are essential. Go easy around the eyes. The skin there is the most delicate of any part of the face and requires gentle handling.

If your skin is oily, you will need to use soap and water often —perhaps as much as three times a day. I know many famous models who wash their faces as often as five times a day.

Since it's also during adolescence that dandruff appears, it's a good idea to control this unsightly nuisance, as it may be responsible for the blemishes on the face. People often forget that the skin doesn't stop at the hairline and that the scalp has oily glands that are also active. This nuisance must be controlled, not only for the appearance and health of the hair, but that of the skin as well. It can become blemished from the dandruff flakes that fall on the face, neck and shoulders. Frequent shampooing during the teen years is important.

Lastly, while you're working on clearing up your skin, don't let your complexion difficulties depress you. Acne is a skin condition usually associated with adolescence and when you're young, each trouble seems like a great crisis. It's easy to become unhappy and jittery. The nervous system itself can promote bad skin and health.

GOP Women Select Work For Gold Certificate

Hear Talk By Hettie H. Bonnell

As a requisite for working for the National Gold Certificate is a city project, the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland decided at the meeting yesterday to see how many tickets it can sell this year for the Civic Symphony.

Mrs. Arthur A. Verner presided at the business session at the Woman's Civic Club house. The club elected Mrs. Verner and Mrs. Holmes Cessna delegates to the meeting of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women in Baltimore, October 13 and 14. The president reminded the members that the club is entitled to send one out of every five as delegates, and urged as many as can to attend as delegates. Twenty-one new members were welcomed.

Besides the study group, which meets the third Friday of each month at 10:30 a. m. under the leadership of Mrs. John A. Cupler, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith and Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, a second group was organized. Miss Olive Simpson agreed to be the leader. It will be an evening group on a Friday, once a month also. The group was reminded of the "games night" party to be held October 16 at the club house, beginning at 7:30. Players are to bring their own cards or games they wish to play. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Edgar Kendall, PA 2-6393.

Mrs. Hettie Hazlett Bonnell, Baltimore, vice chairman of the Republican State Central committee, was guest speaker. She was introduced by Mrs. Cessna, and announced that Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will be the banquet speaker at the state federation meeting in Baltimore October 13. On the 14th a luncheon is to be held in celebration of President Eisenhower's birthday.

In her informal talk, Mrs. Bonnell brought out several points in the recruitment program, stating that two million more volunteer workers are needed for 1960. She then spoke of the "six steps to victory in 1960," and felt there are four encouraging signs, first, the strong potential candidates; the great deal of optimism and enthusiasm; how the Women's Republican Clubs are growing all over the country and the resurgence of interest; and the Republicans at work and planning a year ahead.

Discussing the principles of Republicanism, Mrs. Bonnell pointed out that the first is human freedom, doing away with slavery all over the world; the belief in free enterprise, that anyone with ambition to start a business should have no restrictions; sound money, that $1 should buy $1 worth of goods; and the rights of the state, with each state having its own laws instead of a strong centralized government taking over.

Mrs. Bonnell then explained the A. B. Cs of the political alphabet as, "A", votes, the final authority in government lies with the individual voter and the right to cast a ballot for the candidate of his choice; "B", any citizen is free to become a candidate, and she urged a good, sincere, knowledgable person run for office; "C", politics, knowing the nation, state, Congressional district, county, and precincts and to know how the candidate is selected, voting procedure and to keep up to date with the candidates' records.

Stressing the importance of the primary, Mrs. Bonnell said it is sad that only 40 per cent vote in the primary and few realize that it is in the primary when the state central committee is selected. This, she pointed out, holds a sort of power of attorney to act for the voter. She said it is in the primary that the people who manage the party are elected.

She spoke of the importance of being active in politics, knowing and learning all of politics. The speaker pointed out that to the Communist, politics is a religion, placed above God and home. To him the party owes nothing, but he owes the party his life.

In closing, Mrs. Bonnell spoke of the importance of history being made and asked all to pray "the results of the next 48 hours may be what we all desire; may God take this conference and mold the outcome to His everlasting peace, with His goodness and our President's goodness, plus our prayers, may we look forward to an end of hostilities to be peace on earth."

A covered dish luncheon followed, with arrangements of large yellow chrysanthemums and fall leaves decorating the table, buffet and fire places. They were arranged by Mrs. Miles G. Thompson. An electric desk clock was presented to Mrs. Bonnell. Other honor guests were Mrs. J. Fife Symington, Mrs. J. Glenn Beall and Mrs. Noel S. Cook, treasurer of the state federation.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Face Facts!

Absolute cleanliness is the basic principle of all skin care. It's just not possible to be too clean, nor can you start your cleanliness campaign too early!

The best weapon in the skin game is soap-and-water, that is, if you're a young acne sufferer (a frequent teen-age skin problem). If you are, you have plenty of company, for teens form about 40% of our total population.

The most important point to remember about soap and water washings, according to leading dermatologists, is the WAY you do it. I recommend using your hands (scrupulously clean ones) only in applying soap and water . . . gently, if your skin is dry. Use moderate energy for normal skins. Work vigorously if skin is oily. But, whether your method is gentle or vigorous, always work with a circular motion in an upward direction with the lather.

The best way is to start the cleansing at the chin and work along the jawbone up to the top of the cheeks. Next, work from over your upper lip up and around the nose; then from the eyebrows to the hairline.

Gentleness and a thorough rinsing are essential. Go easy around the eyes. The skin there is the most delicate of any part of the face and requires gentle handling.

If your skin is oily, you will need to use soap and water often—perhaps as much as three times a day. I know many famous models who wash their faces as often as five times a day.

Since it's also during adolescence that dandruff appears, it's a good idea to control this unsightly nuisance, as it may be responsible for the blemishes on the face. People often forget that the skin doesn't stop at the hairline and that the scalp has oily glands that are also active. This nuisance must be controlled, not only for the appearance and health of the hair, but that of the skin as well. It can become blemished from the dandruff flakes that fall on the face, neck and shoulders. Frequent shampooing during the teen years is important.

Lastly, while you're working on clearing up your skin, don't let your complexion difficulties depress you. Acne is a skin condition usually associated with adolescence and when you're young, each trouble seems like a great crisis. It's easy to become unhappy and jittery. The nervous system itself can promote bad skin and health.

County Has No Big Problems For Legislators

There are no great problems facing the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that cannot be handled with the county delegates and senator, Leslie J. Clark, board attorney, informed the Legislative Council of the General Assembly yesterday.

Clark's remarks were made at a public meeting of the interim study group at the City Hall. County, city and officials of other organizations and businesses attended the meeting which was arranged by State Senator Charles M. See.

Clark did refer to the situation where Cumberland has about half the population of the county and pays over half of the county taxes.

The city taxpayers pay a combined city-county rate of $3.92 per $100, one of the highest in the state, he added.

There are many duplications of services and something should be worked out for elimination of these and charges should be properly allocated, he said.

Clark said the county commissioners are in favor of the changing the state trial magistrate law in regard to fee allocation.

He also called on the council to assist in getting the State Roads Commission to take over the Pinto Bridge, which, owned by the county, is an interstate bridge and is obsolete.

Clark, noting that the council was to discuss school bus safety, commented that several Allegany County men who work the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift drive buses after leaving their jobs.

Del. Robinson asked if the Board of Education could not stop that.

Others speaking before the council were Edward Habeeb, of the Route 40 Association, who called for continued acceleration of work on the road between Hancock and Cumberland, with special emphasis on the stretch between the top of Martins Mountain and this city.

George Hollar, president of the South End Businessmen's Association, presented again the association's appeal that the State Roads Commission step up its proposed construction of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Wiley Ford.

The span, built in 1906 for horses and pedestrians, is in the 12-year road program.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, asked for assistance in junior colleges, which Sen. James Pine of Baltimore County pointed out could be set up by the State Board of Education.

On economic development, Petersen was reminded that state funds for industrial development will be available through the State Economic Commission. Alvin C. Wilson of Cumberland is a member of the commission's lending agency.

the 12-year plan. In concluding his talk, Mr. Funk pointed out that the SRC is holding regional meetings through the state.

The planning and programming division, the engineering division, the right of way division, all are geared for this close liaison, for a big-time operation in highway planning, "thinking on the largest scale possible, the desire to give the greatest good to the greatest number."

This morning those who are attending the convention will take a tour of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant and Cumberland's sewage treatment plant.

Yesterday afternoon, after an address of welcome by Mayor J. Edwin Keech, the engineers heard a number of speakers.

Mason Butcher, director of public works of Montgomery County, spoke on "Functions of the County Consultant Board to Bureau of Public Roads."

Herbert C. Bowers, federal aid engineer of the State Roads Department, outlined, "Procedures for Scheduling Federal Aid Secondary Projects." Also discussed was "Personnel Policies and Regulations and the Merit System of Montgomery County."

Herley Brinsfield, Baltimore City, a member of the SRC, also was present during the meetings.

Directors Hear Of Growth In Potomac Edison

The Potomac Edison Company is now serving 164,000 customers, an increase of 3,500 over last year, the board of directors was told at a meeting held in Frederick.

D. E. Stultz, PE president, told the board that "prolonged periods of abnormally high temperature and humidity during the summer months, and progressively improving industrial production levels, combined to create a succession of new Potomac Edison records for electric power output and kilowatt hour sales thus far in 1959."

Total kilowatt hour sales, he said, are 12.6 per cent ahead of those for the same period of 1958. Residential customers whose annual use now averages 3,827 kilowatt hours, well above the national average, have purchased 8.3 per cent more kilowatt hours this year than in 1958.

Throughout the PE system area, Mr. Stultz said industrial development since the first of the year has accounted for the employment of 835 additional people, thus creating new customers both industrially and domestically.

In an optimistic note, he said, "before this board meets again there will be public announcements of decisions to locate other new plants with even more impressive employment statistics in our service area."

He announced the completion of the 26-mile, high-voltage transmission line from Millville, W. Va., to Frederick. It is expected to be placed in full service next week.

He reported a number of other projects, including the expected completion in November of the 14-mile transmission line from Marlowe, W. Va., to Martinsburg, W. Va., along with new general offices and service headquarters at Chambersburg, Pa., and Lonaconing.

In 1959, he told the board, total expenditures for expansion of PE facilities will be approximately $6,235,000.

Directors from this area attending the meeting included Owen E. Hitchins and Charles A. Piper, along with Garland L. Johnson, manager of the PE Cumberland district.

County Council System Discussed As Possibility For Allegany County

Would a county council form of government help solve the overlapping problems of Cumberland and Allegany County?

The question came up yesterday when city and county officials met with the Legislative Council of the General Assembly at City Hall here.

The county council system would mean home rule for the county, with Cumberland and the county's other municipalities operated by a county council. Such a system exists in Montgomery and Baltimore counties.

Del. Jerome Robinson of Baltimore's Fourth District first brought up the point on county home rule.

William R. Carscaden, city attorney, who presented the Mayor and Council's problems and suggestions, said it certainly would be the solution.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Board of County Commissioners, said he felt the county council type of government is best, but could not speak for the commissioners as they are divided on it.

Carscaden had seven points to make in behalf of the Mayor and Council.

The first involved fines from arrests made by City Police officers. Ninety-five per cent of the arrests are on state charges, but the money goes to the state and county. The city receives none of it, while bearing the entire cost of the police department.

The distribution of fines is unfair to all municipalities in the state, he said and added that arrests made by city officers should result in fines going to the city.

Secondly, Carscaden commented on the redistribution of gasoline tax money. The state collects the money and then allocates it to the counties and cities.

Most city streets have a much higher traffic count than state and county roads. For instance, he said, the amount received by Cumberland from gas tax last year amounted to $95,437 and the city then spent $267,800 for maintenance and cleaning streets and for lighting, thereby spending more than was received.

The third point was on additional revenues for municipalities. The mayor and council's statement declared that real estate owners in this state are carrying the maximum tax burden, and this administration does not want to increase this form of tax.

He urged a county cigaret tax, collected by the state and distributed back to the counties.

Del. A. Gordon Boone of Baltimore County, majority leader in the House of Delegates quipped: "Would Cumberland like a payroll tax?"

Carscaden replied that, "We are waiting to see what happens in Baltimore City."

Del. Boone added "So are we." (Baltimore County has voiced opposition to the Baltimore City proposal, as many residents of the county work in the city and would be taxed).

On reallocation of income tax, the city feels that a study should be made. For instance, merchants conducting businesses in the city and receiving all income and from those businesses and living outside the city list their residences on income tax returns as being in the county.

This is unfair to the cities and the mayor and council feel that the revenue should be granted to the site of the source of income, said Mr. Carscaden.

The same was felt on the redistribution of bank stock tax, that the tax go to the city in which the bank is located, and not to the residences of the individual taxpayers.

The Mayor and Council also felt that mandatory legislation that would require expenditure of money by a city should be with the express approval of the city government.

If not, the county legislators should provide, along with the bill, means for raising revenue to meet the additional expenditures.

Spring months are cooler than the corresponding months of autumn because it takes hot summer sun to warm the earth's crust and the seas and icy wilderness of the Far North.

Car Club Plans Festival Tour

The Western Maryland Sports Car Club is making plans to attend the Forest Festival in Elkins, W. Va., on Sunday, October 4.

John C. Pevear, chairman of the event which will be called the "Festival Tour," said the tour will assemble at the branch of the Second National Bank in Cresaptown at 9 a.m. on October 4.

Mr. Pevear said other local and area motorists interested in taking the tour with the club will be welcomed on the trip.

Study Of Siltation In Potomac River Proposed At Interstate Meeting Here

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin wound up its fall meeting here yesterday with a panel on water developments and reports from committees.

All sessions were held in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

E. W. Mundie, chairman of the commission land committee, told the group that additional members are needed on his committee as replacements. At its meeting, the land unit oriented new and present members and decided to have an interim committee to re-establish its aims and objectives.

Mundie said the committee considered a request which had been passed on by the commission from the Metropolitan Area Water and Sewage Council to work on silt conditions as they affect pollution of the Potomac and the water supply.

Heretofore, the land committee had focused attention on silt from rural areas but development of housing areas has expanded the problem, it was pointed out. The committee has decided to ask the U.S. Geological Survey to make a study and investigate silt load and sources. Proposed is a two-year reconnaissance study which would lay groundwork for a more permanent study at an estimated cost of $60,000. It will be proposed, he said, that the Geological Survey bear half the study cost and the signatory bodies of the Interstate Commission the remainder.

Some progress has been made in plans for the proposed study, Mundie said.

The Land Committee also recommended that television and radio short subjects on silt control be prepared based on the same principle as those which have been shown on pollution control. Some visual aids are available on silt problems created by housing developments and it was suggested these be brought together and joined with other materials which might help publicize the program.

The remainder of the report was devoted to the January meeting of the commission at which a discussion of Public Law 566—the watershed flood protection act—will be held. An FHA representative will be present to discuss revisions of specifications in the housing development program and a discussion is slated on the Fairfax County, Va., soil survey, Mundie said.

In another report, a combined one by the water-recreation-wildlife committees, recommendations are aimed at cleaning up pollution and making the watershed more desirable from a recreation standpoint.

The report was issued by A. H. Anderson, recreation-wildlife committee chairman, and Louis F. Warrick, water committee chairman.

The report is a result of a joint meeting of the two groups at which a panel of representatives from four states bordering the Basin gave reports on pollution and recreation facilities. The panel suggested what can be done to improve conditions in some areas.

It will be recommended that in cooperation with signatory bodies of the commission, a map be prepared showing present use of the whole drainage area and what use it could be put to in the future. This would be based on physical structure of the stream and become what might be called "zoning" the river for various purposes such as swimming, other recreation, hunting and the like.

The committees recommended that 80 sampling stations — of which only about half are active —be relocated and their reporting methods standardized. These stations take water samples and tests will determine to what use the water can be employed.

Stitcher, Post Ball Fields Are Reseeded

C. Eugene Mason, director of the Cumberland Recreation Department, said yesterday that Stitcher Field and the baseball grounds at Post playground have been reseeded and fertilized in preparation for next year's activities.

On Thursday members of the maintenance crew of the department finished reseeding the field at Post Playground. During the week the crew reseeded and fertilized Stitcher Field to produce a better cover of grass.

Stitcher Field was first seeded about two years ago. About five years ago Post field was seeded. Better playing conditions are expected to result from the reseeding program, he said.

Signs have been posted and the seeded areas have been marked off, according to Mr. Mason, who is asking cooperation of local residents to give the grass a chance to grow.

The maintenance crew of the department cooperated with the Cumberland Water Department in placing a water tap at the field site in order that it can be sprinkled during the summer months.

County Has No Big Problems For Legislators

There are no great problems facing the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that cannot be handled with the county delegates and senator, Leslie J. Clark, board attorney, informed the Legislative Council of the General Assembly yesterday.

Clark's remarks were made at a public meeting of the interim study group at the City Hall. County, city and officials of other organizations and businesses attended the meeting which was arranged by State Senator Charles M. See.

Clark did refer to the situation where Cumberland has about half the population of the county and pays over half of the county taxes.

The city taxpayers pay a combined city-county rate of $3.92 per $100, one of the highest in the state, he added.

There are many duplications of services and something should be worked out for elimination of these and charges should be properly allocated, he said.

Clark said the county commissioners are in favor of the changing the state trial magistrate law in regard to fee allocation.

He also called on the council to assist in getting the State Roads Commission to take over the Pinto Bridge, which, owned by the county, is an interstate bridge and is obsolete.

Clark, noting that the council was to discuss school bus safety, commented that several Allegany County men who work the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift drive buses after leaving their jobs.

Del. Robinson asked if the Board of Education could not stop that.

Others speaking before the council were Edward Habeeb, of the Route 40 Association, who called for continued acceleration of work on the road between Hancock and Cumberland, with special emphasis on the stretch between the top of Martins Mountain and this city.

George Hollar, president of the South End Businessmen's Association, presented again the association's appeal that the State Roads Commission step up its proposed construction of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Wiley Ford.

The span, built in 1906 for horses and pedestrians, is in the 12-year road program.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, asked for assistance in junior colleges, which Sen. James Pine of Baltimore County pointed out could be set up by the State Board of Education.

On economic development, Petersen was reminded that state funds for industrial development will be available through the State Economic Commission. Alvin C. Wilson of Cumberland is a member of the commission's lending agency.

Cub Pack 19 Holds Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 19 began its fall program this week at a meeting conducted at West Side School under the direction of Ralph Isiminger, committee chairman.

Sgt. Virgil Smith, new cubmaster who succeeds L. L. Helmer, announced the program for September and October. The theme will be "Aesop's Fables" and all dens will base their activities on this theme.

Sgt. Smith also reported that a new award has been set up to recognize packs for outstanding growth and advancement programs.

A new den was organized with Mrs. T. A. Carscaden as den mother. Mrs. Fay Cook will be the new den mother of Den 1 with Mrs. Ethel Michaels as her assistant. Mrs. Mary Kirk is the new den mother of Den 2.

The planning and programming division, the engineering division, the right of way division, all are geared for this close liaison, for a big-time operation in highway planning, "thinking on the largest scale possible, the desire to give the greatest good to the greatest number."

A program of entertainment followed last night's banquet.

This morning those who are attending the convention will take a tour of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant and Cumberland's sewage treatment plant.

Yesterday afternoon, after an address of welcome by Mayor J. Edwin Keech, the engineers heard a number of speakers.

Mason Butcher, director of public works of Montgomery County, spoke on "Functions of the County Consultant Board to Bureau of Public Roads."

Herbert C. Bowers, federal aid engineer of the State Roads Department, outlined, "Procedures for Scheduling Federal Aid Secondary Projects." Also discussed was "Personnel Policies and Regulations and the Merit System of Montgomery County."

Herley Brinsfield, Baltimore City, a member of the SRC, also was present during the meetings.

Directors Hear Of Growth In Potomac Edison

The Potomac Edison Company is now serving 164,000 customers, an increase of 3,500 over last year, the board of directors was told at a meeting held in Frederick.

D. E. Stultz, PE president, told the board that "prolonged periods of abnormally high temperature and humidity during the summer months, and progressively improving industrial production levels, combined to create a succession of new Potomac Edison records for electric power output and kilowatt hour sales thus far in 1959."

Total kilowatt hour sales, he said, are 12.6 per cent ahead of those for the same period of 1958. Residential customers whose annual use now averages 3,827 kilowatt hours, well above the national average, have purchased 8.3 per cent more kilowatt hours this year than in 1958.

Throughout the PE system area, Mr. Stultz said industrial development since the first of the year has accounted for the employment of 835 additional people, thus creating new customers both industrially and domestically.

In an optimistic note, he said, "before this board meets again there will be public announcements of decisions to locate other new plants with even more impressive employment statistics in our service area."

He announced the completion of the 26-mile, high-voltage transmission line from Millville, W. Va., to Frederick. It is expected to be placed in full service next week.

He reported a number of other projects, including the expected completion in November of the 14-mile transmission line from Marlowe, W. Va., to Martinsburg, W. Va., along with new general offices and service headquarters at Chambersburg, Pa., and Lonaconing.

In 1959, he told the board, total expenditures for expansion of PE facilities will be approximately $6,235,000.

Directors from this area attending the meeting included Owen E. Hitchins and Charles A. Piper, along with Garland L. Johnson, manager of the PE Cumberland district.

County Council System Discussed As Possibility For Allegany County

Would a county council form of government help solve the overlapping problems of Cumberland and Allegany County?

The question came up yesterday when city and county officials met with the Legislative Council of the General Assembly at City Hall here.

The county council system would mean home rule for the county, with Cumberland and the county's other municipalities operated by a county council. Such a system exists in Montgomery and Baltimore counties.

Del. Jerome Robinson of Baltimore's Fourth District first brought up the point on county home rule.

William R. Carscaden, city attorney, who presented the Mayor and Council's problems and suggestions, said it certainly would be the solution.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Board of County Commissioners, said he felt the county council type of government is best, but could not speak for the commissioners as they are divided on it.

Carscaden had seven points to make in behalf of the Mayor and Council.

The first involved fines from arrests made by City Police officers. Ninety-five per cent of the arrests are on state charges, but the money goes to the state and county. The city receives none of it, while bearing the entire cost of the police department.

The distribution of fines is unfair to all municipalities in the state, he said, and added that arrests made by city officers should result in fines going to the city.

Secondly, Carscaden commented on the redistribution of gasoline tax money. The state collects the money and then allocates it to the counties and cities.

Most city streets have a much higher traffic count than state and county roads. For instance, he said, the amount received by Cumberland from gas tax last year amounted to $95,437 and the city then spent $267,800 for maintenance and cleaning streets and for lighting, thereby spending more than was received.

The third point was on additional revenues for municipalities. The mayor and council's statement declared that real estate owners in this state are carrying the maximum tax burden, and this administration does not want to increase this form of tax.

He urged a county cigaret tax, collected by the state and distributed back to the counties.

Del. A. Gordon Boone of Baltimore County, majority leader in the House of Delegates quipped: "Would Cumberland like a payroll tax?"

Carscaden replied that, "We are waiting to see what happens in Baltimore City."

Del. Boone added "So are we." (Baltimore County has voiced opposition to the Baltimore City proposal, as many residents of the county work in the city and would be taxed).

On reallocation of income tax, the city feels that a study should be made. For instance, merchants conducting businesses in the city and receiving all income and from those businesses and living outside the city list their residences on income tax returns as being in the county.

This is unfair to the cities and the mayor and council feel that the revenue should be granted to the site of the source of income, said Mr. Carscaden.

The same was felt on the redistribution of bank stock tax, that the tax go to the city in which the bank is located, and not to the residences of the individual taxpayers.

The Mayor and Council also felt that mandatory legislation that would require expenditure of money by a city should be with the express approval of the city government.

If not, the county legislators should provide, along with the bill, means for raising revenue to meet the additional expenditures.

Spring months are cooler than the corresponding months of autumn because it takes hot summer sun to warm the earth's crust and the seas and icy wilderness of the Far North.

Car Club Plans Festival Tour

The Western Maryland Sports Car Club is making plans to attend the Forest Festival in Elkins, W. Va., on Sunday, October 4.

John C. Pevear, chairman of the event which will be called the "Festival Tour," said the tour will assemble at the branch of the Second National Bank in Cresaptown at 9 a.m. on October 4.

Mr. Pevear said other local and area motorists interested in taking the tour with the club will be welcomed on the trip.

In addition to the other activities at the festival, the local club will attend the sports car races which will be held that day at 2 p.m.

Another feature of the events on October 4 will be a religious song festival which will be held at Davis and Elkins College at 9:30 a.m.

The local group also will visit the many exhibits which will be set up at the festival. A guided missile exhibit and exhibits on wildlife, industry, forestry, art and a 4-H club program also will be seen by members and guests of the local car club who attend.

Circuit Court Grants Divorces

Four divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Mary Virginia Troutman was granted a divorce from Richard Louis Troutman and custody of their three children. Helen Y. Miller obtained a divorce from Harvey J. Miller.

Mary E. Harman was awarded a divorce from Edward H. Harman and the right to resume use of her former name of Mary E. Wolford. Carleton Robertson was granted a divorce from Patricia Robertson, who was given permission to resume use of her maiden name of Patricia Schramm.

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin wound up its fall meeting here yesterday with a panel on water developments and reports from committees.

All sessions were held in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

E. W. Mundie, chairman of the commission land committee, told the group that additional members are needed on his committee as replacements. At its meeting, the land unit oriented new and present members and decided to have an interim committee to re-establish its aims and objectives.

Mundie said the committee considered a request which had been passed on by the commission from the Metropolitan Area Water and Sewage Council to work on silt conditions as they affect pollution of the Potomac and the water supply.

Heretofore, the land committee had focused attention on silt from rural areas but development of housing areas has expanded the problem, it was pointed out. The committee has decided to ask the U.S. Geological Survey to make a study and investigate silt load and sources Proposed is a two-year reconnaissance study which would lay groundwork for a more permanent study at an estimated cost of $60,000. It will be proposed, he said, that the Geological Survey bear half the study cost and the signatory bodies of the Interstate Commission the remainder.

Some progress has been made in plans for the proposed study, Mundie said.

The Land Committee also recommended that television and radio short subjects on silt control be prepared based on the same principle as those which have been shown on pollution control. Some visual aids are available on silt problems created by housing developments and it was suggested these be brought together and joined with other materials which might help publicize the program.

The remainder of the report was devoted to the January meeting of the commission at which a discussion of Public Law 566—the watershed flood protection act—will be held. An FHA representative will be present to discuss revisions of specifications in the housing development program and a discussion is slated on the Fairfax County, Va., soil survey, Mundie said.

In another report, a combined one by the water-recreation-wildlife committees, recommendations are aimed at cleaning up pollution and making the watershed more desirable from a recreation standpoint.

The report was issued by A. H. Anderson, recreation-wildlife committee chairman, and Louis F. Warrick, water committee chairman.

The report is a result of a joint meeting of the two groups at which a panel of representatives from four states bordering the Basin gave reports on pollution and recreation facilities. The panel suggested what can be done to improve conditions in some areas.

It will be recommended that in cooperation with signatory bodies of the commission, a map be prepared showing present use of the whole drainage area and what use it could be put to in the future. This would be based on physical structure of the stream and become what might be called "zoning" the river for various purposes such as swimming, other recreation, hunting and the like.

The committees recommended that 80 sampling stations — of which only about half are active —be relocated and their reporting methods standardized. These stations take water samples and tests will determine to what use the water can be employed.

Stitcher, Post Ball Fields Are Reseeded

C. Eugene Mason, director of the Cumberland Recreation Department, said yesterday that Stitcher Field and the baseball grounds at Post playground have been reseeded and fertilized in preparation for next year's activities.

On Thursday members of the maintenance crew of the department finished reseeding the field at Post Playground. During the week the crew reseeded and fertilized Stitcher Field to produce a better cover of grass.

Stitcher Field was first seeded about two years ago. About five years ago Post field was seeded. Better playing conditions are expected to result from the reseeding program, he said.

Signs have been posted and the seeded areas have been marked off, according to Mr. Mason, who is asking cooperation of local residents to give the grass a chance to grow.

The maintenance crew of the department cooperated with the Cumberland Water Department in placing a water tap at the field site in order that it can be sprinkled during the summer months.

Firing The Embers Of Resentment

To what depth the inhibitions accepted by a military commander reach is likely to become a foremost subject of debate in Washington's Pentagon and elsewhere for years to come. It is already becoming one of the leading squabbles in a seemingly endless series of verbal free-for-alls emanating from the military division of the Executive Branch of the U. S. government.

Secretary of Defense McElroy, certainly the top level American official most besieged by intra-agency friction, may have thought he settled the question of propriety in public statements by his underlings by outlawing such pronouncements, but he should be aware by now that his ban has merely fired the embers of resentment over suppression into full blaze.

A top flight Air Force officer, Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command, is the latest pawn in the game of military censorship. General Power wrote a book many months ago with the approval of the Air Force. He wrote it at his own expense and submitted it to the Defense Department last April for security clearance — a censorship required of all military writers. After a few changes, the book passed security clearance but not McElroy.

McElroy ruled that it was "inappropriate for a commander of a major command to author a book concerning his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command."

This would seem to leave the defense chief with a positive basis upon which to silence internal critics, but it probably in itself will create a new batch of discontentment for the Secretary to contend with during his remaining year in office.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Warm World

If one listens to Khrushchev, nobody is interested in anything but war, making munitions, reaching the Moon and such bizarre and tragic activities. Actually, most people go about their own business, in this country as in his, hardly giving a thought to such great events as his visit to this country. We do not drop dead at the sight of our own great men, much less at the sight of foreigners, and if Khrushchev is disappointed that our crowds do not cheer him, let him ponder what is there to cheer about?

The other day, perhaps to forget Khrushchev and to return to normal living, I dropped in to see my old friend, Fritz Kreisler, the violinist who brought such happiness to a gayer world when one did not worry too much about wars and politicians and such. Fritz does not see and his hearing is bad but his humor is sustained and his interest in men and events everlasting. And there is his wife, Harriet, who on October 6, will be a cantankerous 90. That is really the way to reach 90, telling all and sundry the full and unmitigated truth about themselves and the world. The Kreislers have been married 58 years and still enjoy each other's company.

Well, it was a little foray into a wholesome world, into something clean and pure and away from the ugliness of that speech before the United Nations which was too smart, too cute, too broad, too useless.

One of the curiosities of the Khrushchev visit occurred at the Mayor's luncheon in New York. Those luncheons are usually opened by prayer and I have often stood there to listen to Cardinal Spellman pray for the audience or for the great man in whose honor the luncheon was given. Other clergymen of various faiths have given the invocation at such luncheons. However, on this occasion, the prayer was omitted.

Perhaps those who arranged the luncheon felt that it would offend Khrushchev, who is an atheist, if anyone prayed in his presence. But then, it might have offended many Americans not to open the luncheon with prayer. Or it is possible that the Russians asked that prayer be omitted. I could inquire and would be told.

It is the guest who, in an orderly society, conforms to the habits of the host and it is a poor host, indeed, who casts aside his household gods.

Besides, Khrushchev, in his speeches, is always using the word, God, often in vain, of course. But then it comes out, just as his little peasant stories and homilies come out, because that is the way he was brought up when he was a little boy. "Bog"—it is a word that creeps into Khrushchev's vocabulary. He does not believe in a "Bog"—not he, because he is a scientific socialist, an atheist, a pragmatist who takes his ideas from that trinity, Marx, Engels, Lenin.

But the word, "Bog," meaningful or meaningless to Khrushchev, does, somehow, push itself into his language and the poor devil, he can be expelled from the Party for such an impropriety.

The first time I heard him say it, I thought I was mistaken, for Communists pride themselves on having forsaken the stupidities of the past. But it is amazing how the past does hold on to us. I read a piece by J. P. Stafford who is an educator. He objects to what he calls the "woodshed philosophy of pioneer days," that is, the paddling of a young fellow across the buttocks until he recognizes at an early age, that crime does not pay. Stafford says, concerning juvenile delinquents:

"What we need is not to recall all the timeworn arguments, but to get to a co-operative, imaginative approach based on research, investigation, and the intelligent leadership of social and religious groups and government agencies."

We have research, investigation, intelligent leadership, statistics, publications, sociologists and social workers but juvenile crime is on the increase. Russia's Government Has Made Important Changes In 40 Years

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his eldest grandson in Los Angeles.)

Washington, D. C.
September 25, 1959

Dear Drew:

Your mother tells me that you went out to Disneyland for your birthday. I don't know whether she told you, but on the same day you were there, the head of the Russian government, Mr. Khrushchev, was in Los Angeles and wanted to go to Disneyland but couldn't go. So you were ahead of him.

He wanted to go to Disneyland because his children went there, and that's one reason I like to go. It's also the reason why Harry Truman likes to go. You may remember that the last time I took you to Disneyland we saw Harry Truman there and I introduced you to him. I told him that I was welcoming him into the grandfathers' club. His grandchildren aren't big enough to go to Disneyland yet, but I'm sure he is looking forward to the day when he can take them; because grandfathers are all boys at heart and like to do the things we did when we were your age.

I'm sure that that is why Mr. Khrushchev wanted to go to Disneyland on the day of your birthday and was very irritated when he could not go. He wanted to be young again too.

The reason he could not go was because the Los Angeles police were afraid to have him go. There was a big crowd in Disneyland that Saturday and the police were afraid someone might hurt Mr. Khrushchev. It seems too bad that any visitor to this country can't go to Disneyland and be perfectly safe. But during a long period of years people have learned to think bad things about Russia and say bad things about Russia, so the head of the Russian government is not entirely safe when he goes around among the American people.

Unfortunately, Russia deserved many of the bad things people thought about her and said about her. We hope and believe Russia is changing, but it's difficult to be exactly sure.

DP In Siberia

I was in Russia a good many years ago as a young newspaperman. This was shortly after the First World War, and I went up through Siberia to the headquarters of the Russian army at a city called Khabarovsk. One evening I went out to the railroad yards to try to find the head of the Russian army and ask him if I could go with him to Vladivostok where I wanted to take a ship back to Japan. The Russian army was pushing the Japanese army out of Siberia and it would have been difficult for me to cross the lines between the two armies, so I thought I could go with the Russian army instead.

It was dark in the railroad yards and I stumbled over quite a few soldiers lying along the tracks. However, they were very friendly and directed me to the private railroad car of their commander.

He let me in and was also quite friendly. His name was Teronim Uborievic. He was a fairly young cavalry officer and, although a general, he did not wear any general's stars on his shoulders or any other insignia. He explained that in the new Soviet army they were trying to get rid of rank and have the generals just the same as privates. You see, there had been a great deal of bitterness during the war, against the general who served under the Czar but who deserted their men in battle. So in the new Soviet army everything was supposed to be equal.

General Uborievic wanted to know all about America and what we thought of the Russian revolution which had kicked the Czar out. He also cooked me some scrambled eggs on a stove in his car, but he wouldn't let me go with him down to the sea. I had to go all the way around by river boat to China and then by the Trans-Siberian Railway to Vladivostok. However, that's another story.

Red General Is Shot

The main story now is that some years later General Uborievic was shot. He was killed in a purge of Soviet military leaders which included the chief of staff. This was just 14 years after I had eaten scrambled eggs with the general in the railroad yards at Khabarovsk when he commanded the entire Red army for eastern Siberia.

The top generals of the Red Army were shot because Stalin, who ruled Russia, was suspicious of anyone who got too much power. So he shot them, frequently without trial. This was what the Czar had done before him, and Stalin did the same thing.

This habit of killing people is why so many Americans are suspicious and worried about Russia. It's also why the Los Angeles police wouldn't let Mr. Khrushchev go to Disneyland. However, the important fact is that people aren't shot in Russia any more.

There have been changes in the Russian government, but the men who have been removed from office are still alive and have other jobs. This is more the way we do things in the United States. We change our government leaders every four years or eight years. But the people who leave government can live perfectly happily and are not shot. It looks as if Russia has now adopted this same system of peaceful change.

The fact that Mr. Khrushchev is over here wanting to understand us better and even wanting to go to Disneyland the way other grandfathers do, to me is a very important step. It's especially important because war has become so terrible these days that we have to work very hard at peace. And if Mr. Khrushchev is willing to work as hard at peace as he is talking about it, then your birthday at Disneyland will mark a great milestone in history. It may start a new understanding between the American and Russian people.

I hope you had a lot of fun at Disneyland and that I can come to Los Angeles and go with you again soon. I know you will be delighted to have an excuse to go and take

Camp David Outlook: Some Cautious Optimism

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

When President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took their lonely decision to invite Nikita S. Khrushchev to this country, they hoped that the visit would accomplish two things. The conversations at Camp David this weekend will give the answer to their hopes. What then is the Camp David outlook?

To find means of solving the most immediately critical and dangerous problems, above all the Berlin problem —

To convince Khrushchev at the same time that the United States is the very opposite of weak of arm and weak of will —

These were the two things hoped for. As can be seen, they were and are intimately linked together. The reason for the Berlin crisis, and for the crisis in Laos, too, is quite simply the conviction of the world Communist leadership that this country is about ready to be pushed around.

Furthermore, if Khrushchev is not now persuaded that this country cannot be pushed around, it is folly to expect any give in his attitude on Berlin, or anything more than a lull in the attack on Laos. In short, Khrushchev's estimate of America's strength and America's resoluteness is the key to the immediate future.

The highest American policymakers, like Secretary of State Herter, were much too sophisticated to expect Khrushchev's opinions about the naked military balance of power to be altered by his American visit. By Khrushchev's own account, the Soviet leader devotes an astonishing amount of time to study of this country. He has proven by quotation, he endlessly reads speeches by leading men, newspaper articles and editorials, and the like. In truth, an important U.S. Senator's chance of having his speech read by Khrushchev is plainly better than his chance of being read by the President of the United States.

Beyond doubt, however, the Soviet intelligence reports on American military resources and capabilities are what Khrushchev studies more closely than anything else. Therefore Khrushchev's ideas about our missile program were certainly not changed by a glimpse through his train window at two Atlas missiles on their gantries at Vandenberg Air Force Base. His purely military estimates would not have been changed, in fact, if he had been invited to the Offut Field headquarters of the Strategic Air Command for the full briefing reserved for VIPs cleared for top secret.

But unless the balance of power is completely out of whack —which is not yet the case— purely military estimates are meaningless without accompanying moral estimates. For example, moral factors make little Israel a very formidable force indeed, and other countries many times the size of Israel are negligible forces, for want of Israel's grim courage and iron unity in the face of her foes. The American policy-makers therefore hoped to improve Khrushchev's estimate of the moral factors in this country.

On this point, one can already be cautiously optimistic. With every appearance of conviction, Khrushchev used to insist both in public and in private—to W. Averell Harriman, for instance—that the American people did not support the American government's foreign policy. In San Francisco, he came close to admitting that he had changed his view on this point. His guide, the astute Cabot Lodge Jr., has reported to Washington that he thinks the change of view is real.

Yet this is only part of the cure. Even if Khrushchev has now concluded that the government and people are united, he may still think that the government itself is basically feeble and irresolute. He may still believe, in other words, that President Eisenhower has only been talking tough about such problems as Berlin, but will back down and give in when the going gets really rough. It is highly likely that Khrushchev holds this belief, because of the Eisenhower administration's persistent neglect of the purely military power balance.

Therefore the second part of Khrushchev's cure can only take place at Camp David. The President's view of the military power balance is utterly different from Khrushchev's view and the view of many of the most far-seeing American experts. Otherwise, Eisenhower would not have neglected the power balance. By the same token, the President also appears to be calmly resolute about Berlin and the other dangerous issues now confronting him.

At Camp David, one can be pretty certain that the President's resolution will be put to a severe test. The test will be a breathless moment, for the negotiators and for the world. But if Khrushchev can be persuaded that the President not only has the country behind him, but also means every word he says, this visit may yet bear good fruits.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

President Eisenhower is moving closer to direct intervention in the steel strike, which now has become the longest in America's industrial history. What's more, once his decision is made he can be expected to crack down on both labor and management with telling force.

Talk in Washington is that the government will move directly if the strike is still going on in October. However, Mr. Eisenhower's call on both sides to bargain uninterruptedly and earnestly indicates his growing impatience with the present lackadaisical course of the negotiations.

There are increasing reports of a serious pinch on American industry resulting from the steel shortage. Even those firms that boasted a three-months supply of the basic metal are beginning to face a period of scrounging and spot shortages in some types of steel.

It will take about 30 days after the strike ends for production to get back to normal. Under those conditions, even should the strike end by October, industry will be unable to resume normal production schedules much before the end of the year.

Reports from administration insiders indicate that it is this lag in resumption of production, plus a further lag in steel distribution to manufacturers, which is causing the President to move toward direct and forceful intervention to bring the strike to an end.

Reactions To Bereavement May Vary Greatly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The loss of a spouse, parent, or child is a shock the majority of bereaved are able to accept. Those who fail to adjust bear their sadness like a cross and in time become so firmly attached to the past they cannot cope with the future.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett has done considerable research in this field and found the immediate reaction to a death in the family varies considerably. Seventy per cent are stunned and bewildered. Approximately 12 to 25 per cent remain calm. An equal number manifest inappropriate responses, including confusion, anger, paralyzing anxiety, or hysterical crying. This immediate impact is brief and many pull themselves together within an hour or two.

The period of recoil follows: The individual becomes aware of what has happened and the future implications. This is the time for the new widow to talk and ventilate her feelings about the dead.

She needs to cry and talk of the past, including unpleasant as well as pleasant aspects. This attitude is not always accepted in our society; we are expected to keep a stiff upper lip. But it is better to release the safety valve at this time than to let steam accumulate that may blow up at a later date.

It is normal to be disturbed at this time, develop irrational attitudes, feelings of guilt, hostile and negative reactions, and to be preoccupied with the image of the deceased. There is no advantage in trying to be any different or to run away from it all.

The most important factor in adjusting is to develop the feeling that this phase is a bridge that must be crossed to reach reality. This period is of variable length and may last from seven to ten days. Thereafter, the bereaved must utilize the social forces to reconstruct a new way of living. Medical care may be needed for dependent, self-pitying individuals who cannot recover from the loss.

POTATOES FATTENING?

Mrs. G. writes: Are potatoes allowed on a reducing diet?

REPLY

Yes. An average sized potato contains 85 to 100 calories and this vegetable provides many nutritive substances. Much depends on the cooking method and what is put on them. French fried, hashed brown, and American pan fried potatoes are richer than baked or boiled, because of the added fat. On the other hand, most persons add butter, sour cream sauce, chopped bacon or gravy to baked, broiled or mashed potatoes and this is where the calories mount up.

CAN'T TAN

Mrs. E. P. writes: I have just returned from a three week vacation, where I spent every afternoon in the sun and used suntan products. But I didn't get the least bit tan. Can you tell me why?

REPLY

Suntan products screen out the rays of the sun and slow up the tanning process. They help avoid burning but are not tan producers. The ability to tan depends upon how much pigment the skin is able to muster when exposed to ultraviolet. This varies considerably in different persons.

DIGESTION TIME

C. T. writes: How long does it take for a meal to pass through the intestinal tract?

REPLY

Thirty to forty hours, depending upon the type of food and the motility of the stomach and intestines.

GALLSTONE HARBORER

R. B. writes: How does a person with gallstones feel?

REPLY

Normal, most of the time. Indigestion and pain are the most common symptoms. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on gallstones.

WE HAVE MANY GLANDS

J. L. writes: Please explain the cause of glands not working properly.

REPLY

Which ones? Age is as safe an answer as any.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett-Cerf

The new young preacher slaved over his first sermon, and marched off to his country church with high hopes. But only one lone man turned up to hear him. "What am I supposed to do now?" inquired the crestfallen preacher.

"I'm just a simple cowhand," responded the lone parishioner, "but if I took a load of hay to pasture and only one cow showed up, I sure would feed her."

So the preacher went through with his long sermon just as though the church was packed. At its end he asked his single listener, "How did I do?"

"Well," was the answer, "like I said, I'm only a cowhand, but if I took a load of hay to a herd of cows and only one showed up — I sure wouldn't give her the whole load!"

Things were always popping in Herb Shriner's old home town. "There wasn't too much excitement weekdays," he recalls, "but (oh boy!) the times we had Saturday nights watching haircuts!"

Causes Of Inflation

By Leslie Gould

The Federal Reserve is tackling the inflation as if it were chiefly one of credit, and saying little or nothing about the real causes — the wage-price spiral and the deficit spending by governments.

As a result money is tight-excessively tight. It looks as though it is going to get tighter unless the steel strike extends beyond October and business slackens.

The tight money policy is pushing up the costs of hiring money-not only on business borrowers and on individuals, including home buyers, but on the U.S. Treasury. The Treasury is over a barrel with Congressional refusal to lift the ceiling on long term interest rates. The ceiling is 4¼ per cent and the Treasury is paying in excess of that for short term borrowing.

The Federal Reserve is doing what it should have done in late 1928 and early 1929. Then it was a credit inflation and too much money was going into stock market speculation.

The situation today and 1929 are not comparable. The wage-price spiral and Government spending were of minor if any importance in the 1929 inflation.

Take the matter of stock market credit. In 1929 at the top of the boom, the value of all listed shares on the N. Y. Stock Exchange was under $90 billion — $89,668,000,000 to be exact.

The amount of credit being used to carry stock was $8½ billion — roughly 10 per cent.

Today the listed value of all shares on the Stock Exchange is under $300 billion. It was $304 ½ billion at the end of August.

The amount of credit being used to carry securities is around $4 ½ billion, but this is reduced by about $1 ½ billion in free credit balances of brokerage house customers.

This is about 1 per cent of the total value of all listed shares against 10 per cent in 1929.

If the same ratio of credit to values prevailed today as in 1929, the total would be $30 billion. That is a long way from the present total.

There is, though, additional credit used in the stock market that is not reflected in the $4½ billion reported total. These are the so-called non-purpose loans with securities as collateral. These are loans made by banks on securities for purposes other than speculation.

There are no figures available on the non-purpose loans, but a check with banks will probably show that such loans diverted improperly for speculation are only a fraction of the reported loans to brokers.

Even if they were $3 billion—which is improbable—the total credit supporting speculation in stocks would only be 2 per cent of the value of all Stock Exchange listed shares. In dollars, the total would be below the 1929 figure.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

There's been a lot of group praying over the Khrushchev visit. It's hard to tell whether the prayers are being answered or ignored.

People don't seem inclined to cheer when Khrushchev goes by. Probably they aren't sure whether they're being looked at or assayed.

The Ike-Khrushchev talks will touch upon world trouble spots. Anyhow, Khrushchev's side has been touching upon them.

Mr. K. should know the U.S. government is trustworthy. Any government that can borrow two hundred and eighty-nine billion dollars must be.

The dental convention refused to get out of the Waldorf to make way for a Khrushchev luncheon. As usual, the dentists weren't hurt a bit.

Prof. Fred T. Haddock of the University of Michigan says there's no proof the Russians hit the moon with their rocket. It all sounds fishy to Haddock.

Turkey was served to Khrushchev at the White House. He would have preferred West Germany.

Soviet reporters covering the Khrushchev visit wrote that he was received with warmth by the American people. Even with heat by some.

Radio Moscow broadcast that "plain people think" the Khrushchev "visit will lead to the liquidation of the cold war and its consequences." Plain and simple people, that is.

Firing The Embers Of Resentment

To what depth the inhibitions accepted by a military commander reach is likely to become a foremost subject of debate in Washington's Pentagon and elsewhere for years to come. It is already becoming one of the leading squabbles in a seemingly endless series of verbal free-for-alls emanating from the military division of the Executive Branch of the U. S. government.

Secretary of Defense McElroy, certainly the top level American official most besieged by intra-agency friction, may have thought he settled the question of propriety in public statements by his underlings by outlawing such pronouncements, but he should be aware by now that his ban has merely fired the embers of resentment over suppression into full blaze.

A top flight Air Force officer, Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command, is the latest pawn in the game of military censorship. General Power wrote a book many months ago with the approval of the Air Force. He wrote it at his own expense and submitted it to the Defense Department last April for security clearance — a censorship required of all military writers. After a few changes, the book passed security clearance but not McElroy.

McElroy ruled that it was "inappropriate for a commander of a major command to author a book concerning his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command."

This would seem to leave the defense chief with a positive basis upon which to silence internal critics, but it probably in itself will create a new batch of discontentment for the Secretary to contend with during his remaining year in office.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Warm World

If one listens to Khrushchev, nobody is interested in anything but war, making munitions, reaching the Moon and such bizarre and tragic activities. Actually, most people go about their own business, in this country as in his, hardly giving a thought to such great events as his visit to this country. We do not drop dead at the sight of our own great men, much less at the sight of foreigners, and if Khrushchev is disappointed that our crowds do not cheer him, let him ponder what is there to cheer about?

The other day, perhaps to forget Khrushchev and to return to normal living, I dropped in to see my old friend, Fritz Kreisler, the violinist who brought such happiness to a gayer world when one did not worry too much about wars and politicians and such. Fritz does not see and his hearing is bad but his humor is sustained and his interest in men and events everlasting. And there is his wife, Harriet, who on October 6, will be a cantankerous 90. That is really the way to reach 90, telling all and sundry the full and unmitigated truth about themselves and the world. The Kreislers have been married 58 years and still enjoy each other's company.

Well, it was a little foray into a wholesome world, into something clean and pure and away from the ugliness of that speech before the United Nations which was too smart, too cute, too broad, too useless.

One of the curiosities of the Khrushchev visit occurred at the Mayor's luncheon in New York. Those luncheons are usually opened by prayer and I have often stood there to listen to Cardinal Spellman pray for the audience or for the great man in whose honor the luncheon was given. Other clergymen of various faiths have given the invocation at such luncheons. However, on this occasion, the prayer was omitted.

Perhaps those who arranged the luncheon felt that it would offend Khrushchev, who is an atheist, if anyone prayed in his presence. But then, it might have offended many Americans not to open the luncheon with prayer. Or it is possible that the Russians asked that prayer be omitted. I could inquire and would be told.

It is the guest who, in an orderly society, conforms to the habits of the host and it is a poor host, indeed, who casts aside his household gods.

Besides, Khrushchev, in his speeches, is always using the word, God, often in vain, of course. But then it comes out, just as his little peasant stories and homilies come out, because that is the way he was brought up when he was a little boy. "Bog"—it is a word that creeps into Khrushchev's vocabulary. He does not believe in a "Bog"—not he, because he is a scientific socialist, an atheist, a pragmatist who takes his ideas from that trinity, Marx, Engels, Lenin.

But the word, "Bog," meaningful or meaningless to Khrushchev, does, somehow, push itself into his language and the poor devil, he can be expelled from the Party for such an impropriety.

The first time I heard him say it, I thought I was mistaken, for Communists pride themselves on having forsaken the stupidities of the past. But it is amazing how the past does hold on to us. I read a piece by J. P. Stafford who is an educator. He objects to what he calls the "woodshed philosophy of pioneer days," that is, the paddling of a young fellow across the buttocks until he recognizes at an early age, that crime does not pay. Stafford says, concerning juvenile delinquents:

"What we need is not to recall all the timeworn arguments, but to get to a co-operative, imaginative approach based on research, investigation, and the intelligent leadership of social and religious groups and government agencies."

We have research, investigation, intelligent leadership, statistics, publications, sociologists and social workers but juvenile crime is on the increase. It is like a fellow I know who received a telephone call from an alcoholic who said that he did not feel so good. My friend asked him how much the headache cost him. In truth, an important U.S. Senator's chance of having his speech read by Khrushchev is plainly better than his chance of being read by the President of the United States.

Beyond doubt, however, the Soviet intelligence reports on American military resources and capabilities are what Khrushchev studies more closely than anything else. Therefore Khrushchev's ideas about our missile program were certainly not changed by a glimpse through his train window at two Atlas missiles on their gantries at Vandenberg Air Force Base. His purely military estimates would not have been changed, in fact, if he had been invited to the Offut Field headquarters of the Strategic Air Command for the full briefing reserved for VIPs cleared for top secret.

But unless the balance of power is completely out of whack —which is not yet the case— purely military estimates are meaningless without accompanying moral estimates. For example, moral factors make little Israel a very formidable force indeed, and other countries many times the size of Israel are negligible forces, for want of Israel's grim courage and iron unity in the face of her foes. The American policy-makers therefore hoped to improve Khrushchev's estimate of the moral factors in this country.

On this point, one can already be cautiously optimistic. With every appearance of conviction, Khrushchev used to insist both in public and in private—to W. Averell Harriman, for instance— that the American people did not support the American government's foreign policy. In San Francisco, he came close to admitting that he had changed his view on this point. His guide, the astute Cabot Lodge Jr., has reported to Washington that he thinks the change of view is real.

Yet this is only part of the cure. Even if Khrushchev has now concluded that the government and people are united, he may still think that the government itself is basically feeble and irresolute. He may still believe, in other words, that President Eisenhower has only been talking tough about such problems as Berlin, but will back down and give in when the going gets really rough. It is highly likely that Khrushchev holds this belief, because of the Eisenhower administration's persistent neglect of the purely military power balance.

Therefore the second part of Khrushchev's cure can only take place at Camp David. The President's view of the military power balance is utterly different from Khrushchev's view and the view of many of the most far-seeing American experts. Otherwise, Eisenhower would not have neglected the power balance. By the same token, the President also appears to be calmly resolute about Berlin and the other dangerous issues now confronting him.

At Camp David, one can be pretty certain that the President's resolution will be put to a severe test. The test will be a breathless moment, for the negotiators and for the world. But if Khrushchev can be persuaded that the President not only has the country behind him, but also means every word he says, this visit may yet bear good fruits.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

President Eisenhower is moving closer to direct intervention in the steel strike, which now has become the longest in America's industrial history. What's more, once his decision is made he can be expected to crack down on both labor and management with telling force.

Talk in Washington is that the government will move directly if the strike is still going on in October. However, Mr. Eisenhower's call on both sides to bargain uninterruptedly and earnestly indicates his growing impatience with the present lackadaisical course of the negotiations.

There are increasing reports of a serious pinch on American industry resulting from the steel shortage. Even those firms that boasted a three-months supply of the basic metal are beginning to face a period of scrounging and spot shortages in some types of steel.

It will take about 30 days after the strike ends for production to get back to normal. Under those conditions, even should the strike end by October, industry will be unable to resume normal production schedules much before the end of the year.

Reports from administration insiders indicate that it is this lag in resumption of production, plus a further lag in steel distribution to manufacturers, which is causing the President to move toward direct and forceful intervention to bring the strike to an end.

Causes Of Inflation

By Leslie Gould

The Federal Reserve is tackling the inflation as if it were chiefly one of credit, and saying little or nothing about the real causes — the wage-price spiral and the deficit spending by governments.

As a result money is tight-excessively tight. It looks as though it is going to get tighter unless the steel strike extends beyond October and business slackens.

The tight money policy is pushing up the costs of hiring money-not only on business borrowers and on individuals, including home buyers, but on the U.S. Treasury. The Treasury is over a barrel with Congerssional refusal to lift the ceiling on long term interest rates. The ceiling is 4¼ per cent and the Treasury is paying in excess of that for short term borrowing.

The Federal Reserve is doing what it should have done in late 1928 and early 1929. Then it was a credit inflation and too much money was going into stock market speculation.

The situation today and 1929 are not comparable. The wage-price spiral and Government spending were of minor if any importance in the 1929 inflation.

Take the matter of stock market credit. In 1929 at the top of the boom, the value of all listed shares on the N. Y. Stock Exchange was under $90 billion — $89,668,000,000 to be exact.

The amount of credit being used to carry stock was $8½ billion — roughly 10 per cent.

Today the listed value of all shares on the Stock Exchange is under $300 billion. It was $304 ½ billion at the end of August.

The amount of credit being used to carry securities is around $4 ½ billion, but this is reduced by about $1 ½ billion in free credit balances of brokerage house customers.

This is about 1 per cent of the total value of all listed shares against 10 per cent in 1929.

If the same ratio of credit to values prevailed today as in 1929, the total would be $30 billion. That is a long way from the present total.

There is, though, additional credit used in the stock market that is not reflected in the $4½ billion reported total. These are the so-called non-purpose loans with securities as collateral. These are loans made by banks on securities for purposes other than speculation.

There are no figures available on the non-purpose loans, but a check with banks will probably show that such loans diverted improperly for speculation are only a fraction of the reported loans to brokers.

Even if they were $3 billion—which is improbable—the total credit supporting speculation in stocks would only be 2 per cent of the value of all Stock Exchange listed shares. In dollars, the total would still be below the 1929 figure.

Reactions To Bereavement May Vary Greatly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The loss of a spouse, parent, or child is a shock the majority of bereaved are able to accept. Those who fail to adjust bear their sadness like a cross and in time become so firmly attached to the past they cannot cope with the future.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett has done considerable research in this field and found the immediate reaction to a death in the family varies considerably. Seventy per cent are stunned and bewildered. Approximately 12 to 25 per cent remain calm. An equal number manifest inappropriate responses, including confusion, anger, paralyzing anxiety, or hysterical crying. This immediate impact is brief and many pull themselves together within an hour or two.

The period of recoil follows: The individual becomes aware of what has happened and the future implications. This is the time for the new widow to talk and ventilate her feelings about the dead.

She needs to cry and talk of the past, including unpleasant as well as pleasant aspects. This attitude is not always accepted in our society; we are expected to keep a stiff upper lip. But it is better to release the safety valve at this time than to let steam accumulate that may blow up at a later date.

It is normal to be disturbed at this time, develop irrational attitudes, feelings of guilt, hostile and negative reactions, and to be preoccupied with the image of the deceased. There is no advantage in trying to be any different or to run away from it all.

The most important factor in adjusting is to develop the feeling that this phase is a bridge that must be crossed to reach reality. This period is of variable length and may last from seven to ten days. Thereafter, the bereaved must utilize the social forces to reconstruct a new way of living. Medical care may be needed for dependent, self-pitying individuals who cannot recover from the loss.

POTATOES FATTENING?

Mrs. G. writes: Are potatoes allowed on a reducing diet?

REPLY

Yes. An average sized potato contains 85 to 100 calories and this vegetable provides many nutritive substances. Much depends on the cooking method and what is put on them. French fried, hashed brown, and American pan fried potatoes are richer than baked or boiled, because of the added fat. On the other hand, most persons add butter, sour cream sauce, chopped bacon or gravy to baked, broiled or mashed potatoes and this is where the calories mount up.

CAN'T TAN

Mrs. E. P. writes: I have just returned from a three week vacation, where I spent every afternoon in the sun and used suntan products. But I didn't get the least bit tan. Can you tell me why?

REPLY

Suntan products screen out the rays of the sun and slow up the tanning process. They help avoid burning but are not tan producers. The ability to tan depends upon how much pigment the skin is able to muster when exposed to ultraviolet. This varies considerably in different persons.

DIGESTION TIME

C. T. writes: How long does it take for a meal to pass through the intestinal tract?

REPLY

Thirty to forty hours, depending upon the type of food and the motility of the stomach and intestines.

GALLSTONE HARBORER

R. B. writes: How does a person with gallstones feel?

REPLY

Normal, most of the time. Indigestion and pain are the most common symptoms. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on gallstones.

WE HAVE MANY GLANDS

J. L. writes: Please explain the cause of glands not working properly.

REPLY

Which ones? Age is as safe an answer as any.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett-Cerf

The new young preacher slaved over his first sermon, and marched off to his country church with high hopes. But only one lone man turned up to hear him. "What am I supposed to do now?" inquired the crestfallen preacher.

"I'm just a simple cowhand," responded the lone parishioner, "but if I took a load of hay to pasture and only one cow showed up, I sure would feed her."

So the preacher went through with his long sermon just as though the church was packed. At its end he asked his single listener, "How did I do?"

"Well," was the answer, "like I said, I'm only a cowhand, but if I took a load of hay to a herd of cows and only one showed up — I sure wouldn't give her the whole load!"

Things were always popping in Herb Shriner's old home town. "There wasn't too much excitement weekdays," he recalls, "but (oh boy!) the times we had Saturday nights watching haircuts!"

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

There's been a lot of group praying over the Khrushchev visit. It's hard to tell whether the prayers are being answered or ignored.

People don't seem inclined to cheer when Khrushchev goes by. Probably they aren't sure whether they're being looked at or assayed.

The Ike-Khrushchev talks will touch upon world trouble spots. Anyhow, Khrushchev's side has been touching upon them.

Mr. K. should know the U.S. government is trustworthy. Any government that can borrow two hundred and eighty-nine billion dollars must be.

The dental convention refused to get out of the Waldorf to make way for a Khrushchev luncheon. As usual, the dentists weren't hurt a bit.

Prof. Fred T. Haddock of the University of Michigan says there's no proof the Russians hit the moon with their rocket. It all sounds fishy to Haddock.

Turkey was served to Khrushchev at the White House. He would have preferred West Germany.

Soviet reporters covering the Khrushchev visit wrote that he was received with warmth by the American people. Even with heat by some.

Radio Moscow broadcast that "plain people think" the Khrushchev "visit will lead to the liquidation of the cold war and its consequences." Plain and simple people, that is.

By TED TROXELL

A pitifully weak Martinsburg team proved no match for Fort Hill last night, falling victim to Coach Charlie Lattimer's Sentinels by a 44-0 score in a ragged, penalty-riddled exhibition at the local stadium.

The Bulldogs didn't even bare their teeth during the contest. The Fort Hill 42-yard line was their deepest point of penetration into enemy territory, and they registered only two first downs all evening, one of these coming as a result of a penalty against the Sentinels.

A crowd of over 3,000 fans, many of whom filed out of the stadium long before the final gun sounded, saw the Red Raiders unveil an effective passing attack which was instrumental in setting up both first half touchdowns.

Making the most of Martinsburg's inept offensive play, the Sentinels capitalized on a pair of breaks to pick up two quick scores in the opening period.

Dinicola Recovers Fumble

On the second play from scrimmage after receiving the opening kickoff, the Bulldogs' Don Lane fumbled into the alert hands of Fort Hill's Joe Dinicola at the Martinsburg 48. Seven plays later, Mike Zembower passed 28 yards to Joe Bearinger for the first Sentinel score. Dave Howser kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

Bearinger also had a big hand in the second TD minutes later when he blocked Tom Thompson's punt on the visitors' 32. Frank Robinson, flashy Sentinel halfback, streaked over from 11 yards out for a 13-0 Fort Hill margin with 3:00 remaining in the first quarter.

Martinsburg managed to keep the Sentinels in check until intermission, although Fort Hill was on the verge of scoring when the half ended, having possession on the Bulldog two-yard line.

Defenses Collapse

A complete collapse on the part of Martinsburg's defense in the second half enabled Fort Hill to score almost at will.

The first scoring action in the third period came on a sustained drive which started on the Fort Hill 48. Robinson, the Sentinels' scoring leader with six touchdowns to his credit in three games, capped this drive when he crashed over from the four midway in the quarter.

Delbert Helmick, with the aid of key blocks by Robinson and Richard Keller, went "all the way" on a 71-yard punt return to give the Sentinels another six-pointer. Keller then recovered a fumble by Johnny Reuter on the Martinsburg 29, and the second offensive unit of Fort Hill went on to add another touchdown, Zembower plowing over from the three.

Bell Runs 53 Yards

A pass interception by Helmick paved the way for Fort Hill's sixth TD, which was scored by husky reserve fullback Bob Shewbridge, and Jerry Bell closed out the scoring activity when he ran back Thompson's punt 53 yards, after having fumbled the ball on the catch. Not a single Martinsburg defender came within tackling range of the Sentinel speedster.

The game was marred by 21 penalties, 16 of them against the local team, which was assessed 115 yards. Numerous other penalties were called but declined, and on several occasions there were infractions called against both teams on the same play, nullifying each other.

Milwaukee Drops Into 2nd Place

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The last place Philadelphia Phillies, fired by Gene Freese's four runs batted in, defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 6-3, Friday night in the rain to knock the defending champions into second place in the frenzied National League pennant chase.

With two games left in the season, the Braves fell one full length behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat the Cubs, 5-4, in 11 innings in nearby Chicago Friday afternoon.

Northwestern And Sooners Tangle Today

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma, its ranks weakened by an attack of food poisoning Thursday night, goes after a red-hot Northwestern football team Saturday as the college football season has its first full Saturday.

The Sooners have 12 players, including five first stringers, on the sick list. Six players, including first team quarterback Bobby Boyd, co-captain and tackle Gilmer Lewis and first string center Jim Davis spent Thursday night in a Chicago hospital and were kept in bed Friday.

Two other starters, co-captain Brewster Hobby and Jimmy Carpenter, both halfbacks, were also stricken but did not require hospitalization.

Coach Bud Wilkinson said he expected all 12 to see action after keeping them under physicians' care Friday with intravenous feeding and complete rest.

The Sooners, ranked second in the Associated Press poll, are banking on fullback Prentice Gautt, who was not one of those affected, to carry their offensive load in the nationally televised game (NBC-TV, 2:30 p.m. EST).

Northwestern, a Big Ten team which matured last year as sophs, will counter with its offensive twins, quarterback Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton.

Louisiana State, top ranked in the first week's Associated Press poll and in the pre-season rankings, plays ninth-ranked Texas Christian Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La. Both were victors in opening tilts last week. LSU put on a second-half drive to beat Rice 26-3 and TCU struggled past Kansas 14-7.

LSU performed before a National TV audience and there were grumblings throughout the week that the Bayou Bengals and their famed three platoons didn't show what was expected after the big build-up. Coach Paul Dietzel thought so too and has warned of severe shakeups if the Tigers don't untrack themselves.

TCU, last year's Southwest Conference champ and a co-favorite with Southern Methodist this year, has big Jack Spikes to lead the attack and tackle Don Floyd to help stop LSU. The Horned Frogs are 10 point underdogs.

Auburn's Tigers, unbeaten in 24 games, meet Tennessee, rated the darkhorse of the Southeastern Conference. Both are SEC title hopefuls, with Auburn relying on a somewhat improved offense to add to its always tough defense.

Flashing a powerful running game, sparked by Bob Gaffney, who accounted for three of his team's six touchdowns, Allegany High School's Campers marked their season's debut in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League by crushing Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High School eleven last night in Hagerstown by the score of 39-20.

North High, co-champion with Fort Hill last season, suffered its second straight league defeat, having dropped the opener to Westminster High's Owls, 21-13.

Score In Every Period

Gaffney registered two of his touchdowns on runs of eight yards each and scored the third six-pointer on a 26-yard sprint. Wayne Shook tallied on a 19-yard run, Gary Mulligan on a one-yard sneak and Stanley Alt on a 20-yard jaunt following a pass interception. "Chuck" Aronholt place-kicked three extra points for the Cumberland team.

Geisbert Stands Out

Dick Geisbert was the "whole show" for North High with three touchdowns to his credit, all on passes from Kenny Ridenour. Geisbert's initial td came as the result of a 21-yard pass play. He scored again on a 4-yard pass play and the third time he tallied on an aerial play that covered 82 yards. On that particular play Ridenour passed 20 yards and Geisbert ran 62. Bob Caesar made both of North's extra points on placements.

Allegany failed to complete a pass in five tries but rolled up a total of 328 net yards on the ground. The Hubs connected 7 times in 16 tries through the air for 157 yards and picked up 108 yards in running plays.

Billy Hunter Stops Miteff In 7th Round

Springs Surprise, Only 925 See Bout

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Hunter of Detroit scored a surprise technical knockout over bull-like Alex Miteff Friday night in a bloody televised 10-round heavyweight fight.

The lanky Hunter opened cuts under the Argentine's eyes and on Miteff's cheek in a fierce fourth round.

It was the first fight on national television for Hunter, who was taken over a year ago by George Gainford, the manager of Sugar Ray Robinson.

Hunter, who closely resembles Robinson, was leading 4-2-1 on the cards of Abraham and Judge Dick Fazio and Ed Nowakowski when the fight was stopped. The AP saw it 4-3 for Hunter.

Boston Trims Senators, 10-4

BOSTON (AP)—Boston jumped on seven Washington pitchers for 13 hits and a 10-4 victory Friday night, moving the Red Sox into sole possession of fifth place and dropping Baltimore into sixth.

The Red Sox bunched their scoring into two big innings, five in the fourth and three in the sixth. All the sixth inning runs came in when Senator center fielder Bob Allison dropped a bases-loaded fly ball.

Pete Runnels lashed a two-run double off the Red Sox' bullpen for the big hit in Boston's fourth inning explosion that wiped out a 4-1 Washington lead.

Berlin Plays LaSalle Here Tonight

Glenville Meets Cats At Keyser

Charles Town Hosts Vikings; Keyser JV To Tackle Northern

LaSalle High School's Explorers will make another try to break into the win column for the first time this season when they tackle the gridders of Berlin-Brothersvalley Joint High School of Berlin, Pa., tonight at 8 o'clock at the local stadium.

Berlin with a new coach in the person of Anthony Cugini, formerly of Johnstown Catholic High School, battle Turkeyfoot of Confluence to a 12-12 draw and then lost to Forbes High, 14-6, in their first two outings of the current campaign.

LaSalle lost its opener to Fort Hill High School, 39-6, and last week dropped an 18-13 decision to the St. Francis High School Trojans at Morgantown, W. Va. Like Berlin, LaSalle also has a new head coach this season in Don Harden, who served as assistant under Norman F. Geatz, Jr., who gave up the reins at the close of the 1958 campaign.

Berlin and LaSalle will be meeting for the fourth time on the gridiron. The Pennsylvanians have yet to score on the Explorers, having suffered 32-0, 27-0 and 19-0 defeats in previous engagements.

The 1959 edition of Potomac State College teams will make its debut today when the Catamounts of Coach Dana "Horse" Lough tackles the Glenville Pioneers in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference game at 2 p. m., (EDT) at Stayman Field, Keyser.

In other action today Petersburg High's Vikings play Dick Harmison's Charles Town Panthers at Charles Town, Northern High's Huskies host the Keyser High junior varsity, Frederick plays at Annapolis and Howard County High of Ellicott City tackles South Hagerstown's Rebels in a night game in the Hub City.

Cleveland Cops Pair From K.C.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Elmer Valo's two-run pinch single with two out in the ninth inning Friday night gave the Cleveland Indians an 8-7 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and a sweep of a twi-night doubleheader before 29,411 fans. The Tribe, sparked by six rookies, won the opener, 8-2.

Colonials Win Over BU, 18-14

12,000 See Wilt Score Deciding TD

BOSTON (UPI) — An aroused George Washington University football team blew a 10-point first half lead Friday night and had to fight from behind in the fourth quarter for an 18-14 victory over Boston University.

The George Washington Colonials overcame their one-touchdown underdog role with a quick passing drive that produced the winning touchdown with less than four minutes left to play.

Junior halfback John Wilt of Middletown, Pa., plunged the final two yards for the payoff score before 12,000 at Boston University field.

Wilt's off-tackle dive capped a 70-yard seven-play march that included four pass completions by Colonial quarterback Ed Hino, three for 15 yards and the key fourth for 13 yards to the B. U. two. Wilt bucked over from there.

Early in the second period, Wasilewski upped the George Washington lead to 10-0 with a 21-yard field goal.

Terps Battle Texas Tonight

40,000 To Attend Contest At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An imaginative offensive battle shapes up for Saturday night's clash between Texas and Maryland before an estimated 40,000 fans.

"You won't see any gain of three yards up the middle, then a cloud of dust," promised Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Kickoff for the first meeting of the two universities will be at 8 p.m.

Barrelville Seeks Double Crown At Hyndman Sunday

Shoots For 4-Game Playoff Sweep And 19th Straight Win

Barrelville will be out to wrap up the playoff title in the Pen-Mar Baseball League when it plays the Hyndman Merchants in the second game of their best-of-three series Sunday at 2:30 p.m., at Hyndman.

Manager Raymond "Buck" Fiorita's pennant winning club won the series opener last Sunday by the score of 6-0 and will be shooting for its 19th consecutive victory tomorrow. Since June 14 when Barrelville suffered its last defeat at the hands of Salisbury, Bobby Raines has won 10 games, Bobby Dawson, five, and Jesse Markley, three. Raines' overall record is 15-1, Markley 5-1 and Dawson 8-1.

Results of Games

Raines has a winning streak of 14 games and since the playoffs got under way he eliminated Mt. Savage, 2-1 and 5-2, and turned back Hyndman last week. Bob See was the losing pitcher for Hyndman. See, incidentally, is the only Hyndman hurler to beat Barrelville in the five games played by the teams this season. He turned the trick on May 10 in a 6-5 battle at Hyndman. Raines has beaten Hyndman, 5-4 and 6-0. Markley won 4-3 and Bobby Dawson scored an 8-3 decision over the Pennsylvanians.

A victory tomorrow would give Barrelville a sweep of the pennant and playoffs for the fourth time in the eleven-year history of the league. They made the sweep in 1949, 1954 and 1956. Klondyke won the double crown in 1950, Wellersburg in 1952, Keyser Ridge in 1953 and Grantsville in 1955.

If Hyndman Wins

If Hyndman can crack the league's record winning streak tomorrow the series will be extended to the limit of three games on the following Sunday.

Bob See (9-5), Vohn Lehman (3-1), Stan Corley (4-2) and Jim Leydig (3-2) are the pitchers Manager Gene Stair has available.

NFL To Open Race Tonight

Baltimore To Host Detroit On Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Naitonal Football League, a booming business which won friends and influenced people with its Hollywood-defying 1958 championship playoff, opens its 40th season Saturday night with Commissioner Bert Bell promising more of the same.

The first of 72 games which go into the standings start Saturday night with New York, the Eastern Conference champion, playing the Rams at Los Angeles and the Cleveland Browns meeting the Steelers at Pittsburgh.

The league baptism for three new head coaches and two new playing sites will be completed Sunday when the Detroit Lions play the Colts at Baltimore, the Chicago Bears meet the Packers at Green Bay, the Eagles tackle the Forty-Niners at San Francisco, and the Washington Redskins visit the Chicago Cardinals.

The new coaches are Vince Lombardi, Howard (Red) Hickey and Mike Nixon. Lombardi who directed New York's offense the past five seasons, is now head coach and general manager of the Packers. Hickey succeeded Frankie Albert as field boss of the Forty-Niners. Nixon, formerly an assistant on the Washington staff, moved up to the head coaching job when Joe Kuharich quit to coach at Notre Dame.

By TED TROXELL

A pitifully weak Martinsburg team proved no match for Fort Hill last night, falling victim to Coach Charlie Lattimer's Sentinels by a 44-0 score in a ragged, penalty-riddled exhibition at the local stadium.

The Bulldogs didn't even bare their teeth during the contest. The Fort Hill 42-yard line was their deepest point of penetration into enemy territory, and they registered only two first downs all evening, one of these coming as a result of a penalty against the Sentinels.

A crowd of over 3,000 fans, many of whom filed out of the stadium long before the final gun sounded, saw the Red Raiders unveil an effective passing attack which was instrumental in setting up both first half touchdowns.

Making the most of Martinsburg's inept offensive play, the Sentinels capitalized on a pair of breaks to pick up two quick scores in the opening period.

Dinicola Recovers Fumble

On the second play from scrimmage after receiving the opening kickoff, the Bulldogs' Don Lane fumbled into the alert hands of Fort Hill's Joe Dinicola at the Martinsburg 48. Seven plays later, Mike Zembower passed 28 yards to Joe Bearinger for the first Sentinel score. Dave Howser kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

Bearinger also had a big hand in the second TD minutes later when he blocked Tom Thompson's punt on the visitors' 32. Frank Robinson, flashy Sentinel halfback, streaked over from 11 yards out for a 13-0 Fort Hill margin with 3:00 remaining in the first quarter.

Martinsburg managed to keep the Sentinels in check until intermission, although Fort Hill was on the verge of scoring when the half ended, having possession on the Bulldog two-yard line.

Defenses Collapse

A complete collapse on the part of Martinsburg's defense in the second half enabled Fort Hill to score almost at will.

The first scoring action in the third period came on a sustained drive which started on the Fort Hill 48. Robinson, the Sentinels' scoring leader with six touchdowns to his credit in three games, capped this drive when he crashed over from the four midway in the quarter.

Delbert Helmick, with the aid of key blocks by Robinson and Richard Keller, went "all the way" on a 71-yard punt return to give the Sentinels another six-pointer. Keller then recovered a fumble by Johnny Reuter on the Martinsburg 29, and the second offensive unit of Fort Hill went on to add another touchdown, Zembower plowing over from the three.

Bell Runs 53 Yards

A pass interception by Helmick paved the way for Fort Hill's sixth TD, which was scored by husky reserve fullback Bob Shewbridge, and Jerry Bell closed out the scoring activity when he ran back Thompson's punt 53 yards, after having fumbled the ball on the catch. Not a single Martinsburg defender came within tackling range of the Sentinel speedster.

The game was marred by 21 penalties, 16 of them against the local team, which was assessed 115 yards. Numerous other penalties were called but declined, and on several occasions there were infractions called against both teams on the same play, nullifying each other.

Milwaukee Drops Into 2nd Place

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The last place Philadelphia Phillies, fired by Gene Freese's four runs batted in, defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 6-3, Friday night in the rain to knock the defending champions into second place in the frenzied National League pennant chase.

With two games left in the season, the Braves fell one full length behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat the Cubs, 5-4, in 11 innings in nearby Chicago Friday afternoon.

Northwestern And Sooners Tangle Today

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma, its ranks weakened by an attack of food poisoning Thursday night, goes after a red-hot Northwestern football team Saturday as the college football season has its first full Saturday.

The Sooners have 12 players, including five first stringers, on the sick list. Six players, including first team quarterback Bobby Boyd, co-captain and tackle Gilmer Lewis and first string center Jim Davis spent Thursday night in a Chicago hospital and were kept in bed Friday.

Two other starters, co-captain Brewster Hobby and Jimmy Carpenter, both halfbacks, were also stricken but did not require hospitalization.

Coach Bud Wilkinson said he expected all 12 to see action after keeping them under physicians' care Friday with intravenous feeding and complete rest.

The Sooners, ranked second in the Associated Press poll, are banking on fullback Prentice Gautt, who was not one of those affected, to carry their offensive load in the nationally televised game (NBC-TV, 2:30 p.m. EST).

Northwestern, a Big Ten team which matured last year as sophs, will counter with its offensive twins, quarterback Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton.

Louisiana State, top ranked in the first week's Associated Press poll and in the pre-season rankings, plays ninth-ranked Texas Christian Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La. Both were victors in opening tilts last week. LSU put on a second-half drive to beat Rice 26-3 and TCU struggled past Kansas 14-7.

LSU performed before a National TV audience and there were grumblings throughout the week that the Bayou Bengals and their famed three platoons didn't show what was expected after the big build - up. Coach Paul Dietzel thought so too and has warned of severe shakeups if the Tigers don't untrack themselves.

TCU, last year's Southwest Conference champ and a co-favorite with Southern Methodist this year, has big Jack Spikes to lead the attack and tackle Don Floyd to help stop LSU. The Horned Frogs are 10 point underdogs.

Auburn's Tigers, unbeaten in 24 games, meet Tennessee, rated the darkhorse of the Southeastern Conference. Both are SEC title hopefuls, with Auburn relying on a somewhat improved offense to add to its always tough defense.

Flashing a powerful running game, sparked by Bob Gaffney, who accounted for three of his team's six touchdowns, Allegany High School's Campers marked their season's debut in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League by crushing Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High School eleven last night in Hagerstown by the score of 39-20.

North High, co-champion with Fort Hill last season, suffered its second straight league defeat, having dropped the opener to Westminster High's Owls, 21-13.

Score In Every Period

Gaffney registered two of his touchdowns on runs of eight yards each and scored the third six-pointer on a 26-yard sprint. Wayne Shook tallied on a 19-yard run, Gary Mulligan on a one-yard sneak and Stanley Alt on a 20-yard jaunt following a pass interception. "Chuck" Aronholt place-kicked three extra points for the Cumberland team.

Geisbert Stands Out

Dick Geisbert was the "whole show" for North High with three touchdowns to his credit, all on passes from Kenny Ridenour. Geisbert's initial td came as the result of a 21-yard pass play. He scored again on a 4-yard pass play and the third time he tallied on an aerial play that covered 82 yards. On that particular play Ridenour passed 20 yards and Geisbert ran 62. Bob Caesar made both of North's extra points on placements.

Allegany failed to complete a pass in five tries but rolled up a total of 328 net yards on the ground. The Hubs connected 7 times in 16 tries through the air for 157 yards and picked up 108 yards in running plays.

Billy Hunter Stops Miteff In 7th Round

Springs Surprise, Only 925 See Bout

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Hunter of Detroit scored a surprise technical knockout over bull-like Alex Miteff Friday night in a bloody televised 10-round heavyweight fight.

The lanky Hunter opened cuts under the Argentine's eyes and on Miteff's cheek in a fierce fourth round.

It was the first fight on national television for Hunter, who was taken over a year ago by George Gainford, the manager of Sugar Ray Robinson.

Hunter, who closely resembles Robinson, was leading 4-2-1 on the cards of Abraham and Judge Dick Fazio and Ed Nowakowski when the fight was stopped. The AP saw it 4-3 for Hunter.

Boston Trims Senators, 10-4

BOSTON (AP)—Boston jumped on seven Washington pitchers for 13 hits and a 10-4 victory Friday night, moving the Red Sox into sole possession of fifth place and dropping Baltimore into sixth.

The Red Sox bunched their scoring into two big innings, five in the fourth and three in the sixth. All the sixth inning runs came in when Senator center fielder Bob Allison dropped a bases-loaded fly ball.

Pete Runnels lashed a two-run double off the Red Sox' bullpen for the big hit in Boston's fourth inning explosion that wiped out a 4-1 Washington lead.

Berlin Plays LaSalle Here Tonight

Glenville Meets Cats At Keyser

Charles Town Hosts Vikings; Keyser JV To Tackle Northern

LaSalle High School's Explorers will make another try to break into the win column for the first time this season when they tackle the gridders of Berlin-Brothersvalley Joint High School of Berlin, Pa., tonight at 8 o'clock at the local stadium.

Berlin with a new coach in the person of Anthony Cugini, formerly of Johnstown Catholic High School, battle Turkeyfoot of Confluence to a 12-12 draw and then lost to Forbes High, 14-6, in their first two outings of the current campaign.

LaSalle lost its opener to Fort Hill High School, 39-6, and last week dropped an 18-13 decision to the St. Francis High School Trojans at Morgantown, W. Va. Like Berlin, LaSalle also has a new head coach this season in Don Harden, who served as assistant under Norman F. Geatz, Jr., who gave up the reins at the close of the 1958 campaign.

Berlin and LaSalle will be meeting for the fourth time on the gridiron. The Pennsylvanians have yet to score on the Explorers, having suffered 32-0, 27-0 and 19-0 defeats in previous engagements.

The 1959 edition of Potomac State College teams will make its debut today when the Catamounts of Coach Dana "Horse" Lough tackles the Glenville Pioneers in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference game at 2 p. m., (EDT) at Stayman Field, Keyser.

In other action today Petersburg High's Vikings play Dick Harmison's Charles Town Panthers at Charles Town, Northern High's Huskies host the Keyser High junior varsity, Frederick plays at Annapolis and Howard County High of Ellicott City tackles South Hagerstown's Rebels in a night game in the Hub City.

Cleveland Cops Pair From K.C.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Elmer Valo's two-run pinch single with two out in the ninth inning Friday night gave the Cleveland Indians an 8-7 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and a sweep of a twi-night doubleheader before 29,411 fans. The Tribe, sparked by six rookies, won the opener, 8-2.

Colonials Win Over BU, 18-14

12,000 See Wilt Score Deciding TD

BOSTON (UPI) — An aroused George Washington University football team blew a 10-point first half lead Friday night and had to fight from behind in the fourth quarter for an 18-14 victory over Boston University.

The George Washington Colonials overcame their one-touchdown under-dog role with a quick passing drive that produced the winning touchdown with less than four minutes left to play.

Junior halfback John Wilt of Middletown, Pa., plunged the final two yards for the payoff score before 12,000 at Boston University field.

Wilt's off-tackle dive capped a 70-yard seven-play march that included four pass completions by Colonial quarterback Ed Hino, three for 15 yards and the key fourth for 13 yards to the B. U. two. Wilt bucked over from there.

Early in the second period, Wasilewski upped the George Washington lead to 10-0 with a 21-yard field goal.

Terps Battle Texas Tonight

40,000 To Attend Contest At Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An imaginative offensive battle shapes up for Saturday night's clash between Texas and Maryland before an estimated 40,000 fans.

"You won't see any gain of three yards up the middle, then a cloud of dust," promised Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Kickoff for the first meeting of the two universities will be at 3 p.m.

Barrelville Seeks Double Crown At Hyndman Sunday

Shoots For 4-Game Playoff Sweep And 19th Straight Win

Barrelville will be out to wrap up the playoff title in the Pen-Mar Baseball League when it plays the Hyndman Merchants in the second game of their best-of-three series Sunday at 2:30 p.m., at Hyndman.

Manager Raymond "Buck" Fiorita's pennant winning club won the series opener last Sunday by the score of 6-0 and will be shooting for its 19th consecutive victory tomorrow. Since June 14 when Barrelville suffered its last defeat at the hands of Salisbury, Bobby Raines has won 10 games, Bobby Dawson, five, and Jesse Markley, three. Raines' overall record is 15-1, Markley 5-1 and Dawson 8-1.

Results of Games

Raines has a winning streak of 14 games and since the playoffs got under way he eliminated Mt. Savage, 2-1 and 5-2, and turned back Hyndman last week. Bob See was the losing pitcher for Hyndman. See, incidentally, is the only Hyndman hurler to beat Barrelville in the five games played by the teams this season. He turned the trick on May 10 in a 6-5 battle at Hyndman. Raines has beaten Hyndman, 5-4 and 6-0. Markley won 4-3 and Bobby Dawson scored an 8-3 decision over the Pennsylvanians.

A victory tomorrow would give Barrelville a sweep of the pennant and playoffs for the fourth time in the eleven-year history of the league. They made the sweep in 1949, 1954 and 1956. Klondyke won the double crown in 1950, Wellersburg in 1952, Keyser Ridge in 1953 and Grantsville in 1955.

If Hyndman Wins

If Hyndman can crack the league's record winning streak tomorrow the series will be extended to the limit of three games on the following Sunday.

Bob See (9-5), Vohn Lehman (3-1), Stan Corley (4-2) and Jim Leydig (3-2) are the pitchers Manager Gene Stair has available.

NFL To Open Race Tonight

Baltimore To Host Detroit On Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Naitonal Football League, a booming business which won friends and influenced people with its Hollywood-defying 1958 championship playoff, opens its 40th season Saturday night with Commissioner Bert Bell promising more of the same.

The first of 72 games which go into the standings start Saturday night with New York, the Eastern Conference champion, playing the Rams at Los Angeles and the Cleveland Browns meeting the Steelers at Pittsburgh.

The league baptism for three new head coaches and two new playing sites will be completed Sunday when the Detroit Lions play the Colts at Baltimore, the Chicago Bears meet the Packers at Green Bay, the Eagles tackle the Forty-Niners at San Francisco, and the Washington Redskins visit the Chicago Cardinals.

The new coaches are Vince Lombardi, Howard (Red) Hickey and Mike Nixon. Lombard who directed New York's offense the past five seasons, is now head coach and general manager of the Packers. Hickey succeeded Frankie Albert as field boss of the Forty-Niners. Nixon, formerly an assistant on the Washington staff, moved up to the head coaching job when Joe Kuharich quit to coach at Notre Dame.

Keyser High School kept its six-year Potomac Valley Conference record unblemished by making Ridgeley High School its 27th consecutive victim yesterday in a game played at Ridgeley. The score was 27-6 as Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado notched its second straight victory of the campaign in the eleven school circuit.

Gary Keedy, Keyser's classy quarterback, started the Tornado rolling when he ran 70 yards for a touchdown the first time Keyser got its hands on the ball. Freddie Clark, son of the KHS coach, smashed over from the one for the second td and Francis Sidley ran the extra point to give the PVC co-champions of 1958 a 13-0 advantage at the end of the first period.

A 10-yard pass, Frank Lambert to Ronnie Gulbronson set up the Ridgeley score in the second period. Pete Smith went over from the five several plays later.

Mike Melody, who replaced Gary Keedy at the quarterback slot after the latter went out with a leg injury, paved the way for Keyser's score in the third period when he raced 35 yards deep into Ridgeley territory. Floyd Wilt tallied from the three and John Barger converted.

Bob Shaw registered the game's final td from 12 yards out in the fourth period and Wilt ran the extra point.

Keedy was used sparingly after pulling up lame. He returned to action in the third quarter.

The loss gave Ridgeley a 1-2 record in the P.V.C. Keyser is undefeated in the conference since the 1953 season.

Hillsdale 8 To 5, Eight May Start In $113,800 Race

NEW YORK (UPI) — Round Table, Hillsdale and Sword Dancer surprisingly drew five opponents at entry time Friday for Saturday's battle for the "Horse of the Year" title in the $100,000 added Woodward Stakes at Aqueduct.

But the owners of Babu, Ozark, Inside Tract, Anisado and Find, which round out the eight-horse field, apparently only put their horses in to see what they would be up against.

If all eight should start the Woodward would be worth a total of $113,800 with a net purse of $72,770 going to the winner.

Round Table, who has earned more money and set or equalled more track records than any horse in racing history, rules a strong favorite to boost his record total closer to the two million dollar mark.

Shoemaker Rides

Willie Shoemaker, who guided Round Table to many of his important victories as well as beat him with other horses on several occasions, rides.

Hillsdale has earned $480,130 this year, the season's high, and will be handled by lanky Tommy Barrow, who has ridden to national prominence this year aboard C. W. Smith's charger.

Arcaro Rides Sword Dancer

Eddie Arcaro rides Sword Dancer for the Brookmeade Stable.

Brazilian Swims English Channel

DOVER, England (AP)—Abilio Couto, a 34-year-old Brazilian lawyer, swam the English Channel from the French to the English side Friday in 11 hours, 33 minutes. He was 43 minutes behind the record set by Egyptian Hassan Rehim in 1950. "I could have beaten that record," Couto said. "But I strained a muscle in my wrist in the first hour and that slowed me down."

Gil Hodges' Homer Beats Chicago, 5-4

Clout In Eleventh Keeps Los Angeles In Race For Flag

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gil Hodges homered over the left field screen with one out in the 11th inning dusk Friday, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs and putting them two wins away from clinching at least a tie for the National League championship.

The blow, Hodges' 25th of the season, gave him three runs batted in for the crucial game. His sixth inning double after Duke Snider and Norm Larker had walked, scored both to give the Dodgers a two run lead.

The Cubs, who beat the contending San Francisco Giants in the last two games with ninth and 10th inning homers, used the same tactics to get back into contention Friday. Sammy Taylor clouted his 13th in the seventh and Ernie Banks regained the league home run lead with his 45th to tie the game in the eighth.

The Dodgers face the Cubs twice more and the Milwaukee Braves have two more with the Phils after Friday night's game to end the season.

Hodges' winning hit came off Cubs' relief hurler Bill Henry, who had beaten Los Angeles twice previously this year without defeat. It was Henry's eighth loss of the season. Henry took over from starter Glen Hobbie after seven innings, and, though he gave the Dodgers five hits in four innings, no runner got to third until Hodges' homer.

Larry Sherry, the third Dodger pitcher, was credited with his sixth win against two losses.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns may be even better this season than last when he racked up a new National Football League rushing record of 1,527 yards. . .Though used only sparingly in six exhibitions, the 230-pound Cleveland fullback ripped off long touchdown gallops in all but one game, three of 70 yards or better. . .He scored eight of the club's 15 exhibition touchdowns, a rare achievement in a business in which the forward pass is the chief offensive weapon.

Easy to see why Casey Stengel of the Yankees regards his old buddy, Al Lopez, as a "tree-mendous" manager. . .Casey has lost only two pennants since he came to the Yankees in 1949—both to Lopez (Cleveland '54, Chicago '59).

Duffy's 3-Unit System

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, who opens his football campaign against Texas A & M Saturday, works this way to prepare his first three teams for unit substituting: The No.1 offense group practices 75 per cent of its time on offense, the rest on defense. . . The No. 2 unit works 60 per cent on defense, 40 per cent on offense . . .No. 3 splits its work 50-50 so it can relieve either No.1 or No. 2 in the clutch.

Wisconsin, which has a sad 2-8 record against Pacific Coast football teams, is in a good spot to move up a notch against Stanford Saturday. . .Badgers have solid veteran first 11, eight lettermen on the second unit and two more on the third. . .But Wisconsin has a lot of ground to make up. . . Badgers were the only Big 10 loser in the post war Rose Bowl (to Southern California in '53), trail Southern Cal 0-3 in series records, are 1-3 against California and 1-2 against UCLA.

Souchak Earns Rest

Mike Souchak really earned his rest from the pro golf tour. . .The burly ex-Duke footballer kept on the pressure so hard this season he finished sixth or better in 14 of his first 25 tournaments. . .He won three, finished second four times and third twice for a total of $27,197.69 in official PGA prize money plus another $10,000 in "unofficial" but equally spendable loot in the tournament of champions at Las Vegas.

Hugh Scott, Princeton halfback, is the son of a Harvard grad and grandson of a Yale grad. . . Lad named Marvin Tiger, who runs for the Panthers of Adelphi College, Garden City, N. Y., is the school's new cross-country captain. . .Ed Namahoe, Hawaiian quarterback who kicks bare-footed is back with the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy this season. . Namahoe is one of the better small college operators.

Yanks Clinch Third Place

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees clinched third place in the American League tonight with a four-run sixth-inning for a 5-2 victory over Baltimore that gave Whitey Ford his 16th victory.

All five Yankee runs were charged to Jerry Walker, who suffered his 10th defeat in 21 decisions.

Coach George Hott's Moorefield High School Yellowjackets registered their third straight triumph of the season in the Potomac Valley Conference by turning back the Romney High School Pioneers yesterday at Moorefield by the score of 13-0.

The loss was the first in three conference starts for Coach Eddie Hartman's Hampshire Countians.

After a scoreless first half, the Jackets broke the ice in the third period when a Moorefield player batted the ball into the air as quarterback A. D. Hott attempted to pass on the Romney 45 and tackle Tom Hefner snared the pigskin and galloped 55 yards to paydirt.

Bill Toohey, Moorefield quarterback, set up his team's second score in the final period when he intercepted Larry Helman's desperation 4th down pass on the 10. Two plays later fullback Bill Sherman raced 77 yards on an off tackle thrust for the final touchdown. Sherman also booted the extra point.

Romney threatened only once and that was in the final period when the visitors advanced to the 10 yard line. There, a pass interception, halted the drive.

Bonnie Randolph Holds Golf Lead

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Betsy Rawls shot a 5-under-par 73 in the second round of the $7,500 Opei Turner Women's Open Golf Tournament Friday but failed by a stroke to catch Bonnie Randolph, Naples, Fla., the first day leader.

Miss Randolph shot steadily in the second round and finished with a 76 to go with an opening 71 for a 36-hole total of 147. Miss Rawls, the 31-year-old Spartanburg, S.C., shotmaker and winner of nine tournaments this year, had a 75 in the first round and posted a 148 total.

Danny Menendez Quits Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Danny Menendez, who once owned the Charleston, W. Va., Senators of the American Assn., resigned Tuesday as general manager of the Memphis Southern Assn. baseball team.

Menedez, who sold the Charleston Club to Detroit before taking over the club here, said he was resigning because of the uncertain future of the Southern Assn.

A former minor league baseball player, Menendez said he had "several propositions" in organized baseball to consider.

Ted To Return

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Traveler Friday said ailing, aging Red Sox slugger Ted Williams will return as a pinch hitter and spot starter in 1960.

The Traveler said the decision was made last week when Williams, 41, had a closed door meeting with Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey. The Red Sox will announce the decision on the closing day of the season, Sunday, or after the World Series, the newspaper said.

Neither Williams nor Yawkey was immediately available for comment.

Bond Of $100,000 Posted For Carbo

Half of the amount was furnished by a professional bondsman, Samuel London, who pledged equity on 11 pieces of property in Baltimore. An Indianapolis bonding firm put up the other $50,000.

Carbo signed the bail papers and promised to be present in Los Angeles where he and four other boxing world figures were indicted Tuesday. A federal grand jury indicted them on charges of conspiring to extort money from Jordan's manager, Donald Paul Nesseth of Covina, Calif., and from Leonard Blakely, alias Jackie Leonard, a Los Angeles fight promoter.

The hearing was held for Carbo today at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where he checked in Monday for study of "a chronic medical condition." U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart presided.

Franklin High School became the 12th straight victim of the West Virginia School for the Deaf which turned back the Panthers to the tune of 20-13 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest yesterday at Franklin.

Coach Donald Bullock's Lions from Romney, undefeated since the 1957 campaign, posted their second victory of the current campaign. Franklin went down to defeat for the third straight time this season.

In the opening period Shade went over from 26 yards out for the initial six-pointer and also ran the extra point. Jones tallied in the third period on a 35-yard sprint and again in the final stanza on a 20-yard dash. Shade converted after the second score.

Richard Bennett, substitute halfback, stole the show for Franklin and scored both of the Panthers' touchdowns. In the third quarter he snared a 12-yard pass from Charles Kline and scampered 55 yards for the first score. In the last period Bennett intercepted a pass that covered 85 yards on his second touchdown run. Steve Conrad kicked the extra point.

Mountaineers Seek 29th Straight Win

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—West Virginia University's football Mountaineers will find out Saturday whether the University of Richmond can muster the wide-open offense its coach talked about early this week.

Coach Ed Merrick of the Spiders, dissatisfied with his team's lack of punch in a 6-3 loss to Dayton last week, declared that he will try to shoot the offensive works in a bid for a Southern Conference upset here.

WVU will go after its 29th straight confernce victory against Richmond at 1:30 p.m., EDT. The contest will be the first Southern Conference tiff of the campaign.

Quarterback Jim Evans scored touchdowns in the first and second periods and Jim Robertson kicked both extra points to give Coach Jerry Calhoun's Beall High School Mountaineers their first victory of the season over Southern High School in a Potomac Valley Conference game played yesterday at Oakland. The score was 14-0.

The Mountaineers were blanked by Allegany and Keyser in their first two outings. The defeat was the third straight for the Highlanders.

Don Bush set up Beall's first score when he raced 35 yards to the Southern 13. Then Evans ran up the middle for the touchdown and Jim Robertson, sophomore, converted.

On an off tackle slant Evans galloped 34 yards for Beall's second six-pointer in the second period and Robertson again added the point.

Beall was charged with 11 penalties and was set back a total of 115 yards. Eight of the infractions came in the second half when the Mountaineers had two touchdowns called back. Bill Twigg ran 12 yards and Bush sprinted 28 yards for the scores that were nullified.

Tigers Defeat White Sox, 6-5

DETROIT (UPI) — Al Kaline raced home from second base in the ninth inning Friday when first baseman Norm Cash pulled a boner by holding the ball to give the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the American League champion Chicago White Sox.

Pinch hitter Lou Berberet hit a hard smash to second baseman Billie Goodman with one out and the bases loaded. Goodman fired to the plate to retire Harvey Kuenn on a force out.

Catcher John Romano threw to Cash in an attempt to complete a double play. The throw was late and Kaline streaked home while Cash held the ball.

Ironically, Cash had been sent to first base before Berberet stepped to the plate after Earl Torgeson made a wide throw to second on a force out attempt to load the bases.

Mossi, who won his 17th game against nine losses, held Chicago hitless from the second until the ninth when singles by Torgeson, Romano and Bubba Phillips produced two runs.

Staley, who tied a Chicago record by appearing in his 66th game in relief this year, was charged with his fifth loss against eight wins.

Stranahan Leads At Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Muscle-Man Frank Stranahan, recovering from a shaky start on the links, vaulted into the lead at the halfway mark in the $40,000 Golden Gaet Open Golf Tournament Friday with a 36 hole score of 135—seven under par.

Closely pressed by veterans Tommy Bolt and Jerry Barber, each with 136 totals, Stranahan parlayed a hot putter and an even disposition into the leadership.

Stan Jones, right-handed rookie pitcher in the Cincinnati chain, compiled a 19-4 mark for Geneva, N. Y., in the New York-Penn League this season.

Keyser High School kept its six-year Potomac Valley Conference record unblemished by making Ridgeley High School its 27th consecutive victim yesterday in a game played at Ridgeley. The score was 27-6 as Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado notched its second straight victory of the campaign in the eleven school circuit.

Gary Keedy, Keyser's classy quarterback, started the Tornado rolling when he ran 70 yards for a touchdown the first time Keyser got its hands on the ball. Freddie Clark, son of the KHS coach, smashed over from the one for the second td and Francis Sidley ran the extra point to give the PVC co-champions of 1958 a 13-0 advantage at the end of the first period.

A 10-yard pass, Frank Lambert to Ronnie Gulbronson set up the Ridgeley score in the second period. Pete Smith went over from the five several plays later.

Mike Melody, who replaced Gary Keedy at the quarterback slot after the latter went out with a leg injury, paved the way for Keyser's score in the third period when he raced 35 yards deep into Ridgeley territory. Floyd Wilt tallied from the three and John Barger converted.

Bob Shaw registered the game's final td from 12 yards out in the fourth period and Wilt ran the extra point.

Keedy was used sparingly after pulling up lame. He returned to action in the third quarter.

The loss gave Ridgeley a 1-2 record in the P.V.C. Keyser is undefeated in the conference since the 1953 season.

Hillsdale 8 To 5, Eight May Start In $113,800 Race

NEW YORK (UPI) — Round Table, Hillsdale and Sword Dancer surprisingly drew five opponents at entry time Friday for Saturday's battle for the "Horse of the Year" title in the $100,000 added Woodward Stakes at Aqueduct.

But the owners of Babu, Ozark, Inside Tract, Anisado and Find, which round out the eight-horse field, apparently only put their horses in to see what they would be up against.

If all eight should start the Woodward would be worth a total of $113,800 with a net purse of $72,770 going to the winner.

Round Table, who has earned more money and set or equalled more track records than any horse in racing history, rules a strong favorite to boost his record total closer to the two million dollar mark.

Shoemaker Rides

Willie Shoemaker, who guided Round Table to many of his important victories as well as beat him with other horses on several occasions, rides.

Hillsdale has earned $480,130 this year, the season's high, and will be handled by lanky Tommy Barrow, who has ridden to national prominence this year aboard C. W. Smith's charger.

Arcaro Rides Sword Dancer

Eddie Arcaro rides Sword Dancer for the Brookmeade Stable.

Brazilian Swims English Channel

DOVER, England (AP)—Abilio Couto, a 34-year-old Brazilian lawyer, swam the English Channel from the French to the English side Friday in 11 hours, 33 minutes. He was 43 minutes behind the record set by Egyptian Hassan Rehim in 1950. "I could have beaten that record," Couto said. "But I strained a muscle in my wrist in the first hour and that slowed me down."

Gil Hodges' Homer Beats Chicago, 5-4

Clout In Eleventh Keeps Los Angeles In Race For Flag

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gil Hodges homered over the left field screen with one out in the 11th inning dusk Friday, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs and putting them two wins away from clinching at least a tie for the National League championship.

The blow, Hodges' 25th of the season, gave him three runs batted in for the crucial game. His sixth inning double after Duke Snider and Norm Larker had walked, scored both to give the Dodgers a two run lead.

The Cubs, who beat the contending San Francisco Giants in the last two games with ninth and 10th inning homers, used the same tactics to get back into contention Friday. Sammy Taylor clouted his 13th in the seventh and Ernie Banks regained the league home run lead with his 45th to tie the game in the eighth.

The Dodgers face the Cubs twice more and the Milwaukee Braves have two more with the Phils after Friday night's game to end the season.

Hodges' winning hit came off Cubs' relief hurler Bill Henry, who had beaten Los Angeles twice previously this year without defeat. It was Henry's eighth loss of the season. Henry took over from starter Glen Hobbie after seven innings, and, though he gave the Dodgers five hits in four innings, no runner got to third until Hodges' homer.

Larry Sherry, the third Dodger pitcher, was credited with his sixth win against two losses.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns may be even better this season than last when he racked up a new National Football League rushing record of 1,527 yards. . .Though used only sparingly in six exhibitions, the 230-pound Cleveland fullback ripped off long touchdown gallops in all but one game, three of 70 yards or better. . .He scored eight of the club's 15 exhibition touchdowns, a rare achievement in a business in which the forward pass is the chief offensive weapon.

Easy to see why Casey Stengel of the Yankees regards his old buddy, Al Lopez, as a "tree-mendous" manager. . .Casey has lost only two pennants since he came to the Yankees in 1949—both to Lopez (Cleveland '54, Chicago '59).

Duffy's 3-Unit System

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, who opens his football campaign against Texas A & M Saturday, works this way to prepare his first three teams for unit substituting: The No.1 offense group practices 75 per cent of its time on offense, the rest on defense. . .The No. 2 unit works 60 per cent on defense, 40 per cent on offense . . .No. 3 splits its work 50-50 so it can relieve either No.1 or No. 2 in the clutch.

Wisconsin, which has a sad 2-8 record against Pacific Coast football teams, is in a good spot to move up a notch against Stanford Saturday. . .Badgers have solid veteran first 11, eight lettermen on the second unit and two more on the third. . .But Wisconsin has a lot of ground to make up. . .Badgers were the only Big 10 loser in the post war Rose Bowl (to Southern California in '53), trail Southern Cal 0-3 in series records, are 1-3 against California and 1-2 against UCLA.

Souchak Earns Rest

Mike Souchak really earned his rest from the pro golf tour. . .The burly ex-Duke footballer kept on the pressure so hard this season he finished sixth or better in 14 of his first 25 tournaments. . .He won three, finished second four times and third twice for a total of $27,197.69 in official PGA prize money plus another $10,000 in "unofficial" but equally spendable loot in the tournament of champions at Las Vegas.

Hugh Scott, Princeton halfback, is the son of a Harvard grad and grandson of a Yale grad. . .Lad named Marvin Tiger, who runs for the Panthers of Adelphi College, Garden City, N. Y., is the school's new cross-country captain. . .Ed Namahoe, Hawaiian quarterback who kicks bare-footed is back with the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy this season. . .Namahoe is one of the better small college operators.

Yanks Clinch Third Place

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees clinched third place in the American League tonight with a four-run sixth-inning for a 5-2 victory over Baltimore that gave Whitey Ford his 16th victory.

All five Yankee runs were charged to Jerry Walker, who suffered his 10th defeat in 21 decisions.

Coach George Hott's Moorefield High School Yellowjackets registered their third straight triumph of the season in the Potomac Valley Conference by turning back the Romney High School Pioneers yesterday at Moorefield by the score of 13-0.

The loss was the first in three conference starts for Coach Eddie Hartman's Hampshire Countians.

After a scoreless first half, the Jackets broke the ice in the third period when a Moorefield player batted the ball into the air as quarterback A. D. Hott attempted to pass on the Romney 45 and tackle Tom Hefner snared the pigskin and galloped 55 yards to paydirt.

Bill Toohey, Moorefield quarterback, set up his team's second score in the final period when he intercepted Larry Helman's desperation 4th down pass on the 10. Two plays later fullback Bill Sherman raced 77 yards on an off tackle thrust for the final touchdown. Sherman also booted the extra point.

Romney threatened only once and that was in the final period when the visitors advanced to the 10 yard line. There, a pass interception, halted the drive.

Bonnie Randolph Holds Golf Lead

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Betsy Rawls shot a 5-under-par 73 in the second round of the $7,500 Opei Turner Women's Open Golf Tournament Friday but failed by a stroke to catch Bonnie Randolph, Naples, Fla., the first day leader.

Miss Randolph shot steadily in the second round and finished with a 76 to go with an opening 71 for a 36-hole total of 147. Miss Rawls, the 31-year-old Spartanburg, S.C., shotmaker and winner of nine tournaments this year, had a 75 in the first round and posted a 148 total.

Danny Menendez Quits Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Danny Menendez, who once owned the Charleston, W. Va., Senators of the American Assn., resigned Tuesday as general manager of the Memphis Southern Assn. baseball team.

Menedez, who sold the Charleston Club to Detroit before taking over the club here, said he was resigning because of the uncertain future of the Southern Assn.

A former minor league baseball player, Menendez said he had "several propositions" in organized baseball to consider.

Ted To Return

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Traveler Friday said ailing, aging Red Sox slugger Ted Williams will return as a pinch hitter and spot starter in 1960.

The Traveler said the decision was made last week when Williams, 41, had a closed door meeting with Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey. The Red Sox will announce the decision on the closing day of the season, Sunday, or after the World Series, the newspaper said.

Neither Williams nor Yawkey was immediately available for comment.

Bond Of $100,000 Posted For Carbo

Half of the amount was furnished by a professional bondsman, Samuel London, who pledged equity on 11 pieces of property in Baltimore. An Indianapolis bonding firm put up the other $50,000.

Carbo signed the bail papers and promised to be present in Los Angeles where he and four other boxing world figures were indicted Tuesday. A federal grand jury indicted them on charges of conspiring to extort money from Jordan's manager, Donald Paul Nesseth of Covina, Calif., and from Leonard Blakely, alias Jackie Leonard, a Los Angeles fight promoter.

The hearing was held for Carbo today at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where he checked in Monday for study of "a chronic medical condition." U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart presided.

Franklin High School became the 12th straight victim of the West Virginia School for the Deaf which turned back the Panthers to the tune of 20-13 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest yesterday at Franklin.

Coach Donald Bullock's Lions from Romney, undefeated since the 1957 campaign, posted their second victory of the current campaign. Franklin went down to defeat for the third straight time this season.

In the opening period Shade went over from 26 yards out for the initial six-pointer and also ran the extra point. Jones tallied in the third period on a 35-yard sprint and again in the final stanza on a 20-yard dash. Shade converted after the second score.

Richard Bennett, substitute halfback, stole the show for Franklin and scored both of the Panthers' touchdowns. In the third quarter he snared a 12-yard pass from Charles Kline and scampered 55 yards for the first score. In the last period Bennett intercepted a pass that covered 85 yards on his second touchdown run. Steve Conrad kicked the extra point.

Mountaineers Seek 29th Straight Win

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—West Virginia University's football Mountaineers will find out Saturday whether the University of Richmond can muster the wide-open offense its coach talked about early this week.

Coach Ed Merrick of the Spiders, dissatisfied with his team's lack of punch in a 6-3 loss to Dayton last week, declared that he will try to shoot the offensive works in a bid for a Southern Conference upset here.

WVU will go after its 29th straight conference victory against Richmond at 1:30 p.m., EDT. The contest will be the first Southern Conference tiff of the campaign.

Quarterback Jim Evans scored touchdowns in the first and second periods and Jim Robertson kicked both extra points to give Coach Jerry Calhoun's Beall High School Mountaineers their first victory of the season over Southern High School in a Potomac Valley Conference game played yesterday at Oakland. The score was 14-0.

The Mountaineers were blanked by Allegany and Keyser in their first two outings. The defeat was the third straight for the Highlanders.

Don Bush set up Beall's first score when he raced 35 yards to the Southern 13. Then Evans ran up the middle for the touchdown and Jim Robertson, sophomore, converted.

On an off tackle slant Evans galloped 34 yards for Beall's second six-pointer in the second period and Robertson again added the point.

Beall was charged with 11 penalties and was set back a total of 115 yards. Eight of the infractions came in the second half when the Mountaineers had two touchdowns called back. Bill Twigg ran 12 yards and Bush sprinted 28 yards for the scores that were nullified.

Tigers Defeat White Sox, 6-5

DETROIT (UPI) — Al Kaline raced home from second base in the ninth inning Friday when first baseman Norm Cash pulled a boner by holding the ball to give the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the American League champion Chicago White Sox.

Pinch hitter Lou Berberet hit a hard smash to second baseman Billie Goodman with one out and the bases loaded. Goodman fired to the plate to retire Harvey Kuenn on a force out.

Catcher John Romano threw to Cash in an attempt to complete a double play. The throw was late and Kaline streaked home while Cash held the ball.

Ironically, Cash had been sent to first base before Berberet stepped to the plate after Earl Torgeson made a wide throw to second on a force out attempt to load the bases.

Mossi, who won his 17th game against nine losses, held Chicago hitless from the second until the ninth when singles by Torgeson, Romano and Bubba Phillips produced two runs.

Stranahan Leads At Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Muscle-Man Frank Stranahan, recovering from a shaky start on the links, vaulted into the lead at the halfway mark in the $40,000 Golden Gaet Open Golf Tournament Friday with a 36 hole score of 135—seven under par.

Closely pressed by veterans Tommy Bolt and Jerry Barber, each with 136 totals, Stranahan parlayed a hot putter and an even disposition into the leadership.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — This week marks the busiest week Warner Bros. Studio has had since 1930. There were 15 stages occupied, including the tennis court, to take care of three motion pictures and the 12 segments of their TV shows currently in production. On Wednesday there will be still another movie, when the Milton Sperling production of "The Life and Death of 'Legs' Diamond" goes before the camera.

"Legs Diamond," the story of the notorious gangster of the Roaring 20's, stars Ray Danton and Karen Steele. Ray is finishing "Ice Palace" and he gets his biggest role playing "Legs" Diamond, who was a lone wolf in his nefarious profession and the cause of many deaths during his era. Karen Steele will be seen in the femme lead as Diamond's wife. Apparently all is well with Karen and Budd Boetticher, director of "Legs," who, in private life, is the man she cares for most.

Since he's been in Europe, Don Murray has bought the film rights to "Jean Christophe," the Romain Rolland classic, from 20th Century-Fox. He and Hope Lange have been seeing Rolland's widow in Paris, to discuss the book with her. Don will make the motion picture for his own company, starring himself, and he hopes to be able to borrow Hope from 20th as the femme star.

"Jean Christophe" was first published in French in 1908, in English in 1913, and it's always been considered one of the greatest books of all times. It should make a wonderful picture.

Gary Cooper has an idea that "High Noon," the picture for which he won an Academy Award, may be released in Russia about the time he, Rocky and Maria are there for the opening of "Marty." He said it was all a lot of nonsense that Khrushchev invited him to visit Moscow.

"I don't know where the story ever started, and I am certainly not going there as his guest," Gary said. "I only spoke a few words to him, as did other stars at the luncheon.

No one would ever accuse Big Coop of having any of Khrushchev's ideas, or shall we say "red" tendencies—Coop is one of the most patriotic citizens I know, and certainly an active fighter against anything detrimental to our government.

Shirley Jones told me that she and Jack Cassady were so busy in London filming six TV shows that they didn't do much else but work. They returned just in time for Shirley to make her wardrobe tests for "Elmer Gantry", and Jack to go into rehearsal for "The Epitaph of George Dillon."

Jack plays a straight dramatic role without a song, Shirley told me, in "George Dillon" which opens Oct. 20 at the Players Ring. The Cassadys also returned in time for their son Shaun's first birthday Sunday. "He knew us," said Shirley. "Isn't that remarkable? We were away five whole weeks."

Panel Concludes River Meeting

Soil and forestry practices and the relationship between community and industrial water supplies were discussed during the concluding panel at the fall meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin yesterday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

"Factors in Water Development" was the theme. Frank Wachter of the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company, was moderator and members were Walter Gumbel of the West Virginia Soil Conservation Commission; Roy W. Olson, assistant regional forester, U. S. Forest Service; and B. G. Atwood of the Potomac Edison Company's area development department.

Industrial and community relationships in regard to water supplies were discussed. Points brought out included the attraction of industry, its financing and allied requirements and the purposes for which industry uses water as compared to that of the community.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I know you're against youthful marriages, but I hope you'll admit there are exceptions. We are the exceptions so please listen and give us the go sign.

I'm 16 and quit school last spring. I hated school and wasn't learning anything. My dad said there was no sense loafing in school when I could be earning good money. So I got a job in a supermarket as a checker at $58.50 a week.

My boy friend is 18. He's a mechanic in a garage and earns $73 a week. Together we make more than my dad. We could get a nice apartment and buy furniture on time. We love each other very much and enjoy the same things — roller-skating, swimming, Elvis Presley and drive-in movies. We are both mature for our ages physically and mentally. Please say there's a chance for us.

SO IN LOVE

DEAR SO: I hear from hundreds of teenagers every week who were also "So In Love." The majority of their marriages are NOT turning out "good." They wish they were back in school where they belong.

Certainly there are exceptions —and maybe you ARE the rare ones, but playing the long-shots is a dangerous game. You can't build a life on drive-in movies and Elvis Presley Give yourselves at least another year — then take inventory. It's natural for young people to want to learn from experience, but divorce is one experience you can live without.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 17 and my life is such a mess I wish I were dead.

Pete and I were madly in love since 7th grade. He was two years older, and the only guy I ever dated.

On my 16th birthday we crossed the state line and got married. We thought we could keep it a secret but I got pregnant right away and had to tell my folks and quit school. Pete's feelings started to change about that time. We rented a small apartment which he called "the dump." He worked on a construction gang and made good money, but living expenses were high and there was nothing left.

The real trouble started when he took up with some bums who hung around the tavern. He began to make excuses for not coming home. His drinking got worse. When my brother told me he saw Pete with another girl I almost died.

Last week Pete suggested I go back to my folks because he'd go nuts in our tiny apartment with a baby crying all the time.

I can't understand what happened to change everything. When we were going together he couldn't stand to be away from me a single day. Now I have no feelings left for him because he's treated me so rotten. No advice, please, Ann. I didn't listen to you last year when you said not to do it.

SWEET 17

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Sixteen And Sexy

The advance publicity on Tuesday Weld—"teen-age gold-digger with sex"—is almost more than mortal man can endure. Certainly more than I can, so I sent over my Operative X12 who is the same sex and has been hardened in the crucible of television to have a talk with the young lady who will be the heroine of "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" (beginning on CBS-TV Sept. 29).

Operative X12 found Miss Tuesday smoking a cigaret, eating her lunch, and having her hair dyed—all at once. "Please ask me specific questions. I don't like to speak generally," said Miss Weld who has just turned sixteen.

"How about the rumor that you're closer to twenty-seven than sixteen," said Operative X12, jockeying for position. (Danny Kaye said of Miss Weld that she's fifteen going on twenty-seven, a remark that has been widely kicked around.)

"That's true and I'm looking forward to being a teen-ager — that's the way it works, isn't it?" said Miss Weld, who at sixteen already acts as if she's seen and known everything.

"Do you consider yourself a beatnik?" asked Operative X12, groping for the specific.

"I can't deny the fact," emitted the lady languidly. "Sometimes I'm a beatnik, sometimes I'm many other things like—what subject were we on? — oh, about beatniks. I have been beat and I've gone to the coffee houses and I've done the things that beatniks are supposed to do — wear dungarees and all that. I think the term has been beat and beat and beat into the ground. It's as bad as teen-ager, that word. Being adult seems to be very in and a teen-ager seems to be out."

Miss Weld has already aroused the interest of teen-agers and their parents, not all of it favorable, by her lack of interest in propriety.

"I've been labeled a lot of things. I don't care enough to make a stink about it. People are going to say what they're going to say no matter what. For many months I did a lot of publicity. A lot of time and effort was wasted on the publicity because people just went right out and misquoted me. Now I've stopped and I still get as much coverage. I should have stopped sooner. There are pages of misconceptions and even some great quotes I never said. They carry on like mad without me — great stories, great quotes."

It seemed more and more unlikely that Miss Weld was truly sixteen but she insists she is. "I don't carry my birth certificate but if you'd like to see my draft card . . . All those stories I'm twenty-seven come from the fact I've been in the business a long time. When I was ten I looked eighteen. I wore makeup this thick and I went around thinking 'Goody, I look eighteen and I pulled this one off all by myself.' Well, I don't care how old people think I am. Just so long as I know."

Miss Weld, who has caused some commotion in two movies, "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys" and "The Five Pennies," has already assembled her own retinue. One of the temporary members was a quiet, slight woman named Mrs. Groetke, of the California Board of Education, who got decidedly restive when Miss Weld plunged into the subject of high school.

"I don't know when I'll finish high school; I think I got a lifetime contract with that school. I hate to even think about it. Most schools missed me right along the way. I never went and they never came after me."

Mrs. Groetke was turning a dull pink. She pinched Tuesday and they went into a huddle. Out of this came a slight explosion from Tuesday: "Oh, no, you don't! I'm going to Europe next year." And she flounced out of the room.

"Miss Weld is a very good student," said a press agent uncomfortably.

"I don't know why she says such things," said Mrs. Groetke. She explained that California insisted every child have an education and went to some lengths to describe how it was being done in Tuesday's case. Tuesday's education sounds like a state problem comparable in scope to the smog, water distribution, and possibly even highway control.

Tuesday came back, complaining about her fly-front pants. ("The zipper comes undone. Maybe it's because I don't have the top button fastened.") Nowadays every prominent teen-ager seems to be handing out advice to all the other teen-agers. Did Tuesday ever write articles telling teen-agers what to do with their love life? "Certainly not," said Miss Weld crisply. "Teenagers don't need advice. All those articles about curfew and necking — it's up to the individual."

LaVale Plans Fund Drive For Its Fire Department

LaVale, where a referendum for a fire tax to support the volunteer fire company failed by a two-to-one vote in August, will have a new type of fund drive for its firefighting unit.

Thursday night a steering committee was set up to have the campaign as a community project, rather than as a fire department project.

Following the referendum, a fire company spokesman said, many offers of assistance and suggestions came from people who were both for and against the tax.

It was from this trend that a community project was organized for the benefit of the fire department.

The company always has had a house-to-house solicitation conducted by the firemen and its ladies auxiliary.

Two committees were present Thursday night. The citizens' group is composed of Edward F. Mullan Jr., chairman, and includes John Conway, Frank Maiden, Melvin Wright, and Lloyd Buchanan, president of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association.

The fire department committee has Cromwell C. Zembower as chairman and includes Albert Salvata, Waverly Rice, James Loar, Edgar Young, and Thomas L. Smith, president of the fire company.

The two groups will serve as a steering committee and will set up plans for the drive, which will start on October 19.

Zembower said the opinion was expressed by those attending that the more than 1,600 home owners and tenants are ready to come to the aid of the department.

Through the public meetings prior to the referendum and through the publicity, more people in LaVale learned of the operations and cost of maintaining the fire protection unit, he said.

Funds collected in the annual drive go only for maintenance of the equipment and operation of the company, Zembower emphasized.

The steering committee will meet next Thursday in the fire hall and name captains for the different areas. Later it is planned to name a worker for every one of the more than 100 streets in the community.

Approve Stock Split

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Piedmont Natural Gas Co., Inc., announced its stockholders have approved a proposed 2-for-1 split of the company's common stock, effective Friday. The company also announced plans to issue $3,500,000 of convertible preferred later this fall to finance a construction program.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — This week marks the busiest week Warner Bros. Studio has had since 1930. There were 15 stages occupied, including the tennis court, to take care of three motion pictures and the 12 segments of their TV shows currently in production. On Wednesday there will be still another movie, when the Milton Sperling production of "The Life and Death of 'Legs' Diamond" goes before the camera.

"Legs Diamond," the story of the notorious gangster of the Roaring 20's, stars Ray Danton and Karen Steele. Ray is finishing "Ice Palace" and he gets his biggest role playing "Legs" Diamond, who was a lone wolf in his nefarious profession and the cause of many deaths during his era. Karen Steele will be seen in the femme lead as Diamond's wife. Apparently all is well with Karen and Budd Boetticher, director of "Legs," who, in private life, is the man she cares for most.

Since he's been in Europe, Don Murray has bought the film rights to "Jean Christophe," the Romain Rolland classic, from 20th Century-Fox. He and Hope Lange have been seeing Rolland's widow in Paris, to discuss the book with her. Don will make the motion picture for his own company, starring himself, and he hopes to be able to borrow Hope from 20th as the femme star.

"Jean Christophe" was first published in French in 1908, in English in 1913, and it's always been considered one of the greatest books of all times. It should make a wonderful picture.

Gary Cooper has an idea that "High Noon," the picture for which he won an Academy Award, may be released in Russia about the time he, Rocky and Maria are there for the opening of "Marty." He said it was all a lot of nonsense that Khrushchev invited him to visit Moscow.

"I don't know where the story ever started, and I am certainly not going there as his guest," Gary said. "I only spoke a few words to him, as did other stars at the luncheon.

No one would ever accuse Big Coop of having any of Khrushchev's ideas, or shall we say "red" tendencies—Coop is one of the most patriotic citizens I know, and certainly an active fighter against anything detrimental to our government.

Shirley Jones told me that she and Jack Cassady were so busy in London filming six TV shows that they didn't do much else but work. They returned just in time for Shirley to make her wardrobe tests for "Elmer Gantry", and Jack to go into rehearsal for "The Epitaph of George Dillon."

Jack plays a straight dramatic role without a song, Shirley told me, in "George Dillon" which opens Oct. 20 at the Players Ring. The Cassadys also returned in time for their son Shaun's first birthday Sunday. "He knew us," said Shirley. "Isn't that remarkable? We were away five whole weeks."

Panel Concludes River Meeting

Soil and forestry practices and the relationship between community and industrial water supplies were discussed during the concluding panel at the fall meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin yesterday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

"Factors in Water Development" was the theme. Frank Wachter of the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company, was moderator and members were Walter Gumbel of the West Virginia Soil Conservation Commission; Roy W. Olson, assistant regional forester, U. S. Forest Service; and B. G. Atwood of the Potomac Edison Company's area development department.

Industrial and community relationships in regard to water supplies were discussed. Points brought out included the attraction of industry, its financing and allied requirements and the purposes for which industry uses water as compared to that of the community.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I know you're against youthful marriages, but I hope you'll admit there are exceptions. We are the exceptions so please listen and give us the go sign.

I'm 16 and quit school last spring. I hated school and wasn't learning anything. My dad said there was no sense loafing in school when I could be earning good money. So I got a job in a supermarket as a checker at $58.50 a week.

My boy friend is 18. He's a mechanic in a garage and earns $73 a week. Together we make more than my dad. We could get a nice apartment and buy furniture on time. We love each other very much and enjoy the same things — roller-skating, swimming, Elvis Presley and drive-in movies. We are both mature for our ages physically and mentally. Please say there's a chance for us. SO IN LOVE

DEAR SO: I hear from hundreds of teenagers every week who were also "So In Love." The majority of their marriages are NOT turning out "good." They wish they were back in school where they belong.

Certainly there are exceptions —and maybe you ARE the rare ones, but playing the long-shots is a dangerous game. You can't build a life on drive-in movies and Elvis Presley Give yourselves at least another year — then take inventory. It's natural for young people to want to learn from experience, but divorce is one experience you can live without.

Below is a letter which came in today — strange coincidence?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 17 and my life is such a mess I wish I were dead.

Pete and I were madly in love since 7th grade. He was two years older, and the only guy I ever dated.

On my 16th birthday we crossed the state line and got married. We thought we could keep it a secret but I got pregnant right away and had to tell my folks and quit school. Pete's feelings started to change about that time. We rented a small apartment which he called "the dump." He worked on a construction gang and made good money, but living expenses were high and there was nothing left.

The real trouble started when he took up with some bums who hung around the tavern. He began to make excuses for not coming home. His drinking got worse. When my brother told me he saw Pete with another girl I almost died.

Last week Pete suggested I go back to my folks because he'd go nuts in our tiny apartment with a baby crying all the time.

I can't understand what happened to change everything. When we were going together he couldn't stand to be away from me a single day. Now I have no feelings left for him because he's treated me so rotten. No advice, please, Ann. I didn't listen to you last year when you said not to do it. SWEET 17

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Meeting Postponed

The Parent-Child study program scheduled Monday at West Side School has been postponed, according to Mrs. Blaine Schindler, chairman.

The meeting has been advanced to the following Monday, October 5, at 1:15 p.m., Mrs. Schindler said.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

Sixteen And Sexy

The advance publicity on Tuesday Weld—"teen-age gold-digger with sex"—is almost more than mortal man can endure. Certainly more than I can, so I sent over my Operative X12 who is the same sex and has been hardened in the crucible of television to have a talk with the young lady who will be the heroine of "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" (beginning on CBS-TV Sept. 29).

Operative X12 found Miss Tuesday smoking a cigaret, eating her lunch, and having her hair dyed—all at once. "Please ask me specific questions. I don't like to speak generally," said Miss Weld who has just turned sixteen.

"How about the rumor that you're closer to twenty-seven than sixteen," said Operative X12, jockeying for position. (Danny Kaye said of Miss Weld that she's fifteen going on twenty-seven, a remark that has been widely kicked around.)

"That's true and I'm looking forward to being a teen-ager — that's the way it works, isn't it?" said Miss Weld, who at sixteen already acts as if she's seen and known everything.

"Do you consider yourself a beatnik?" asked Operative X12, groping for the specific.

"I can't deny the fact," emitted the lady languidly. "Sometimes I'm a beatnik, sometimes I'm many other things like—what subject were we on? — oh, about beatniks. I have been beat and I've gone to the coffee houses and I've done the things that beatniks are supposed to do — wear dungarees and all that. I think the term has been beat and beat and beat into the ground. It's as bad as teen-ager, that word. Being adult seems to be very in and a teen-ager seems to be out."

Miss Weld has already aroused the interest of teen-agers and their parents, not all of it favorable, by her lack of interest in propriety.

"I've been labeled a lot of things. I don't care enough to make a stink about it. People are going to say what they're going to say no matter what. For many months I did a lot of publicity. A lot of time and effort was wasted on the publicity because people just went right out and misquoted me. Now I've stopped and I still get as much coverage. I should have stopped sooner. There are pages of misconceptions and even some great quotes I never said. They carry on like mad without me — great stories, great quotes."

It seemed more and more unlikely that Miss Weld was truly sixteen but she insists she is. "I don't carry my birth certificate but if you'd like to see my draft card . . . All those stories I'm twenty-seven come from the fact I've been in the business a long time. When I was ten I looked eighteen. I wore makeup this thick and I went around thinking 'Goody, I look eighteen and I pulled this one off all by myself.' Well, I don't care how old people think I am. Just so long as I know."

Miss Weld, who has caused some commotion in two movies, "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys" and "The Five Pennies," has already assembled her own retinue. One of the temporary members was a quiet, slight woman named Mrs. Groetke, of the California Board of Education, who got decidedly restive when Miss Weld plunged into the subject of high school.

"I don't know when I'll finish high school; I think I got a lifetime contract with that school. I hate to even think about it. Most schools missed me right along the way. I never went and they never came after me."

Mrs. Groetke was turning a dull pink. She pinched Tuesday and they went into a huddle. Out of this came a slight explosion from Tuesday: "Oh, no, you don't! I'm going to Europe next year." And she flounced out of the room.

"Miss Weld is a very good student," said a press agent uncomfortably.

"I don't know why she says such things," said Mrs. Groetke. She explained that California insisted every child have an education and went to some lengths to describe how it was being done in Tuesday's case. Tuesday's education sounds like a state problem comparable in scope to the smog, water distribution, and possibly even highway control.

Tuesday came back, complaining about her fly-front pants. ("The zipper comes undone. Maybe it's because I don't have the top button fastened.") Nowadays every prominent teen-ager seems to be handing out advice to all the other teen-agers. Did Tuesday ever write articles telling teen-agers what to do with their love life? "Certainly not," said Miss Weld crisply. "Teen-agers don't need advice. All those articles about curfew and necking — it's up to the individual."

LaVale Plans Fund Drive For Its Fire Department

LaVale, where a referendum for a fire tax to support the volunteer fire company failed by a two-to-one vote in August, will have a new type of fund drive for its firefighting unit.

Thursday night a steering committee was set up to have the campaign as a community project, rather than as a fire department project.

Following the referendum, a fire company spokesman said, many offers of assistance and suggestions came from people who were both for and against the tax.

It was from this trend that a community project was organized for the benefit of the fire department.

The company always has had a house-to-house solicitation conducted by the firemen and its ladies auxiliary.

Two committees were present Thursday night. The citizens' group is composed of Edward F. Mullan Jr., chairman, and includes John Conway, Frank Maiden, Melvin Wright, and Lloyd Buchanan, president of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association.

The fire department committee has Cromwell C. Zembower as chairman and includes Albert Salvata, Waverly Rice, James Loar, Edgar Young, and Thomas L. Smith, president of the fire company.

The two groups will serve as a steering committee and will set up plans for the drive, which will start on October 19.

Zembower said the opinion was expressed by those attending that the more than 1,600 home owners and tenants are ready to come to the aid of the department.

Through the public meetings prior to the referendum and through the publicity, more people in LaVale learned of the operations and cost of maintaining the fire protection unit, he said.

Funds collected in the annual drive go only for maintenance of the equipment and operation of the company, Zembower emphasized.

The steering committee will meet next Thursday in the fire hall and name captains for the different areas. Later it is planned to name a worker for every one of the more than 100 streets in the community.

Careful Use Of City Water Is Requested

Although there is no current danger of a shortage, the city's sanitary engineer yesterday urged citizens to use "common sense" in use of the water supply and take precautions against wastage.

Franklin J. Blaney urged particularly that residents "ease off" washing automobiles and watering lawns. Because of the lateness of the year, he said he saw no reason for watering lawns in any event.

Blaney emphasized that there is no cause for alarm here but he said he is urging conservation as a precautionary measure.

There is no sense in jeopardizing the supply, he said, especially since there is no way of knowing when sufficient rainfall will come.

Democrats Ask Job Status Of Inspectors

The Democratic State Central Committee for Allegany County has written to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners requesting that the status of the two board inspectors be clarified as far as the Civil Service system is concerned.

Signed by Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the committee, the letter stated: "The purpose of this inquiry is to obtain information as to whether or not the inspectors who are employed by your board, are covered by the county Civil Service law, or whether their appointments are at the pleasure of the board."

Finan said that "it would be greatly appreciated if you would favor us with an opinion from your board on this matter."

The two inspectors, both Republicans, are Angus Turnbull and Edward R. Willison.

In the event the Liquor Board members decide that the two inspectors do not qualify under the Civil Service system then the board could appoint two Democrats if it so desires.

Copies of the letter to the Liquor Board were sent to Edward J. Ryan, board president; Howard Vandegrift and Melvin Sloan, board members. Ryan and Vandegrift are Democrats and Sloan is a Republican.

Careful Use Of City Water Is Requested

Although there is no current danger of a shortage, the city's sanitary engineer yesterday urged citizens to use "common sense" in use of the water supply and take precautions against wastage.

Franklin J. Blaney urged particularly that residents "ease off" washing automobiles and watering lawns. Because of the lateness of the year, he said he saw no reason for watering lawns in any event.

Blaney emphasized that there is no cause for alarm here but he said he is urging conservation as a precautionary measure.

There is no sense in jeopardizing the supply, he said, especially since there is no way of knowing when sufficient rainfall will come.

Democrats Ask Job Status Of Inspectors

The Democratic State Central Committee for Allegany County has written to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners requesting that the status of the two board inspectors be clarified as far as the Civil Service system is concerned.

Signed by Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the committee, the letter stated: "The purpose of this inquiry is to obtain information as to whether or not the inspectors who are employed by your board, are covered by the county Civil Service law, or whether their appointments are at the pleasure of the board."

Finan said that "it would be greatly appreciated if you would favor us with an opinion from your board on this matter."

The two inspectors, both Republicans, are Angus Turnbull and Edward R. Willison.

In the event the Liquor Board members decide that the two inspectors do not qualify under the Civil Service system then the board could appoint two Democrats if it so desires.

Copies of the letter to the Liquor Board were sent to Edward J. Ryan, board president; Howard Vandegrift and Melvin Sloan, board members. Ryan and Vandegrift are Democrats and Sloan is a Republican.

Jockey Gross Hurt At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 25 (AP)—Bill Hartack, thrown from his mount in the second race, came from four places back in the stretch today to win the Atlantic City Race Course feature aboard Sea Bang.

Apprentice George Gross also was tossed in the third race and was more seriously injured.

The 22-year-old Gross, under contract to the Woodland Farm, was admitted to Atlantic City Hospital with a possible cerebral concussion. His mount, the 2-year-old filly Velvet Love, appeared to swerve into the fence shortly after the start and Gross reportedly hit the rail.

Hartack's mishap occurred at practically the same spot when Mom's Knave stumbled, tossing the meeting's leading rider to the turf. Shaken up, but with no apparent injury, he did not cancel any mounts.

Sea Bang, under 115 pounds, sped the six panels in a creditable 1.11 and returned his backers in the crowd of 10,650 an across the board payoff of $9.20, $3.80 and $3.20. Comrade paid $3.20 and $2.80. New Prince was worth $4.80 to show.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Steelers Friday announced the release of placekicker Tom Miner to make room for end Buddy Dial, recently released by the New York Giants.

Miner, a Tulsa grad who played Canadian football for several years, was the Steelers' leading scorer last season with 73 points on 31 conversions and 14 field goals.

Jockey Gross Hurt At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 25 (AP)—Bill Hartack, thrown from his mount in the second race, came from four places back in the stretch today to win the Atlantic City Race Course feature aboard Sea Bang.

Apprentice George Gross also was tossed in the third race and was more seriously injured.

The 22-year-old Gross, under contract to the Woodland Farm, was admitted to Atlantic City Hospital with a possible cerebral concussion. His mount, the 2-year-old filly Velvet Love, appeared to swerve into the fence shortly after the start and Gross reportedly hit the rail.

Hartack's mishap occurred at practically the same spot when Mom's Knave stumbled, tossing the meeting's leading rider to the turf. Shaken up, but with no apparent injury, he did not cancel any mounts.

Sea Bang, under 115 pounds, sped the six panels in a creditable 1.11 and returned his backers in the crowd of 10,650 an across the board payoff of $9.20, $3.80 and $3.20. Comrade paid $3.20 and $2.80. New Prince was worth $4.80 to show.

Lawmakers Urge Rt. 40 Improvement

Legislative Group Discusses Victims Of Bus Accident

(Special to The News)

The improvement of U.S. Route 40 from Hancock west to the Maryland line highlighted discussions last night when the Legislative Council met with some 40 or 50 Garrett countians at Point View Inn on Deep Creek Lake.

Delegate Jerome Robinson of Baltimore made the motion that the Maryland State Roads Commission be asked to explain in detail why the improvement work on the section of Route 40 hasn't been done as soon as possible.

Although the improvement work is part of the SRC 12-year-program, Delegate Robinson said it apparently will be 18 or 19 years before the work is completed.

By unanimous vote the members of the council passed a resolution that the SRC appear before it and explain why the improvement work has not been accelerated.

There were several seconds to the motion, including those by Senator Ferdinand J. Malkus of Dorchester County and Delegate Lester B. Reed of Allegany County.

Inquiry Sought

In other matters discussed, the council unanimously voted to ask the Board of Public Works to investigate the circumstances of the families of children who were hospitalized in the tragic school bus-train accident September 10 at Mountain Lake Park crossing when seven youngsters were killed.

The council wants the board to determine if the families have sufficient money to carry the financial responsibility stemming from the accident. If they haven't sufficient money, an appropriation would be requested.

Former Delegate Harry Edwards of Grantsville urged that a state park be located at Casselman River Bridge which was built in 1813.

It was pointed out the legislature passed a bill allotting $5,000 for the reconstruction of the historic bridge along the National Highway.

Delegate Perry O. Wilkinson, vice chairman of the council, suggested that the Garrett County delegation and senator work through the State Department of Forests and Parks, owners of the land.

Helmuth Heise, president of the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, spoke on the improvement of Route 40 as a means of assuring additional tourist trade in Garrett County recreational areas.

Top Recreation Resources

With the highway improvement work, he said that Western Maryland would no longer be isolated from the rest of the state, and that summer and winter recreation facilities would flourish.

Senator Malkus said he doubts if Garrett countians know of the "vast recreational potential that exists here."

Senator Bernard I. Gonder, host to the meeting, thanked the state for its $15,000 share in the Kitzmiller flood control project.

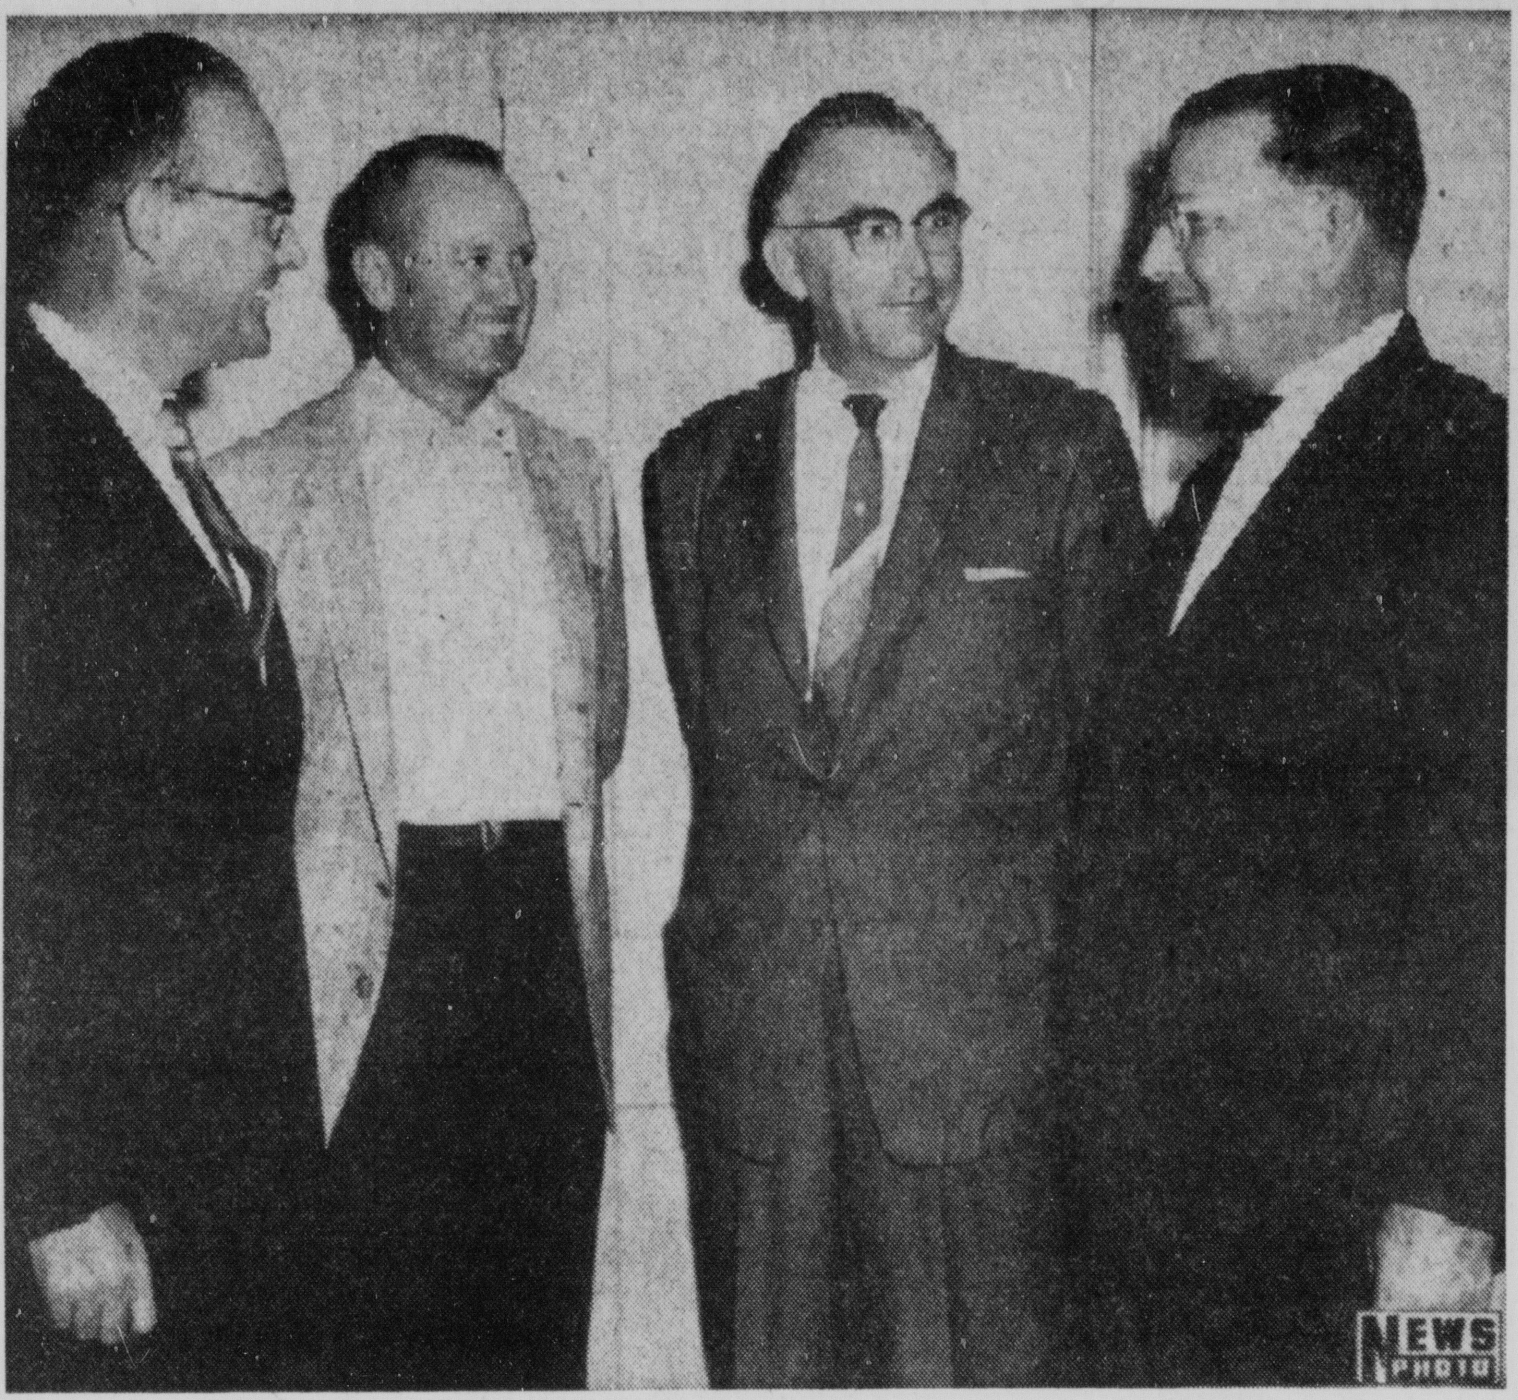
After last night's business meeting the members of the legislative council today have plans to relax and enjoy the recreation facilities of Garrett County.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester and William H. Johnson, district forester, will be in charge of a group of the legislators who hope to catch fish in Deep Creek Lake.

Cub Pack To Meet

Flintstone Cub Pack 90 will meet at Flintstone School Monday at 7:30 p. m. The program will be based on the theme of the month, "Hobbies and Pets."

Parents of all cubs are urged to attend to discuss the pack's participation in the annual Fun Night, being planned by the school's PTA.



State Roads Chairman Speaks Here

Legislative Council Sees Progress At State College

The Legislative Council of the Maryland General Assembly got a first hand progress report yesterday on Frostburg State Teachers College, which has grown by leaps and bounds since the interim body of the legislature last visited it three years ago.

Facts showing the increase in enrollment from the 585 students two years ago to the all-time record of 844 this year were presented the council at a luncheon yesterday in Lowndes Hall.

R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, informed the council of the projects needed, in the order of their priority.

Needs Are Listed

—A women's dormitory and a men's dormitory on the site of 13 houses and a filling station on Park Avenue which are being purchased for $13,000.

—Renovation of Allegany Hall, the former college laboratory school, into college classrooms. Mr. Hardesty pointed out college students are using these facilities but $35,000 in work is needed).

—Construction of a proposed Garrett Hall, a science building necessary because of the increased enrollment and the increased interest of teacher training students in sciences.

—Plans for a new library.

—Improvement of outdoor athletic facilities, which are substandard to secondary school grounds.

Teach In All Counties

Mr. Hardesty told the legislators from all parts of the state, that 1959 graduates of the college are teaching in every county in Western Maryland and two are on the Eastern Shore.

Several years ago, there were only six students enrolled from Garrett County. Today there are 55.

Washington County has increased from 15 to 62; Frederick, 12 to 35; and Prince Georges has 42 and Montgomery 33. The latter two several years ago had no students enrolled at Frostburg.

In answer to a question, Mr. Hardesty pointed out that of the 1959 graduating class of 110 seniors, all but three are teaching in Maryland.

Dormitories Crowded

Mr. Hardesty, in noting the need for dormitory space, said Frost Hall is rooming 54 students beyond the capacity, and Simpson Hall and Ogden Hall, 41 more than they were designed for.

The overall cost of the improvements listed by Mr. Hardesty would come to approximately $1,100,000 this next fiscal year, with the two dormitories accounting for $850,000 of the total.

Following a tour of the new facilities, the Legislative Council left for Garrett County.

Fire Radio Unit To Meet

The communications committee of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its annual meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock at LaVale Fire Hall.

David E. Kirk, communications coordinator between the firemen and the Civil Defense system, said the committee will elect a coordinator and a secretary-treasurer.

The committee also will award the service contract for the Allegany County fire radio network. The network, which includes Cumberland, has 36 radios and two base stations, one at Cumberland and the other at Frostburg. The present contract is held by Floyd Harper of Hap's Communication Service of Cumberland.

Cromwell Zembower, secretary-treasurer, will present annual reports at Monday night's meeting, at which Mr. Kirk will preside.

Ridgeley Dump Ordered Closed To Outsiders

Garbage Permits Will Be Needed

Ridgeley's garbage dump, located about a mile and a half from that community along West Virginia Route 28, has been closed to the general public, Mayor Charles H. Fryer announced last night.

He said that heretofore residents of the Cumberland area and nearby Mineral County were allowed to take the garbage to the dump and dispose of it.

Mayor Fryer said those taking garbage to the dump became careless and were throwing it anywhere, instead of down over the bank where it is burned.

Since it became a costly operation for Ridgeley, officials decided to do something about it. An attendant has been placed on duty at the dump, said Mayor Fryer.

Residents of Ridgeley who have paid-up garbage permits, which cost $4 for six months, can still use the dump free of charge.

They are requested to drop by the recorder's office in the city building and pick up passes to the dump.

Others who wish to use the dump will now have to pay a fee. It will be 25 cents for garbage brought in cars, 35 cents for pickup trucks and 50 cents for larger trucks.

In 'Fair' Condition

Jacob Wilson, 52, Westernport businessman, was severely burned Thursday when gasoline caught fire while he and a mechanic were trying to start a bulldozer at a strip mine operation on Piedmont Hill.

Wilson was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with first, second and third degree burns of approximately 20 per cent of his body. He was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Camporee Officials Are Named

Officials for the Boy Scout camporee which will be held by Nemacolin Trail District on October 2-4 have been announced by Walter Flythe, camping and activities chairman.

Kenneth Schneider, scoutmaster of Troop 17, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, has been camporee director, and Robert Moyer of Post 17 will be the assistant director.

Mr. Flythe said C. Raymond Sine, troop committee chairman for Troop 23, John Humbird PTA, will be in charge of the campfire program which will be held after the evening meal on Saturday, October 3.

Assisting Mr. Sine with the program will be Mr. Schneider, Mr. Moyer, Glenn Kemmet, scoutmaster of Troop 87, Northeast School PTA, and Harrison Lewis, scoutmaster of Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church.

A feature of the campfire program will be a group of Indian dancers from the Mason-Dixon Lodge of the Order of the Arrow in Hagerstown.

A Scout-O-Ree consisting of 10 events for scouts under 14 will be one of the features of the camporee. The contests in this event will be a sack race, water boiling, relay race, string burning, relay race for second class scouts, knots and log drag, bandage, relay race for tenderfoots, three-legged race and an egg tossing contest.

A hole-in-one contest also will be conducted for explorer and senior scouts.

Scout units are advised to bring adequate first aid supplies to take care of emergencies. A central first aid service will be set up at the camp site which is located seven miles east of Flintstone near the eastern slope of Polish Mountain.

SRC Director Outlines Md. Road System

Funk Addresses Engineers Group At Banquet Here

A small "old-time lantern show" illustrating the functions of the reorganized Maryland State Roads Commission was presented last night by SRC Chairman-Director John B. Funk, who was guest speaker at the fall meeting banquet of the County Engineers Association of Maryland at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

In his talk to about 100 guests, Mr. Funk pointed out that with the SRC reorganization by the Maryland Legislature last winter, the lawmakers foresaw that the counties of Maryland "are faced with snowballing situations of increasing population, industrial expansion."

This means intensive planning for land use on the county level providing residential sectors in which their new residents will live, providing industrial zones for new businesses and plants, and providing schools.

Mr. Funk said the highway fits into this picture, "modern, safe highways that serve the needs of all the people of our state, highways that will move ever increasing traffic volumes efficiently and safely while meshing in with the long-range planning of the state, the counties, and the municipalities."

"Big-Caliber Thinking"

In that manner, he said, the highway, intelligently planned through "big-caliber thinking" on the part of the SRC, the planning agencies, the counties and the cities and towns, will fulfill its part "in making Maryland a progressive, safe happy place to live."

Mr. Funk gave his listeners a few facts and figures. He said the SRC is charged with the responsibility of caring for 4,706 miles of highway in the state.

"You—the county engineers—have more than three times that much to worry about — 13,596 miles."

That is enough paving to provide four highways between Baltimore and San Francisco, enough—if it were stretched out in a single band — to go halfway around the earth at the equator, he said.

"You are in charge of the grass roots roads of our state, the pieces of highway that are as important to our citizens as the big super expressways we are building under the interstate system," said Mr. Funk.

He added "Maryland's county roads must be kept in good condition, must be constantly improved so that they can fulfill the vital function they are intended to serve in our state's highway system."

Explains Operation

In his lantern talk, Mr. Funk introduced the banquet guests to top officials of the SRC and their duties and also gave them an idea of the operation of the organization.

Illustrated was one of the new divisions of the commission—the division of planning and programming. The chief duties of this section center around fitting all the road building projects into the scope of the money available. Robert Hajzyk heads the division.

The engineering division oversees the construction and maintenance of the highways through the seven district engineers located throughout the state.

Another slide on the right of way department illustrated the section which has charge of the acquisition of property for highway use. It keeps the big plats and mosaics needed when the SRC starts to buy land for the construction of roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hewitt, 157 Bedford Street, were injured yesterday when their car crashed into a house at Takoma Park.

Police said Mrs. Hewitt, 59, was learning to drive and stepped on the wrong pedal. As a result, the car crashed into the living room of the home of Rollen B. Kadisch, scattering bricks over the furniture and floor.

The Hewitts were admitted to the Washington Sanitarium. Attaches said Mrs. Hewitt appeared to be but slightly injured.

Her husband's condition was described as "fair." They had been visiting a daughter, Mrs. Eulalia H. Conrad, of Takoma Park.

The only occupants of the Kadisch home at the time were a 14-year-old daughter, Marsha, who was in an upstairs bedroom, and a dog, Jeannie, in the living room. Neither was hurt.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage to the house or car.

Beryl Driver Hospitalized After Crash

C. A. Whisner, 29, Seriously Hurt

A 29-year-old motorist from Beryl, W. Va., was seriously injured yesterday in a headon collision on U.S. Route 50 near Burlington, W. Va.

Charles Allen Whisner was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser with a possible fractured vertebra and a concussion. He was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Cpl. Evan Moody of the State Police at Keyser said the accident occurred about noon yesterday one mile east of Burlington.

The trooper said Mr. Whisner was operating a small pickup truck when it was struck headon by an automobile operated by Paul R. Hartman, 29, of RFD 1, Burlington.

The crash occurred, Cpl. Moody said, when Hartman pulled out of the line of traffic to pass another car. As Hartman was attempting to pass the other vehicle he collided headon with the Whisner truck.

Cpl. Moody said the small truck rolled over on the highway and then struck a tree. The truck was a total loss, the trooper said. Both men were alone at the time of the crash.

Hartman has been charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway and will be given a hearing this morning in Keyser before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle.

Ike May Ask Khrushchev About Bishop

Senator Beall Suggested Talks With Premier

President Eisenhower has promised he will ask Russian Premier Khrushchev about the release of Bishop James E. Walsh from Red China if the opportunity arises during their talks at Camp David.

Senator J. Glenn Beall asked the President this week to raise the question of detention of five Americans, including Bishop Walsh, when he talks to Mr. Khrushchev.

Yesterday, Senator Beall made public a letter from the President, dated Thursday, which read:

"Dear Glenn:

"I appreciate your September 23 letter concerning the five Americans being held prisoner in China. With all other Americans, I am acutely aware of the plight of these and others of our citizens being involuntarily detained abroad, and through the proper governmental processes am exerting continuing efforts in their behalf.

"Should there be an appropriate opportunity during my discussions with Mr. Khrushchev, I shall most certainly talk to him about the matter."

On Wednesday, Senator Beall sent the President a letter suggesting that, during the Camp David talks, Mr. Eisenhower ask the Russian Premier to use his influence with China to get the prisoners released.

On the same day, former Judge William C. Walsh of Cumberland and relatives of the four other prisoners talked with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in Washington about U.S. efforts to get the prisoners released.

Bishop Walsh, brother of former Judge Walsh, has been detained in China since last October.

Lawmakers Urge Rt. 40 Improvement

Legislative Group Discusses Victims Of Bus Accident

(Special to The News)

The improvement of U.S. Route 40 from Hancock west to the Maryland line highlighted discussions last night when the Legislative Council met with some 40 or 50 Garrett countians at Point View Inn on Deep Creek Lake.

Delegate Jerome Robinson of Baltimore made the motion that the Maryland State Roads Commission be asked to explain in detail why the improvement work on the section of Route 40 hasn't been done as soon as possible.

Although the improvement work is part of the SRC 12-year-program, Delegate Robinson said it apparently will be 18 or 19 years before the work is completed.

By unanimous vote the members of the council passed a resolution that the SRC appear before it and explain why the improvement work has not been accelerated.

There were several seconds to the motion, including those by Senator Ferdinand J. Malkus of Dorchester County and Delegate Lester B. Reed of Allegany County.

Inquiry Sought

In other matters discussed, the council unanimously voted to ask the Board of Public Works to investigate the circumstances of the families of children who were hospitalized in the tragic school bus-train accident September 10 at Mountain Lake Park crossing when seven youngsters were killed.

The council wants the board to determine if the families have sufficient money to carry the financial responsibility stemming from the accident. If they haven't sufficient money, an appropriation would be requested.

Former Delegate Harry Edwards of Grantsville urged that a state park be located at Casselman River Bridge which was built in 1813.

It was pointed out the legislature passed a bill allotting $5,000 for the reconstruction of the historic bridge along the National Highway.

Delegate Perry O. Wilkinson, vice chairman of the council, suggested that the Garrett County delegation and senator work through the State Department of Forests and Parks, owners of the land.

Helmuth Heise, president of the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, spoke on the improvement of Route 40 as a means of assuring additional tourist trade in Garrett County recreational areas.

Top Recreation Resources

With the highway improvement work, he said that Western Maryland would no longer be isolated from the rest of the state, and that summer and winter recreation facilities would flourish.

Senator Malkus said he doubts if Garrett countians know of the "vast recreational potential that exists here."

Senator Bernard I. Gonder, host to the meeting, thanked the state for its $15,000 share in the Kitzmiller flood control project.

After last night's business meeting the members of the legislative council today have plans to relax and enjoy the recreation facilities of Garrett County.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester and William H. Johnson, district forester, will be in charge of a group of the legislators who hope to catch fish in Deep Creek Lake.

Cub Pack To Meet

Flintstone Cub Pack 90 will meet at Flintstone School Monday at 7:30 p. m. The program will be based on the theme of the month, "Hobbies and Pets."

Parents of all cubs are urged to attend to discuss the pack's participation in the annual Fun Night, being planned by the school's PTA.

The Legislative Council of the Maryland General Assembly got a first hand progress report yesterday on Frostburg State Teachers College, which has grown by leaps and bounds since the interim body of the legislature last visited it three years ago.

Facts showing the increase in enrollment from the 585 students two years ago to the all-time record of 844 this year were presented the council at a luncheon yesterday in Lowndes Hall.

R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, informed the council of the projects needed, in the order of their priority.

Needs Are Listed

They are as follows:

—Additional land to meet the increased demand for space and facilities.

—A women's dormitory and a men's dormitory on the site of 13 houses and a filling station on Park Avenue which are being purchased for $13,000.

—Renovation of Allegany Hall, the former college laboratory school, into college classrooms. Mr. Hardesty pointed out college students are using these facilities but $35,000 in work is needed).

—Construction of a proposed Garrett Hall, a science building necessary because of the increased enrollment and the increased interest of teacher training students in sciences.

—Plans for a new library.

Teach In All Counties

Mr. Hardesty told the legislators from all parts of the state, that 1959 graduates of the college are teaching in every county in Western Maryland and two are on the Eastern Shore.

Several years ago, there were only six students enrolled from Garrett County. Today there are 55.

Washington County has increased from 15 to 62; Frederick, 12 to 35; and Prince Georges has 42 and Montgomery 33. The latter two several years ago had no students enrolled at Frostburg.

In answer to a question, Mr. Hardesty pointed out that of the 1959 graduating class of 110 seniors, all but three are teaching in Maryland.

Dormitories Crowded

Mr. Hardesty, in noting the need for dormitory space, said Frost Hall is rooming 54 students beyond the capacity, and Simpson Hall and Ogden Hall, 41 more than they were designed for.

The overall cost of the improvements listed by Mr. Hardesty would come to approximately $1,100,000 this next fiscal year, with the two dormitories accounting for $850,000 of the total.

Following a tour of the new facilities, the Legislative Council left for Garrett County.

Fire Radio Unit To Meet

The communications committee of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its annual meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock at LaVale Fire Hall.

David E. Kirk, communications coordinator between the firemen and the Civil Defense system, said the committee will elect a coordinator and a secretary-treasurer.

The committee also will award the service contract for the Allegany County fire radio network. The network, which includes Cumberland, has 36 radios and two base stations, one at Cumberland and the other at Frostburg. The present contract is held by Floyd Harper of Hap's Communication Service of Cumberland.

Cromwell Zembower, secretary-treasurer, will present annual reports at Monday night's meeting, at which Mr. Kirk will preside.

Ridgeley Dump Ordered Closed To Outsiders

Garbage Permits Will Be Needed

Ridgeley's garbage dump, located about a mile and a half from that community along West Virginia Route 28, has been closed to the general public, Mayor Charles H. Fryer announced last night.

He said that heretofore residents of the Cumberland area and nearby Mineral County were allowed to take the garbage to the dump and dispose of it.

Mayor Fryer said those taking garbage to the dump became careless and were throwing it anywhere, instead of down over the bank where it is burned.

Since it became a costly operation for Ridgeley, officials decided to do something about it. An attendant has been placed on duty at the dump, said Mayor Fryer.

Residents of Ridgeley who have paid-up garbage permits, which cost $4 for six months, can still use the dump free of charge.

They are requested to drop by the recorder's office in the city building and pick up passes to the dump.

Others who wish to use the dump will now have to pay a fee. It will be 25 cents for garbage brought in cars, 35 cents for pickup trucks and 50 cents for larger trucks.

In 'Fair' Condition

Jacob Wilson, 52, Westernport businessman, was severely burned Thursday when gasoline caught fire while he and a mechanic were trying to start a bulldozer at a strip mine operation on Piedmont Hill.

Wilson was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with first, second and third degree burns of approximately 20 per cent of his body. He was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Mr. Flythe said C. Raymond Sine, troop committee chairman for Troop 23, John Humbird PTA, will be in charge of the campfire program which will be held after the evening meal on Saturday, October 3.

Assisting Mr. Sine with the program will be Mr. Schneider, Mr. Moyer, Glenn Kemmet, scoutmaster of Troop 87, Northeast School PTA, and Harrison Lewis, scoutmaster of Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church.

A feature of the campfire program will be a group of Indian dancers from the Mason-Dixon Lodge of the Order of the Arrow in Hagerstown.

Funk Addresses Engineers Group At Banquet Here

A small "old-time lantern show" illustrating the functions of the reorganized Maryland State Roads Commission was presented last night by SRC Chairman-Director John B. Funk, who was guest speaker at the fall meeting banquet of the County Engineers Association of Maryland at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

In his talk to about 100 guests, Mr. Funk pointed out that with the SRC reorganization by the Maryland Legislature last winter, the lawmakers foresaw that the counties of Maryland "are faced with snowballing situations of increasing population, industrial expansion."

This means intensive planning for land use on the county level providing residential sectors in which their new residents will live, providing industrial zones for new businesses and plants, and providing schools.

Mr. Funk said the highway fits into this picture, "modern, safe highways that serve the needs of all the people of our state, highways that will move ever increasing traffic volumes efficiently and safely while meshing in with the long-range planning of the state, the counties, and the municipalities."

"Big-Caliber Thinking"

In that manner, he said, the highway, intelligently planned through "big-caliber thinking" on the part of the SRC, the planning agencies, the counties and the cities and towns, will fulfill its part "in making Maryland a progressive, safe happy place to live."

Mr. Funk gave his listeners a few facts and figures. He said the SRC is charged with the responsibility of caring for 4,706 miles of highway in the state.

"You—the county engineers—have more than three times that much to worry about — 13,596 miles."

That is enough paving to provide four highways between Baltimore and San Francisco, enough—if it were stretched out in a single band — to go halfway around the earth at the equator, he said.

"You are in charge of the grass roots roads of our state, the pieces of highway that are as important to our citizens as the big super expressways we are building under the interstate system," said Mr. Funk.

He added "Maryland's county roads must be kept in good condition, must be constantly improved so that they can fulfill the vital function they are intended to serve in our state's highway system."

Explains Operation

In his lantern talk, Mr. Funk introduced the banquet guests to top officials of the SRC and their duties and also gave them an idea of the operation of the organization.

Illustrated was one of the new divisions of the commission—the division of planning and programming. The chief duties of this section center around fitting all the road building projects into the scope of the money available. Robert Hajzyk heads the division.

The engineering division oversees the construction and maintenance of the highways through the seven district engineers located throughout the state.

Another slide on the right of way department illustrated the section which has charge of the acquisition of property for highway use. It keeps the big plats and mosaics needed when the SRC starts to buy land for the construction of roads.
